Why does it bother you, after all, you outed your wife's perverted sex proclivities as well as your own for having sex with underaged boys. I notice you didn't deny using k4yz's call as if it was your own.

The fact that I have heard VE7KFM from the west coast of Canada (according to him) carrying on conversations at midnight and later on 20M with W8 stations is meaningless to Roger, who has gotten himself in too deep to admit he was wrong.
In fact I have worked a station in Hawaii on 14.244 at three a.m. and a station in Sofia, Bulgaria at 11 p.m. and dozens of late night foreign stations on 17M.
But of course if Roger can't hear it, it doesn't exist. That is his story, and he's sticking to it.

Sure , liar, sure, that why you use k4yz.org in your sockpuppet using Hughes.net?
Your sanity which is on shaky ground to begin with is slipping away, otherwise you wouldn't have made up that bullshit story about fighting 4 guys. The only way you ever ruptured another guy's balls is by your vacuum cleaner like sucking on them.

You don't deal, Marqueer, you whine , backpedal and lie and hope

No, Roger's antennas are quite visible. You just have your head up your ass too far to realize they can be seen in the picture. And you have posted that Roger has no antennas, liar.

Just because you want to have sex with Lloydie, Marqueer, doesn't mean you have to agree with his know nothingness. He can't even get on HF, even after the FCC lowered the standards by eliminating cw.
He knows nothing about propagation and being at the bottom of the solar cycle, 20 meters is not open at night, it would be at the top of the cycle.

ARRL Operating Manual, Ch. 3, "Picking a Band"
"While many hams think 20 meters is the workhorse band, it always isn't reliable. At the bottom of the sunspot (solar) cycle, 20 meters may be usable for only a few hours a day. During years of higher solar activity though, 20 meters may be open all night."

Since we are currently in the bottom end of the solar cyle, Marqueer and others' claims of 20 meters being open all night is just unsubstantiated bullshit.

Sure you did, like the time you said you made EME contacts then got caught in a lie when you said you made it all up.

His logbook indicates otherwise, shit for brains.

> station peraps that is the problem the voices in his drown out the DX

Amazing with the voices YOU hear in your empty head Marqueer, you feel you actually have friends.
The reality is quite different.

And he's an Extra?
The ARRL quote he gave, " 20 meters may be usable for only a few hours a day". Apparently Un-Wiseman missed the "may" part.
Psssstt! Woger. The ARRL says 20M "may" be usable for only a few hours a day. Darned if I can find any information source (other than your misinformation) that says 20M IS usable for only a few hours a day.
I expect you to now apologize to us, be a man and admit your gaffe.

You should also apologize to Mark for berating his alleged inability to comprehend simple English, since you quite obviously suffer from the very malady of which you have accused him.

Oh, that's ther pot calling the kettle black, Assheil.

You were the one going to illegally put copies of internet posts on telephone poles, you drove by Roger's house to post pictures of it when Roger's house wasn't even on the internet unlike yours at your website, and let's not forget your stalking of Roger remember?. Oh, and the fact you worked out of banders and pretend to be such an a-1 operator to the ham community.

Maniac

(Michael Sembello/??)

Just a small town ham on a Thursday night
Lookin' for the fight of his life
In the real-time world no one believes him at all
They all say Dave's crazy

Posting insults in a beat of his heart
Changing cyberspace into life
He has danced in rec.radio.amateur.policy
Then a dancer becomes the netcop of the "velley"

Posts can cut Dave like a knife
If they're about his Finnish ex-whore wife
On a wire between will and what will be

He's a maniac, maniac at your door
And he's whining like he's never whined before
He's a maniac, maniac at your door
At the behest of his Finnish ex-whore

On the internet sanity is a place Dave never sees
It's a hard cold place of mystery
He can read it, but he can't control it

You work all your life for that moment in time
It could come or pass you by It's out of band, but there's always a chance
If Dave's delusions stays the night

There's a cold connective heat, Struggling, stretching for defeat
Never stopping with his head up his fat ass

He's a maniac, maniac, I sure know
And he's whining when you don't answer the door
He's a maniac, maniac, I sure know
And he's whining on the newsgroups like never before

(Solo)

Posts can cut you like a knife
Especially ones about your Finnish ex-whore wife
On a wire between will and what will be

He's a maniac, maniac, I sure know
And he's whining like he's never whined before
He's a maniac, maniac at your door
Hiding behind his Finnish ex-whore....
(repeats out)

Actually, Woger, it is not at all unusual for ANY HF band to be open at odd hours, ARRL publications and your uneducated "expertise" notwithstanding. While these odd openings are certainly not the rule, but the exception, they happen nonetheless. If you had any knowledge at all of the HF spectrum you would know that.
Obviously it is YOU who has not a clue about that which you "yammer". Perhaps you should upgrade your antennas.

I'm sure you, of all people, know well what "nighttime at high noon" looks like, since you hide in a darkend house all day.

Roger is fully cognizant of the fact that he made statements that are in error regarding 20M propagation. The problem with Roger is that since he has now placed his feet firmly in his mouth, he cannot retract his claims and do so gracefully. He thus finds it necessary to maintain that WE are in error regarding the occasional openings on late-night 20 meters and that WE are the ones making inaccurate statements.
So, in response, Roger will continue to issue tawdry, filth-laden responses when he could instead bolster his standing in these Groups by simply admitting that he was partially in error.
But of course doing such is well beyond the scope of the Roger Wiseman mentality.

I guess this means that any forthcoming apologies from Roger are but wishful thinking on my part.

I should also go on record by informing Roger that I am not Lloyd. My Amateur license allows me full use of ALL of the Amateur HF spectrum and, unlike Roger, I've yet to be sent even a single letter from Riley Hollingsworth.

Roger should try 14.322 usb. There is a station from Puerto Rico (KP4ZQ) calling CQ at 0437 Zulu. This is 12:37 a.m. local time and I hear a station from Oklahoma City trying to QSO. His name is Ramone.
Ramone is also talking to a station in North Carolina and many others who are trying to contact him. He is likewise making contacts with stations in Michigan.

Maybe Roger should inform Ramone that he cannot make DX contacts on 20M late at night since the band, according to Woger, is not open. That would be news to Ramone who is, as I type, talking to a station in Las Vegas.

You should look up Ramone's email address Roger and tell him that, according to you and the ARRL, he cannot possibly be talking to all of these responding stations from the United States. Maybe the K9RJ station he just reported as being 5/9 is only an imaginary contact.

But wait. There's more. Ramone is now talking to station KI4MBU. How can this be????

After all, Roger says that this is an impossibility on 20M.

Care to rethink your stance, Roger?

No need to apologize, Roger. Most of us already know that you are sorry.

Let me remind you again, Woger. I am NOT Dave Heil. Nor am I Lloyd.
What part of this do you fail to comprehend?
Apparently those little demons you hear are telling you otherwise. It may behoove you to lay off those doctor prescribed psychotropic drugs for a week or two.

> He claims to know things, 20 meter propagation, Glen Dale "lockups"

There is no "He". There is, however, ME. I claim to know whereof I speak concerning 20M propagation because, unlike you, I have been there and done that. Obviously you have not.
The fact that you are an Extra means only that you were able to answer a few questions and halfway understand Morse Code. Obviously that is all you did, for you have shown that you have no grasp of how the HF bands work...aside from malicious interference, that is. After all, it was you and Tunder who turned a portion of the 20M band into a CB-like debacle. Fortunately for the rest of us, Riley brought your idiocy to a screeching halt.
By the way, Rog. What was the cost of the embarassment you brought upon yourself?

Still using the third person, Roger? I understand your denial. It is what you do best.
Heck, if I were you I'd be ashamed and would hide behind a third person entity, too.

The 2006 DXCC Yearbook is now at the printer and it is expected to 'hit the streets' in mid to late-July. While this is a little later than usual it is still within the DXCC timeframe for this publication.
In order to receive the free publication you must:
* Be current on the DXCC Honor Roll during the 2006 calendar year, or,

* Have made at least one submission to DXCC during the calendar year period of January 1 through December 31, 2006.

http://www.dxciting.com/index.htm
They have also added to their Web page a survey to determine what bands and modes are needed the most for each entity. During their operation, visit the DXFUN Web page for updates, photos and logs. Their survey is also available on this Web page too.

HAMIGG (Ham Social Forum). Christian, DL6KAC, informs OPDX about a new project he has started last week called HAMigg (http://hamigg.de). It is a social bookmarking platform similar to digg.com (therefore HAMigg = Ham Radio + Digg). Christian states, "The big difference is HAMigg is limited to ham radio and technical topics only. In my opinion, Digg.com and all other platforms are heavily congested and it is really difficult to find the 'good stuff'. HAMigg is an effort to change this a bit. The idea is the following: Users can submit interesting stories or articles which they have found on the internet (DX news, websites, ham software [freeware], ham radio news in general etc.). Other users can vote on these stories via an interactive voting system. Submissions or articles which receive a lot of positive votes will rank high, others will rank lower, helping to sort the submitted articles. RSS feeds are available so that users can easily subscribe and stay updated once new submissions are online. In a nutshell it's all about content for hams by hams." Christian has compiled a more detailed write-up about the new project at:
http://ham-blog.de/radio-blog/2007/ham-radio-goes-diggcom-hamigg/

HB0, LIECHTENSTEIN. Pierre, HB9QQ, will be active as HB0/HB9QQ between June 29th and July 2nd and again between July 6-9th. Activity will be on the HF bands, 6 and 2 meters. QSL via his home callsign.

IOTA NEWS.....
AF-019. Giuseppe "Joe", I2AZ, is now active as IG9/I2AZ from Lampedusa Island (IIA AG-001). The length of his stay is unknown. I2AZ is only active on CW. QSL via the Bureau.

Packet distribution of GB2RS news to end

The Radio Society of Great Britain has announced that GB2RS News will no longer be distributed via Packet. This week's bulletin will be the last.

Amateur Packet Radio has been in decline for the past decade. The loss of the GB2RS news is a further indication that traditional Packet Radio, developed in the 1980s, is increasingly irrelevant in today's world.

Hi,
I'm fairly new to the HF thing. I currently have a dipole antenna which is hung up in a low tree :-{ Needless to say it's too low (~8-10') off the ground and I'm contemplated getting a vertical. I also seem to be having ground problems...my rig is fairly far from any outdoor "earth" ground material. So I'm trying to resolve these problems and try my hand at DX. Does anyone have any advice? Am I likely to have better results with a free-standing vertical? Also, what is a good grounding option for a fairly remote indoor location? Thanks.

1551. Motorola Talkabout "QT Noise Filter"

I have a pair of Motorola Talkabout T7400 FRS/GMRS transceivers with "QT Noise Filter", also called "Quiet Talk Noise Filter". The User's Guide only has this to say about it: "QT Noise Filter filters out unwanted transmissions in heavy radio traffic areas." That's it. No usage instructions or technical details. In the menu choices, it can be turned on or off.

By experimenting with the radios and an HP 8920A RF Test Set, I found out what this feature is and how to use it. These radios, upon pushing the "call" key (the key with a music note on it), transmit a 55 Hz tone with 500 Hz deviation for 500 ms, followed by whatever "Interference Eliminator Code" is set: 0 = no sub-audible tone; 1-38 = standard 67.0 to 250.3 Hz sub-audible tones; 39-99 = Digital Coded Squelch (DCS) 23-bit patterns. When the receiver radio has QT Noise Filter turned on, it requires the 500 ms of 55 Hz to de-squelch, in addition to its configured Interference Eliminator Code. Also, once de-squelched in this way, the receiver will de-squelch for signals that do not have the 55 Hz tone, until 30 seconds of non-use have passed.

There are new Kenwood radios in the pipeline. The TM-V71 is already released, the TM-D710 will be soon with us. New HF radios are also on the new product list, as is a replacement for the TH-D7 handy 2m/70cms TRX. All the new radios have to be RoHS compliant initially for Europe, but eventually World-wide sales. So all the new ones are made to be compliant, this has meant some delay in new radios. They have quite a small development team for Amateur Radio. Kenwood US have issued a statement about their Amateur Radio products, as rumours of a pull out from this sector have been around. Basically they are committed to continue in this sector.

I was told since this radio doesn't have a makers tag on it, its a kit Neutrodyne radio from the 20-1930's (5) 201 tubes. They are in good shape not broken. The cabinet can use some refinish work. The radio is about 2.5 ft long. SORRY I have no pictures of the radio.

This radio is not restored in any way. It can be left as is OR restored.

I am open to trade for a HF radio.

Jeff,
Try this antenna
http://www.bloomington.in.us/~wh2t/Super%20Loop%20Antenna.htm

Many Vertical antennas require a RF ground system (usually many radials) to obtain efficient radiation.
The old joke is "Verticals work equally poor in all directions".

A single ground rod or group of them bonded together , is seldom as effective as a collection of random-length radial wires. Generally a large number of shorter radials offers a better ground system than a few longer ones . The power company ground can be tied in , and if a metal fence skirts the property it can also be tied in as a part of the ground system .

If you want an easy to make vertical see

Pretty ingenious stuff.

I've had some problems with tone squelch flasing in high traffic areas as well. I've cured it for the moment by just using DCS. Apparently it isnt as easy to false.

Top Ten Signs You Picked HughesNet as an ISP

10. Their company logo: Two tin cans on a piece string.

9. You check out their address, and it's a flop house in downtown Germantown, MD.

8. Their chief technical officer lives in a tar paper shanty at the Germantown dump.

7. Their proud boast: "We've been on the Internet since it was CB radio."

6. Their promo materials use the words "satellite" and "broadband" in the same sentence

5. You order a dish installation, email, and 1 GB of server space for your personal Web site, and the voice on the other end of the phone asks "Would you like crazy bread with that?"

4. "As seen in Better Business Bureau special reports."

3. "Access speeds up to 9,600 bps in most areas."

2. They hawk domain names on eBay.

1. Their CEO thinks that "binary" is a sexual orientation.

ADDRESS CHANGE FOR HS0ZCW. Charles, K4VUD/HS0ZCW, reports, "My dream of having a simple Thailand address, Box 1, etc, was dashed by extensive postal mail theft by the Nakhon Chaisi government postal workers. They first stole the "green stamps" from the incoming QSL card envelopes, and after my first complaint, began stealing the whole envelope and all contents and destroying everything. This began about June 5, 2007. Thus I have a new QSLing address: Charles Harpole, 86/1 Moo 4, Tambon Bankok, Amper Meung, Samut Sakhon 74000, THAILAND. This is good for HS0ZCW, 9N7UD, A52UD, VU4AN/VU3CHE, and K4VUD, AC4TT, and the old call of KG4FPK. I have changed QRZ.com. Please pass the message that mail sent to me to arrive about June 5 and after will not be delivered. I filed a complaint with the Nakhon Chaisi government Police. This situation is not likely to change, however, there are also stories of stolen mail sent to Buddhist temples as donations.... how low can u go? By the way it is said to be against Thai law for non-approved Thai citizens to have foreign currency. Oh, well..... 73 Charles Harpole"

QSL OJ0VR via OH1VR. QSL OJ0/OH3RM via OH3RM. Operators Seppo/OH1VR and Markus/OH3RM will be active from Market Reef until July 3rd.

NEW QSL MANAGER. Mohammad, V8MQM, can now be QSLed via his new QSL Manager, Joe, W3HNK.

QSLS VIA LOTW: (NONE REPORTED THIS WEEK!)

QSLS RECEIVE VIA MAIL: 1B1AB, 3V8SF, 5H3EE, DN1MDG, EX2M, IA6IYP, IO8IAA, IU2ANT, J68WI, LZ04ANT, LZ07IPY, N8S, TI8II, TK5MH, UN3M, VP8KF, VP8LP, VU7LD, XF2K, XF3PAS and YT6A

SX5, DODECANESE (Special Event). A group of Rhodian Radio Amateurs will activate the special callsign SX5RHO between now and July 7th. Activity is to celebrate "2007 Island Games" on the Island of Rhodes (see the Web site - http://www.rhodes2007.info). Rhodes Island (EU-001) is very proud to host the "2007 Island Games", which will have the largest participation of island countries and athletes in the history of the institution. Activity of the special callsign will take place daily on all bands (HF160-10m, 6m, 2m) and on all modes (SSB, CW, RTTY, PSK31, possibly some SSTV and JT65). Anyone who contacts SX5RHO does not need to send them a QSL card. All contacts will be automatically confirmed via the bureau, and after the end of operations the logs will be uploaded into the LoTW.

UA4WHX IS NOW QRT FROM AFRICA. World traveller and DXpeditioner Vladimir Bykov, UA4WHX, has ended his African activities. An E-mail that Vlad sent to OPDX states the following (edited): "Hello everyone! You must have been wondering if it is true. And the answer is - it is. It is all history now. For now - no more being on the air from Africa (or P5 -which I never did). We leave almost 310,000 QSOs behind, 21 DXCC entities, almost 26 months of life, two radios gone and one finger missing. But we do have lots of people happy - that is what matters. Below I will list some of the instructions how I see QSLing done best: 1. I accept bureau via Russia Cental Club. I will also accept bureau shipment sent directly from societies or organizations to my P.O. Box 2040, Izhevsk, 426000, Russia (that may be a better idea). To keep track and make certain nothing is missing when a big batch is on the way, advise me, we will track and make sure it has been received.

2. I do recommend sending requests with a SASE directly rather than going via the bureau. We arrange cards by senders, and all cards are answered by senders as well, direct/bureau put together. If there is enough postage the bureau will join the direct requests. The address to be used is: Vladimir M. Bykov. P.O. Box 2040, Izhevsk, 426000, Russia. No cards to be sent to AC4LN address.

3. I do insist we use IRCs and not send cash in envelopes, no matter what amount. Not that my post office is not safe, but we must be conscious to limit temptation. Use common sense when sending IRCs, as per how many. Do not ask me - my answer will always be - at least one, as I can technically send 7 pieces of QSLs with one IRC.

4. For Clubs or more serious individuals, I can accept money electronically, provided you feel you can let me charge your Visa or Master Card. Any amount is fine. I will keep records of the transaction together with your QSL requests. The transaction is 100% secure and will be done electronically through Svezhy Veter Travel Agency.

5. Those who have made multiple QSOs, they can send QSOs listed on a piece of paper with at least one card attached to be personal.

6. All QSOs are on paper and not computer files.

7. I will have a few people to help me with the QSLing. Anyone is welcome to join the QSL team provided he/she is ready to do it from Izhevsk. I will let everyone know when the first cards are out.

73, See you in person or on the air,
Vladimir M. Bykov, UA4WHX etc."

ADDED NOTE: Vlad was active under the following callsigns if you want to look back in logs to see if you worked him: 3DA0VB, 4K0VB, 4L0B, 5H3VMB, 5H3VMB/3 (AF-075), 5H3VMB/5 (AF-074), 5R8VB, 5X1VB, 5Z4/UA4WHX, 5Z4/UA4WHX/P (AF-067), 5Z4BU, 7P8VB, 7Q7VB, 9J2VB, 9U0VB, 9X0VB, A25VB, C91VB, C91VB/4 (AF-103), C91VB/6 (AF-088), D20VB, D60VB, J20VB, OD5/UA4WHX, ST2KSS, ST2VB, V51VV, V51VV/P (AF-070) and Z2/UA4WHX.

UA9, ASIATIC RUSSIA. Operator Gerhard, DL6XK, will be active using the special station UE9CXK from Sverdlovsk, until July 15th. QSL via DL6XK, by the bureau.

V3, BELIZE. Dennis, K7BV, will operate from Caye Caulker off the Belize coast between July 7-17th. The focus of the trip is 6 meters, but there will be plenty of HF activity when 6 meters is not open. A full-time 6 meter station with power and a 7 element beam will CQ in breakable beacon mode 24/7 on 50.106 MHz. A second rig will be used on HF for 6 meter opening coordination and HF pileup fun. His callsign is not yet assigned. QSL via W1JJ. For more details, please visit the Web page at: http://www.qth.com/k7bv/v3

VP6/D, DUCIE ISLAND (Update). Carsten, DL6LAU, Teamleader, reports that the team has been very busy "behind the scene" for the last weeks and some things have changed or happened. To summarize, the team has agreed to extend the duration of the DXpedition (making them grab even deeper into their pockets). The team will depart from Gambier Island onboard Braveheart on Tuesday, February 5th, 2008, around 1500 local time. If there are normal weather conditions, the voyage to Pitcairn will take about 36 hours. They'll spend some hours on Pitcairn before they make another 36 hours trip to Ducie. They hope to arrive at Ducie at dawn on the 9th of February. If the weather is good, they hope to have all the equipment up and running in 24 hours. The plan is to be on the air for 19 days (until February 28th). Operators Pertti/OH2PM and Krassy/K1LZ can not make it this trip, but they have added some more operators since the announcement in Dayton. Operators as of today includes: DJ8NK, DL3DXX, DL6LAU, DL8LAS, K3NA, OH2BH, SP3DOI, SP5XVY, UA3AB and WA6CDR. Three more operators will be announced very soon. Carsten states, "But the operating team can only be as good as the guys doing a lot of things behind the scenes at home and we are very thankful to have JA1BK as our advisor in the team thank you so much Kan! DF6QV, DJ2YA and OH1JT form our Antenna Engineering Team, DL1MGB is our webmaster, GU4YOX is the Electrical Team Manager and VP6MW is the liaison on Pitcairn more to be announced very soon too." The team has decided to have seven stations up and running (all Elecraft K3 transceivers with ACOM amps). For 160m, they will have two phased verticals pointing towards Europe (and the U.S.), they will use one vertical for the other areas. On 80m, they will have two 4-Squares antennas. On 40/30m, they will also have 4-Squares, while 20-10m will have phased vertical dipoles. The team is still in need for donations since the budget for this operation is well over 200,000 USDs. For more details on how to donate and an unedited report by Carsten, please visit the VP6DX Web page at: http://www.vp6dx.com

VP9, BERMUDA (NA-005). Seppo, OH1VR, will be active as VP9/OH1VR from August 19-21st. Activity will be mainly on CW (no bands of activity were provided). QSL via OH1VR, by his CBA.

YA, AFGHANISTAN. Dejan, 9A4ZD, has been active as YA/9A4ZD over the past weekend on 20 meters SSB. Watch around 14300 kHz (+/- 10 kHz) at various times. He was also spotted on 18130 kHz after 1130z. QSL via his home callsign.

ZA/Z35M QRT. Vlado, ZA/Z35M, informs OPDX: "After 5 years of activity from Albania as ZA/Z35M today (27th June 2007) I finished my operation with exactly 113,000 QSOs made. My 1st QSO was on 3rd June 2002 with SK0TM on 14 MHz CW, and the last QSO was on 27th June 2007 with F2FP on 14 MHz CW. My station was in the apartment in the center of Tirana, using 100w and only one antenna: G5RV 30 above the ground. All contacts are on HF, CW and SSB (exept 300 QSOs on 6M).
During the period of 16-20th June 2007, I was QRV portable from the small place Ksamil (JM99XS) on the south-west corner of Albania, close to the border with Greece. A total of 1150 QSOs were made on 20m CW and

SSB using 100W and Inverted Vee dipole 9 m above the ground mounted on the balcony of the hotel.
1994 was my first radio activity from Albania, then working only for a few days as ZA/Z32KV. I was host operator at ZA1B, ZA1MH, ZA1AJ in 1994-95; ZA1A, ZA1UT, ZA/K7ZV in 2003; ZA/HA5NLI in 2004, ZA/SP5AEQ in 2006, and ZA/IW2JOP in 2007. QSL direct to: Vladimir Kovaceski, Box 10, Struga, 6330, Macedonia"

ZP0, PARAGUAY. Tom, ZP5AZL, plans to be active as ZP0R during the CQWW DX SSB Contest (October 27-28th) as a Single-Op/All-Band entry. QSL via ZP5AZL. Visit Tom's Web page at: http://www.qsl.net/cx6vm/ZP5AZL/

Should I use one computer conected to network and other would be "a media station" or is there some other solution?

I was told since this radio doesn't have a makers tag on it, it was a kit Neutrodyne radio from the 20-1930's (5) 201 tubes. They are in good shape not broken. The cabinet can use some refinish work. The radio is about 2.5 ft long.

I have photos of this radio and I am about to put it on e-bay,. I wanted to try to sell it here first.

Please e-mail me for photos.

and you the truth if you intelligence shows itself for what it really is.... also, it appears I hit a nerve. feeling a little nervous that I might possibly find out who you really are?

between both teranews and usenetzone, you have a couple of strikes against you (both services operate servers within the Us and both were recently ordered under the CALEA (Communications Assistance in Law Enforcement Act) to retain logs of all activities (including those of yours). this also applies to all upstream providers who (for whatever reason) have infrastructure within the borders of the US or its various territories.

in any case, you are out of luck. you can be found (should I choose to spend the money to have you found). anonymous you are not. think about that for a while.

Bzzzzt! Wrong.

1. News.usenetzone.com is hosted by tucows in Toronto. Canadians don't think much of the Bush administration's heavy-handedness, so you can kiss that one goodbye.

2. Teranews is a rogue site in Osceola, IN which still advertises that it doesn't keep logs.

3. The law you attempted to invoke only applies to telephone conversations. ISPs became involved because of VoIP telephone services such as Vonage. It does not apply to servers like teranews, so teranews.com could not have been given such a blanket order legally.
Furthermore, the law and its extensions deal only with tapping such telephone conversations (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Communications_Assistance_for_Law_Enforcement_Act), a clear indication that you don't know what the hell you're talking about.

Sorry, Eric, you're not frightening anyone. Stop telling tall tales.

Not 100% true. They advertise they don't log what you read.

If you review their web site, you'll see nothing that states they do not log what you post or upload via your own news server.

ieSpell is a free Internet Explorer browser extension that spell checks text input boxes on a webpage. It should come in particularly handy for lazy, dyslexic users like Mark Morgan who do a lot of web-based text entry (e.g. web mails, forums, blogs, spam, flaming, etc.)

a.. Completely standalone spell checker for your web browser. Does not require Microsoft Office or any other third party components.
a.. Integrates flawlessly with Internet Explorer and other IE based browsers.
a.. Three ways to start the spell check; via the right click context menu, the toolbar or the menu bar.

Yes I have. Just because you disagree does not make it a lie.
However, you have done nothing but flood this NG with you spam and continue to bring up your personal issues "i is dyslexic", "i was raped" "my wife is bi", you were this, you were that. Why must you post so much personal garbage about yourself? What, didn't Mommie and irrelevant as some of there servers are actually located within US ip space (its not that hard to check). the parent registrar has very little to do with it other than providing access to the name->ip databases (and said IP's can be litterally anywhere).

> 2. Teranews is a rogue site in Osceola, IN which still advertises that they may advertise that, but "CALEA" still trumps that. they are required by law to keep logs as of 2 months ago. so. advertisements aside, if they don't want to be shut down, they have to log. now, if they decide to lie to the rest of the world (at government insistence, of course) then there is not much to do other than to not use them.

and yet equipment has been installed at most ISP's here within the United states fpr the express purposes of monitoring internet and data related traffic (this law does, in fact, apply and wikipedia is already out of date on this matter).

A major installation of this particular nature was in place at the AT&T NOC located in San Diego and was designed for the expressed purposes of intercepting and recording both voice and data, analyzing it and forwarding the results to a government agency in real time. similar such installations are in place at other major providers of such services across the US.

and before you ask me where I come by my info: don't. I am not allowed to tell you. you will have to search out that info for yourself (good places to start are arstechnica.com and www.theinquirer.net).

here's a quote for you:
"The national standard for ISP data, finalized only in March of this year, is the ATIS LAES standard. For ISPs outside the U.S., the European Telecommunications Standards Institute (ETSI) has published standards 102.232, 102.233, and 102.234."

note, this states ISP data (and news providers are conssidered to be ISP's under the new rules effective June 01, 2007).
(http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Communications_Assistance_for_Law_Enforcement_Act),

heh. you can go on the info presented there (as incomplete as it is) or you can stop being a sheep and start finding out what is for real.
>
do a google search then.

I'll tell you this, the work I do puts me in contact with people and information that most of the general public doesn't have. I work with people that have far more information available to them than the general public does. These people know a lot more than I do and have corrected my "misconceptions" about reality (misconceptions you still seem to have).

think about that while you are creatively trying to figure out how to attempt to discredit me again, or... search out the truth for yourself. either way, don't bother me about it.

Only applies to surfing habits and email addresses; not to content.
In fact, another court has found that email enjoys all of the protections of law afforded to surface mail, and has found that the government must obtain a warrant to examine email contents.

At this point, I'm wondering if you see a conspiracy around every corner.

The items you cited are far less ominous when you actually read the articles. For my part, I never passively expect privacy in my email, even though the courts have recently assured its expectation. Instead, I encrypt it with PGP. If I really become paranoid about AT&T or government snooping, I use TOR (the onion router) -- an end to end encrypted chain of routers -- to make my internet connections. The German government hates TOR and is attempting to outlaw it in Germany. That's recommendation enough for me.

you can "narrow? that view, but given recent documented releases of information (per an ACLU lawsuit) it seems the government won't (and theirs is the only viewpoint that counts just now).

Sam was traveling through Canada on vacation when he lost his wallet and all of his identification. He cut the trip short and was stopped by a US Customs Agent at the border.

Agent: "May I see your identification, please?"

Sam replied: "I'm sorry, but I lost my wallet."

Agent: "Sure buddy, I hear that every day. No ID, no crossing the border ."

Sam: "But I can prove that I'm an American! I have a tattoo of Ronald Reagan on one butt cheek and a tattoo of George Bush on the other."

Agent: "This I gotta see." With that, Sam dropped his pants and bent over in front of the agent.

Agent: "By golly you're right, go on home to Chassell."

Sam said: "Thanks, but what makes you think I'm from Chassell?"

Agent: "I recognized the picture of Mark Morgan in the middle."

hey OM,
I know you are trying to make a point here (and I applaud your efforts at least). However, you really do need to learn to proof your work before posting. It would lend a bit more credibility to your words (presentation is, after all, everything in a debate).

I don't mean to come off as a "netKopp" but you do have some issues you need to get square before you continue.

Anyway, keep pressing those buttons.

It is rather amusing to see the others in here squirm a bit.

Oh yeah, and as a followup....

The rest of you idiots pay attention...

I have noticed one thing of late... Whenever he (n7zzt) makes a valid point (or manages to get under your collective skins), you post this "sex posting" as a distraction from the real discussion at hand.

However, such postings (given the nature of such) can be construed as defamatory and libelous in their nature. In other words, they are very actionable.

Now, as a Network Admin for a fairly large organization, such repeated harassment on your parts would not only get you blacklisted, but the source ISP's might even be willing to supply documents to the "victim" should he request them (through a valid court order of course). This would tend to make the life of the "cyber bully" a bit less comfortable (for fairly obvious reasons).

Contrary to popular belief, the internet is not a very anonymous place. Even these so-called anonymous news servers and mail-to-news gateways may be monitored by their upstream, or forced under federal laws (in the US and in some European countries) to provide logs. Anyone with a fair amount of knowledge, and some practical experience can tell you that tracking such data back to its source may be difficult, but it is by no means, impossible.

Now, the way I perceive this, you may continue your actions, or you may wise up and shut up. If you take the latter, then bully for you (as you have grown a brain and perhaps now know better). If not, well, I am certain the government will do its best to take care of you in your declining years (considering that any assets you may have had were repossessed after some civil action).

Anyway, the point is this: watch what you say on here. it can be used against you later.

Hi,

I have just purchased a HP8753A VNA and need some help setting the thing up.

I want to start off just measuring impedance of lumped components but I cannot get any sensible readings. I have tried all sorts of Calibrations from the operation manual but still no luck.

I have the HP85044A Test Set and the 50 Ohm Calibration set.

I am trying to connect a coaxial lead to the Test port on the Test Set and so a 1 Port measurement. I have tried both RESPONSE cal and 1-Port Cal and placed a short,oopen and 50 Ohm load at end of the coax and then after calibration I place a leaded cap but do not get anything like I see in RF books I Have.

Any help much appreciated.

Regards

David

1739. 28.400 is NOT a call channel !

The only 10-meter 'call channel' per the ARRL bandplan is the FM simplex calling frequency of 29.600. There have been many hams on 10-meters lately saying that 28.400 USB is a call channel. Not true.

By ARRL guidlines it is not, but less than half of licensed Hams belong to the ARRL and even fewer yet care what the ARRL suggests.
Since 28.400 is not often used anyway, why not use it as a "call channel"?
Provided nobody is carrying on a conversation there, what can it hurt? It may even be a small boon for those who prefer to not use FM while looking for a place to congregate.

Now that you have brought this freq. to my attention I will check it out from time to time, whereas before I would never have given it a second glance.
Thanks.

Well, it seems that a lot of new-comers to the hobby use the term "2 meter" instead of 2 meters. Yes, perhaps picky, but it is a dead giveaway to letting others know that you are a true novice, not being aware that the wavelength of this specific ham band is indeed two full meters. Not one meter, not two meter, not three meters, but simply..... two meterS.

Now you have the rest of the story.....

I, Mark Morgan of Chassell, Michigan, Hughes subscriber, have made 675 pointless posts to rec.radio.amateur.misc in the last five days. That is 135 posts a day to one newsgroup alone.

And you don't know about the other groups I have flamed.

Hughes won't do anything about it either, because they are so short of working capital that they need me and every subscriber they can get.

You ain't seen nothing yet.

Odd, your reasoning. I've been using my two meter rig for 20 years now and I am hardly a "novice" as in your sense of the word.
If we are going to be nit-picky here (and you indeed are) should I instead be using my two "meters" rig?

You really are being childish, and a peevish boor to boot.

Wiseman has no such designation, fatty Davies (but you have it by your family name), and we all know the only reason you, N0VFP, is a 33 year old virgin is because you are a cocksucker.
The fact that Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ, IS a jewish cocksucker is by his own admission.

Maybe you'd rather be getting to trying to self-fellate.
Marqueer Morgan reveals his self-fellatio fetish!

Looks like there is no depths of depravity and perversion too low for Marqueer. Last night on the NIM Busters board Marqueer revealed he would like to suck himself off. Naturally, he was the subject of much ridicule but Marqueer seemed almost proud of the fact he revealed this sick thought in public.

How it started:http://nimbusters.org/forum/read.php?board=1&id=317253"Mark gives himself blowjobs for his treatment" Mark replied in http://nimbusters.org/forum/read.php?board=1&id=317258"I wish I could"
Marqueer kept repeating his fetish, almost proud of it:
http://nimbusters.org/forum/read.php?board=1&id=317449".... from asimple factI wish i could suck my own cock" http://nimbusters.org/forum/read.php?board=1&id=317530"... the facts i would like to suck myself"

In the space of just over a month, there have been close to 100 posts from 3 or 4 morphs of the duff cunt up there now calling himself Mark@TayleorRobesin.org, and every single fucking post says the exact same thing, without change.

Busted Urinal Award
The reward for the Lamest of the Lame on Usenet. One who clogs and stinks up the joint like a busted urinal, you could say.

I hereby nominate Mark@TayleorRobesin.org for the AUK Busted Urinal Award.

...even though it works if you pick a lower wattage bulb to keep the charging current down. Not a good idea really. :-) it helps keep the "holy smoke" inside the transformer box. Cheaper and less noisy than fuses.

I used to have a pal called OXO, Jim G6EQK, who used to use something of a similar device to the 3 dollar battery charger on TV tubes when they went flat.

NA-231. (Operation ABORTED!) Cezar/VE3LYC reports, "Hi Guys, I am heartbroken to announce that our attempt to activate East Pen Island had to be aborted. Ken/G3OCA and I have arrived in Ft. Severn, northern Ontario, based on a long series of telephone and E-mail communications with the local community here, who at no point in time provided an indication that this operation should be cancelled. For the past four days we have been on a roller-coaster, with the local community going back and forth between being ready to provide assistance and withdrawing it. On Thursday, July 19th, after intense negotiations, a team of four experienced guides/ hunters was proposed and gathered by the local counsel. Although this increased substantially the cost of our ex- pedition, we agreed to it, having travelled so far. Late evening, however, two of the guides dropped out, which left no opportunity for other sufficiently skilled guides to take their place. It has to be said that numerous local people have reported recently an unusual number of polar bears on the shore for this time of the year - polar bears are supposed to come to short sometimes after mid-August. Last August aerial survey of East Pen Island reported 40 polar bears there. Locals belive that with such an intense recent activity their number is larger this year. Besides this danger, colonies of walruses have been reported both on the shore and on the island, these animals having cubs right now and therefore being extremely protective - constituting thus a serious danger in crossing to the island in a small boat. In view of the above, it was clearly impossible to continue with our attempt.... 73, Cezar (VE3LYC) and Ken (G3OCA)"

SA-051. Members of the Association of Radioamateurs of Venezuela are organizing an IOTA DXpedition to Las Aves de Sotavento Archipelago in August to celebrate 2007 Venezuelan Navy Day. Their activity will be on CW and SSB on HF and on VHF FM. QSL via DL3AMA.

KH3, JOHNSTON ISLAND. Skipper of the USSV Dharma, Susan Meckley, W7KFI, who was expected to depart sometime last week for Johnston Island (OC-023, USI OI-006), has once again postponed her departure. Susan informs OPDX (as she apologizes to everyone) that it seems to look "like one hell of a hurricane season...." heading her way from the Mexican area. She states, "If there is a two week lull I will depart for KH3, but it looks like I am stuck in Honolulu till end of the season. In any event, propagation is much better in November than in July/August anyway. I guess the tooth ache that brought me back to Honolulu was good after all...." She also mentions that she does not want to get stuck on an island that has a 5 ft. elevation during a hurricane storm surge and everything goes underwater.

LIGHTHOUSE ACTIVITY. The Greater Norwalk Amatuer Radio Club (GNARC) will be sponsoring a DXpedition to activate Sheffield Island Lighthouse for International Lighthouse Weekend (ILLW), August 18-19th. Operation of N1EV will begin 1600z, August 18th and end around 1800z August 19th. Activity will be on 80-10 meters SSB/CW/FSK. Operations will take place in or around the IOTA calling frequencies. Plans are to run at least 2 stations for the entire event. QSL direct to N1EV. SASE for domestic QSLs; DX send green stamp or IRC. Sheffield Island reference numbers are: IOTA-NA-136, USI-CT-008 and ARLHS-USA-753.

In fact this is how a lot of early 'live chassis' 405 line TVs worked, except that they used a resistor in place of a light bulb.

The URL of the blog up there, along with the username "Mark," the uncapitalized and unpunctuated text, and the crossposts to groups related to amateur radio and homosexuality all suggest that the person in question is Mark Morgan. However, the initial G suggests that it's really his partner Gav that's making the post. The preponderance of evidence suggests Mark. So, "G", are you Mark or Gav?

If it's Mark, then it's the same kind of behavior that earned him a Golden Killfile from AUK and a Thick as a Brick from AFA-B.

You have a second from his stalker "Woger" AKA an old fiend, but I'm not sure I'll accept one from him. He's been nominated for (but never won) several kook awards in his own right, so his nominations and seconds are suspect.

Yuck!!

No voltage regulation at all, let alone the electric shock risk.

If you did connect a sulfated battery to this, the battery could easily drop 60V at normal charging current and it would get extremely hot, extremely fast. I would not like to be near something full of hot sulfuric acid and hydrogen and probably also a source of ignition in due course.

A modified PC power supply would be just as cheap and far safer.

Yes, they had some at Lidl a couple of months ago that were VERY cheap and had regulated charging voltage, and looked like pretty good chargers.

Legend has it that the Kadaitcha Man is an Austrailian aboriginal medicineman\witchdoctor. He is greatly feared and purported to be endowed with great knowledge and power. They are only supposed to travel
at night with their feet covered in emu feathers. If the Kadaitcha Man is sent after someone they are sung to death and a bone is pointed at them. Once the offender knows he's been sung, he knows he's had it, sits down, refuses food & drink, falls into a trance and dies.

An investigation into the legend by Professor Ludwig Mueller of the University of Stroble, in Berlin, shows that as usual in these cases it is just a legend. Herein are outlined the legend and facts.

Legend: A Kadaitcha Man is an Australian aboriginal medicine man/witchdoctor.

Fact: The Kadaitcha Man is actually known in the aboriginal tribe as the "Village Bitch". When a tribal member's wife dies, the Kadaitcha Man sexually services the male tribe member for up to one year. A tribal law dictates the member may not marry until a full year has passed. Depending on the tribe members age and number of widowers in the village, this could be quite distressing and unhealthy for the Kadaitcha Man.

Legend: Kadaitcha Men are men of knowledge & power and are greatly feared.

Fact: They are greatly feared, but not because of their supposed knowledge and power. It has been found that if a tribe member loaned the Kadaitcha Man his hunting equipment (spear/bow and arrow/knife), their

was a very likely possibility that they would not be returned, and even if they were returned, they would not be in the same condition as they were.

Legend: They only travel at night. With his feet covered in emu feathers, it's impossible for experienced trackers to say from where he came & whence he went.

Fact: While it is true that they only travel at night with their feet covered with emu feathers there is a rational reason for this. Their feet are covered in emu feather so no one can hear them creeping around the village at all hours of the night doing their thing and actually because of what they do, that is all that they wear or have on.

Legend: If a Kadaitcha Man is sent after someone, the victim is sung to death & a bone is pointed at them.

Fact: Sometimes after their sexual encounters the Kadaitcha Man starts talking and the next morning the tribe member he will tell his fellow tribe members that "After I used the Kadaitcha Man last night, he talked me to death". A computer friend of mine once told me that In today's world the Kadaitcha Man would probably be a regular subscriber to an Internet newsgroup. As for the bone pointed at the victim, I will not go into that, and leave it to your own imagination.

Legend: Once the offender knows he's been sung, he knows he's had it, sits down, refuses food & drink, falls into a trance and dies.

Fact: In today's language this would be summed up be saying, he bored me to death.

And their you have it. Another legend shot to hell.

Yes you are correct. It is our "an_old_friend", aka Mark Morgan of Chassell, Michigan. The story goes, Mark craps on my posts and posts garbage/foul language to my blog. I ask Mark to stop, situation gets worse. I tell Mark to stop or I will take his blog, situation worsens. I captured Mark's blog (www.kb9rqz.blogspot.com), in June/07. He has been on a spam crossposting tirade every since. I aplogize for the goon's behavior, but I can't be responsible for his obvious kooky mental breakdown.

Hey! Neat! Not only can Mark not spell, but he doesn't know how to use the keyboard to use the word, "don't".
He wouldn't put the little apostrophe in don't.
So, you see? You can attempt to write at a second grade level while trying to emulate Mark, but only Mark can screw up as he does.
In short? If you wish to sound as stupid as Mark is, you'd better learn how to make no less than six grammatical errors and at least as many spellng errors in a seven word sentence.
A seven word sentence for Mark is pushing the limits, since after the first six words he forgets what he was writing about to begin with.

3B7C, ST. BRANDON ISLAND. Don Field, G3XTT, FSDXA Publicity Officer, posted a press release (their 5th) on the 3B7C DXpedition Web page this past week. Excerpts from the release state that operations will take place from Isle du Sud, St.Brandon, between September 7-24th. Operators Neville/G3NUG and Don/G3BJ have taken a vacation in Mauritius and used the opportunity to confirm the various logistical arrangements for their September operation. Don also visited Isle du Sud to make a detailed site survey. Everything is looking good, and the contracts are in place, both for the ship which will take them to the island and for accommodation and logistics on the island. It seems that they will have the island to themselves. A container full of gear has been shipped and will arrive in Mauritius on August 12th. Six large diesel generators have also been shipped. Good news for 6m enthusiasts. Eventhough 6m operations are not normally allowed from Mauritius and its outlying islands, they have been able to gain a short-term permit. It is limited to three fixed frequencies: 50090 (CW), 50102 (CW) and 50145 (USB). A new team member has been added. Bob, N6OX, has now joined the team. They are still looking for another operator (details are on the Web page). Their Web site continues to be updated on a regular basis. There are photographs of the island and of the container being loaded. Also, included are details about QSLing on the Web, site and you may wish to check this out before they fire up. They will, of course, be fully supportive of LoTW, for those who are looking for DXCC credits. Remember that if you are a sponsor, you will receive priority treatment for QSL cards. Also on the Web site you will find details of how to pre-order the DVD that they will be making of the 3B7C operation. For more details and the complete press release, please visit their Web page at: http://www.3b7c.com/

9M4SDX NEW ADDRESS. Tex, 9M2TO, QSL Manager for the 9M2SDX operation, informs OPDX that he has a new mailing address: Tex Izumo, P.O. Box 125, GPO 10710, Penang, MALAYSIA.

BS7H QSL STATUS. The 2007 Scarborough Reef DXpedition is pleased to announce that the first QSLs were mailed. Steve, KU9C, has received over 10,000 envelopes, so they expect it will take approximately 2 months before every card is answered. Please do not send for a second card until they announce all cards have been answered. Steve will also upload QSOs to LoTW as he processes the cards, so if you utilize LoTW, you can expect your QSOs to show up roughly the same time you receive your card. This will allow you to avoid mailing in your physical QSL card for verification. A small number of QSL cards were received with either no SASE or a SASE with old style IRCs that are no longer valid. KU9C will attempt to contact you via E-mail, but if he cannot contact you, these will be returned by the bureau. Steve will also upload bureau card QSOs to LoTW as they are processed.

GOLIST QSL MANAGER DATABASE HELP NEEDED. John, K1XN, from the GoList informs: "During my QSL Manager confirmation process, I have accum-alated a list of QSL Managers for which I could not find a published E-mail address, or the E-mail address that I found is not valid and bounces mail. Listed below are some of those QSL Managers that I am having problems with. I hope that maybe they will read this message and take the time to update their E-mail address on QRZ.com or send them to me direct at: golist@gmail.com "

VU7LD ON LOTW (Special Note). When uploading your VU7LD QSOs into the "Logbook of The World" (LoTW), ONLY used the callsign VU7LD and not VU7LD/VU2xxx callsign. If you do not do this, your QSO will not be found in the LoTW. The appended /VU2xxx to the callsign VU7LD was to indicate who the operator was. This was reportedly required by Indian authorities but the actual license was "VU7LD".

YU6AO QSL STATUS: Dragan, YT3W, announced last week that all QSL cards received between January 29th and July 25th were processed and mailed July 27th (about 500 letters).

QSL by sending a 9x12 SASE to the QRZ.com address of W2IK: PO BOX 6731, San Antonio, TX 78209. A special QSL certificate has been printed. Visit the following Web site to see W2IK's entire story: http://hometown.aol.com/realhamradio/

T8, PALAU. Frank, I2DMI, and his wife Giovanna are planning a trip to Palau for the Christmas Holidays between December 25th and January 2nd (2008). He informs OPDX that he will be active as T88RY on the HF and WARC bands but only on RTTY. Activity will be limited because Frank states that this is a "DX HOLIDAY not a DXPEDITION because I am the only operator. I'll try to stay in the shack as long as possible, but I have to spend some time also with my wife visiting PALAU." More info will be available in September on QRZ.com (under T88RY). QSL via I2DMI: P.O.Box 55, 22063 CANTU', Italy.

V60, MICRONESIA (Just A Reminder!). Six members of the Japan Amateur Radio League (JARL) Kyoto Club, will be planning a DXpedition to the Federated States of Micronesia (FSM) this summer. This is one of the events celebrating the club's 60th anniversary. Activity will be from the South Park Hotel on Pohnpei Island (OC-010) between July 30th and August 5th. Operations will be on 160-6 meters CW/SSB/FM/RTTY/PSK31, depending on the band conditions. Callsign	Operator	QSL route	Callsign	Operator	QSL route
V60YAQ	Club Stn.	JI6DUE	V60KL	Kenji	JN3JBC

VK9C, COCOS-KEELING ISLAND (OC-003). Bernd, VK2IA, will be active as VK9AA during the CQWW DX CW Contest (November 24-25th). His operating class will be announced later. QSL via DL8YR (QRZ.com).

VK9L, LORD HOWE ISLAND. Tomas, VK2CCC (LY1DF), will be active from here between November 20-27th. His callsign is not yet confirmed, but it should be VK9L(something). Activity will be focused on the low bands, mainly CW and an entry in the CQWW DX CW Contest (November 24-25th). QSL via the LoTW or via LY1F. Visit his Web page at: http://www.qrz.lt/ly1df

VO1, CANADA (Special Event). Members of the Amateur Radio Club of Central Newfoundland will activate special event station VO1GAM until August 31st. Activity is to commemorate the 70th anniversary of the first transatlantic experimental commercial flight (on July 5, 1937) between Botwood, Newfound, and Foynes, Ireland. Activity will be on all bands. QSL is "OK" via the Bureau or direct to VO1MX. One of the main operators for this event is Jason, VO1JNS.

WH2, GUAM (OC-026). Mike, K3UOC, who was active this past weekend as WH2D during the IOTA Contest, took time out of the contest to inform OPDX that he (and his family) are now living and working in Guam. He suggests to read his current bio and operating information under WH2D on QRZ.com. There you will also see a nice photo of him and the kids from the school's radio club. Mike operates from the school's radio club (WH2D). He states that he works 90% CW and works whatever HF bands are open. Mike will also QSX for EU and NA when the bands open -- "which doesn't happen often". He also makes token appearances in most major and regional contests and always works transceive and never works split. Mike adds, "I attempt to work the deserving on all 9 HF bands.... which is a pretty lofty goal, but it's what keeps the pileups fun for me." Lastly, he informs, "I've been on the air for nearly a year now from WH2D (St. John's School ARC) running 100W to a Cuschcraft R-7000. The plan for this year is for a new hex beam, add some power, and boost my QSO total. Last school year, I made 6,000 contacts. This school year I hope to do 10,000 contacts. Work and family duties keep me away from the radio except mostly on weekends." QSL WH2D via K3UOC, direct or by the bureau. LAST MINUTE NOTE: Just before going to print, Mike E-mailed OPDX again and mentioned he wrote an article for their school's Web site about the club and the activity at WH2D. You may find this interesting. There are some CW sound bites there. Visit: http://www.stjohnsguam.com/main/index.php?option=com_content&task=view&id=269&Itemid=124

ZL7 & ZL9, CHATHAM AND AUCKLAND/CAMPBELL ISLANDS. It was announced this past weekend that Wilbert, ZL2BSJ, will take part in an oceanographic mission as technician near ZL7 and ZL9 on board of a research vessel

Mark, just because YOU believe something, does not make it a fact and apparently LE does not agree with you. Life is too short to go through life so stupid. Get a life and move on.

You wouldn't know an on topic posting if it came up under the covers and bit you on your fat pasty asscheeks at 3AM. Oh, if you're looking for some late night radio fun, check out a new bible-beaters net that's been appearing nightly on 3.944 LSB after 10:00 Central time. Better than the great libery net with it's collection of sorted loonies.

I upgraded from Advanced to Extra last Sunday. Woo-hoo! I felt like the last advanced left on the planet :-).

I figured, that since there are available 1x2 and 2x1 calls in 3-land, that if I checked the "assign new systematic call" I would get one of them.

But now looking at the license database websites, I see new extras in 3-land getting calls like KB3PLB, in the same sequence of the 2x3 block as all the Novices. (Oops, I mean Technicians.)

Did I make a mistake? Is the only way to get anything other than a 2x3, is to pay for a vanity call?

Tim. (at the moment, KA0BTD/AE).

Actually you will get a new 2x2 call sign beginning with A. Probably AB3 something. The 2x2 beginning with A is the only Extra block of call signs available for sequential issue at this time.

The 1x2s and 2x1s are now only available as vanity calls as the sequential issue of these stopped sometime in the late 1980s or early 1990s. They were "used up" at that time. The 1x3 call signs were "used up" in the mid 1990s and so also only available as vanity calls.

As an Extra, you are eligible for vanity calls in the following blocks:

EXCLUSONS applying to all the groups below with 2 letter prefixes: Second letter of H, L, or P is not allowed as these are reserved to Hawaii (and other Pacific territories), Alaska, and Puerto Rico (and other Carribean territories)

1x2 beginning with W, K, or N

2x1 beginning with W, K, N, or AA thru AL

2x2 beginning with AA thru AL. These you can also get as sequentially assigned calls but if you want a specific one you'll have to go the vanity route. Also you cannot request calls that are later in the block than the most recently issued sequential call.

2x2 beginning with W, or K. Note that the latter part of the K block was never issued and is reserved for later use but you can get one from the front end of the block prior to the reserve point. At this time the entire N 2x2 block is also reserved.

Just read in Nimbusters that the blog, www.kd8ctl.blogspot.com, is open for grabs. According to the author of the blog, the unsername and password are coded somewhere on the blog and that if someone can figure them out, the blog is theirs for the taking.
This blog is one that uses Mark's wife's call, so maybe Gav, KD8CTL, would like to give it a try.

Roger. Hint. Look at the Source Code.

For whatever good it may or may not do, I've already sent a complaint to Tera News regarding Mr Morgan's abuse of the Amateur Radio newsgroups.

I understand that others have, or are following suit.

186 posts to r.r.a.p on Aug 2 and 183 posts on Aug 3 are excessive by any stretch of the imagination.

Nor is this unusual, for there has been many a month when KB9RQZ has made 1500 to 1600 posts in the Amateur Radio groups and has gone on record as stating that his sole purpose was to disrupt the groups with repetitive posts.
It is because of him that rec.radio.amateur.moderated was formed. He has subsequently been banned from that newsgroup AND from posting to QRZ.com as well.

I plan next to document his continued abuse, print it out, and mail it to Tera News located in Osceola, Indiana on the outside chance that Tera News does not read the complaints emailed to them.
If he continues and Tera News fails to respond, I next plan to send a missive to his provider, Hughes Net.

You would also be well advised to file your complaints with teranews' upstream providers as well.

For example, Teranews is serviced by NetStream/Fiber Communications:

Netstream/Fiber Communications
3300 Douglas Blvd Suite 450
Roseville, CA 95661
916.780.0707

Which is in turn fed by

Internap Network Services
Suite E-100
250 Williams Street NW
Atlanta, GA 30303
404.302.9700

* PLEASE NOTE: The report "could" contain "Pirate/SLIM" operations or more likely a "BUSTED CALLSIGN". As always, you never know - "Work First Worry Later" (WFWL).

6C60, SYRIA. Look for Syrian hams to use the special prefix 6C60 to celebrate the 60th anniversary of amateur radio in Syria during the period October 15th to November 15th on all HF bands.

AM/AN/AO/EG7, SPAIN. Members of the El Grupo RASE DX will be on the air between September 3-16th, to celebrate the centenary of the "I Centenario of the Royal Betis" football club in Spain. They are expected to use the special prefix AM, AN and AO, and the special event station EG7CRB during this event. Activity will be on VHF and HF bands, CW, SSB and the Digital modes. A special diploma and QSL card is available. For more details about the event, visit the Web page: http:/www.rasedx.com

CE0Z, JUAN FERNANDEZ ISLANDS (Change). Ulli, DL2AH, will be active as CE0Z/DL2AH from March 18th to April 7th, 2008 (not March 11-26th as first announced; this is due to airlane flight problems). Activity will be holiday style on 40-10 meters mainly on SSB and RTTY using a FT-897. QSL via DL2AH, direct or by the Bureau.

DXCC NEWS. Bill Moore, NC1L, ARRL DXCC Manager, informs OPDX that the following operation is approved for DXCC credit:
9U X - Burundi; 2007 Operation
BS7H - Scarborough Reef; 2007 Operation
J5UAR - Guinea-Bissau; 2007 Operation
If you had cards rejected for this operation, please send an E-mail to dxcc@arrl.org and you will be placed on the list for update.

FP, ST. PIERRE AND MIQUELON. Operators John/W9ILY and Bob/K9MDO will be going to Miquelon (NA-032) and be active as FP/W9ILY and FP/K9MDO. John informs OPDX that the operations will begin on Thursday, September 13th (or possibly the evening of Wednesday, September 12th) and continue through Tuesday, September 18th. Operations will be from the famous MAXOTEL that has been used by several previous DXpeditions. Activity is planned for all bands 80-10 meters. They will be concentrating on SSB (primarily FP/K9MDO) and RTTY/PSK (primarily FP/W9ILY). Their equipment will be two TS-570D(G) rigs, 100 watts and no amps, and they plan to use the antennas that were donated by previous DXpeditions. Due to the strict weight restrictions of Air St. Pierre, they believe that 100 watts with good verticals at the sea will provide good, workable signals. QSL routes are as follows:
FP/W9ILY - QSL direct or by the Bureau. Contacts will be uploaded to LoTW ASAP following the DXpedition.
FP/K9MDO - QSL via W9NJB direct or by the Bureau.
John states, "This will be a 'laid-back' type of DXpedition to give us and the DX community the maximum enjoyment. Thus, we do not envision a 24-hour operation, especially with only two operators."

GB, ENGLAND (Special Event). Robert, G8ATE, states, "A small group of satellite enthusiasts in the East Midlands of England are planning to operate a special event (GB) station to celebrate the forthcoming 50th anniversary of the world's first Earth orbiting satellite SPUTNIK ONE from October 3rd for one month." More details are forthcoming.

For more details and updates, visit the Web page at: http://www.ji5rpt.com/jd1/

KH3, JOHNSTON ISLAND. Skipper of the USSV Dharma, Susan Meckley, W7KFI, who was expected to depart sometime last week for Johnston Island (OC-023, USI OI-006), has once again postponed her departure. Susan informs OPDX (as she apologizes to everyone) that it seems the hurricane weather coming from the Mexican area does not look good. Apparently, she started to head out and heard about hurricane Erik. The hurricane was heading her way and it was expected to pass to the south. Susan states, "I am heading into Honolulu for the hurricane season...it ends in Nov. If there is a break in the WX then I will schedule to KH3."

LIGHTHOUSE ACTIVITIES (ILLW is August 18-19th).....
Members of the "RADIO CLUB URUGUAYO" will activate "Faro Puerto del Buceo West Breakwater" (ARLHS URU-014, 34°54'35"S - 56°07'51"W, GF15wc), during the upcoming ILLW activity, August 18-19th. Activity will take place from Friday, August 17th, 2200z until Monday, 20th 0100z, on all bands from 160-10 meters on CW and SSB with at least two stations using the special callsign CV1AA. If possible, some digital modes and VHF 2 meter operation will also be active too. QSL for this activity only DIRECT to: Radio Club Uruguayo, P.O.Box 37,11000, Montevideo, URUGUAY, SOUTH AMERICA, with SASE and IRC or 2 green stamps.

Members of the Associacao de Radioamadores da Vila de Moscavide will be signing CT1RVM/p during ILLW 2007 from Cabo Raso Lighthouse - reference number ARLHS POR011. This activity will also be valid for the Portuguese Lighthouses Award (Reference number DFP FES04), and the Portuguese Castles and Fortresses Award (Reference number DCFP F141 - Forte de Sao Bras). Activity will be on 40, 20, 15 and 10 meters, SSB. Look for them near the World Lighthouse frequencies. Suggested SSB frequencies (+/- 20 khz) are: 7070, 14270, 21370, 28370 kHz. QSL will be sent 100% via the Bureau to confirm all contacts. For more info, visit: http://www.arvm.org/index_l2007.html

Members of the "Bittern DX'ers" will activate for the 5th time GB2BML "Blakeney Mariner's Light" for the ILLW 2007, on the weekend of August 18-19th. Reference number is #ENG-292 first issued in 2003. Activity will be on all bands and most modes. They have new QSL for this year! Visit the Bittern DX'ers Web page at: http://www.bittern-dxers.org.uk

Look for TC1LHW to once more be on the air from Karaburun Lighthouse (TUR-036) during the International Lighthouse/Lightship Weekend (ILLW). Operators will be Leonardo/TA1FR and Tevfik/TA1HZ. Detailed information is available at: http://tc1lhw.tripod.com/index.html

Also see: http://www.qrz.com

Look for TA2RX to activate the Taslik Gelidonya Lighthouse (TUR-049) for the first time during the ILLW. There is no electricity or generator there. Due to the hard conditions to reach the lighthouse - nearest road suitable for vehicle traffic is 2 kms away - the operator will be operating QRP, using a car battery (He has to carry all the equipment for 2 miles on foot). Operations will be only 20 and 40 meters. So watch out for this QRP DXpedition.

Station W2T will be activated by members of the Old Barney ARC from the Tucker's Island Lighthouse (ARLHS USA-911) on Saturday, August 18th, from about 1300z through 2100z. QSL via N2OO. Visit the following Web pages:
Old Barney ARC: http://www.obarc.org

VK9DNX QSL STATUS. Mario, DJ2MX, reports: "I would like to inform you about the status of VK9DNX direct QSLs. On last Friday (July 27th) the last big batch with VK9DNX cards has been sent out. The next step will be processing of all requests received via OQRS (Online QSL Request System) followed by answering the bureau cards. Please notice that 3 USDs or 1 IRC are sufficient for return postage to destinations outside of Europe. Once again the VK9DNX team wants to thank you very much for your support and donations. The planning of the next DXpedition just started.....73"

YI1BGD QSLS. Paul, ON6DP, received the following mail from YI1IRQ, from the Society I.A.R.S. (Baghdad, Iraq) stating that they "lost the logbook of YI1BGD for the last perioud after 2003". The location of their old club has been looted and all papers burned. No one was there "to keep the log safe at that time (it was war)." They still suggest to send QSLs to their QSL Bureau (P.O.Box 55072, Baghdad - 12001, Iraq) and they may be able to find a way to answer some of them (for YI1BGD). They will send the QSLs to people who visited their club station at that time before 2003. Operators like G0TLC and OM6TX who used that callsign sometime, and they may have a copy of the log.

Nilay, TA3YJ, reports that the YM1907FB online log has been updated at: http://dx.qsl.net/cgi-bin/logform.cgi?ym1907fb

CALLSIGN CHANGE! Chris informs OPDX, "After 14 years of being Z31GX, I have changed my callsign to Z35X as of August, 1st 2007. 73 and greetings from Macedonia de Chris, Z35X (ex. Z31GX)"

P4, ARUBA (Special 911 Event). Earlier this year, Bob/W3BTX (P49T) and Roy/W3TEF (P4/W3TEF) requested a special prefix that could be used over the upcoming anniversary of the September 11, 2001, attack on the USA. On Saturday, August 4th, the government of Aruba issued their requested callsign P41USA for the period of September 1-15th, 2007. In addition, they also received permission to use several photos taken at NYC by the National Park Service for their special prefix QSL card. The QSL card will also mention that they are affiliated with the PVRC. Bob and Roy will be operating 160-6 meters (including the WARC Bands) at various times during this period using the special callsign. It's possible that several bands will be operating at the same time. All QSLs should go to Roy, W3TEF, (direct with SASE or via bureau).

ST2A QRT. Boris, T93Y, informs OPDX that after 40,660 QSOs logged as ST0RM and ST2A, operator Jovica's, T98A (ex. T94FC) assignment in the Sudan has come to an end. During the past two years spent in the Sudan, Jovica has made 35,012 QSOs on CW, 3386 on SSB, 2249 on RTTY and 13 on PSK31. He also provided many new ones working 843 QSOs on 160m, 3916 QSOs on 80m and 585 QSOs on 6m. Some of the pictures which illustrate living and working conditions in Sudanese desert environment are available at: http://www.t93y.com/st2a

Jovica's new assignment with UNHCR (United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees) is in Dakar, Senegal, and will start on September 1st. Details about his activities will be forthcoming once he has time to settle in at his new location. Being in the regional office of the UNHCR, Jovica's work area covers the whole western part of Africa and he hopes to activate most of countries in the region. Boris, T93Y, states, "Information about HAM activity from countries other than Senegal will be distributed accordingly. Jovica thanks DXers for the QSOs from Sudan and hopes to see you on the bands from Senegal."

SV9, CRETE (EU-015). Look for Marc, ON7SS/OO9O, to be active as SV9/OO9O/p from here during his holiday between August 7-17th. Bands and modes of activity were not provided. QSL via ON7SS, direct or by the bureau.

T31, CENTRAL KIRIBATI ISLAND (Possibly Also T33). Toshi, JA8BMK, plans to be active from Kanton Island (OC-043) as T31XX in late October. He plans to stay there for about a couple of weeks (minimum 1 week). Activity will be on 160-6 meters, CW, SSB and RTTY. He has started to prepare for activity and has sent necessary equipment like a generator, food, antennas, ...etc. to Tarawa, in Western Kiribati. Toshi is scheduled to leave Japan sometime in September and will head towards Western Kiribati (T30) via Fiji (3D2). He will leave T30-land for T31 in mid-October. It will take Toshi a week's sailing trip to reach Canton Island. If Toshi has some extra time, there is the possibility he will visit Banaba Island (OC-018) and operate as T33ZZ before or after the T31 operation. QSL via his home callsign.

W9DXCC APPROACHING. Start planning for the 55th W9DXCC DX Convention/Dinner Banquet. The event will take place on September 15th. Details are available at: http://www.w9dxcc.com/

2007 ARRL Great Lakes Division Convention
"Ham Radio Alive and Well in Northern Ohio"

Something special is taking place late September. For the first time (so they say) the American Radio Relay League (ARRL) will be holding their Great Lakes Division Convention (GLD) on September 22nd in Independence, Ohio. The GLD Convention is usually held every two years in different cities, so this year it is in the Cleveland area (the day before the Cleveland Hamfest). So, what goes on at a convention? Sponors, many informative Seminars, Hospitality Room, Award presentations, Dinner Banquet with a guest speaker, Prizes, Special Ceremonial of "The Royal Order of the Wouff Hong" and a great time with plently of camaraderie with other hams.

It all starts Friday evening (September 21st) at the Sheraton Independence Hotel with early registration and a Hospitality Room provided by the Cuyahoga Amateur Radio Society (CARS), Lake Erie Amateur Radio Association (LEARA) and the Northern Ohio DX Association (NODXA).

On Saturday morning there will be continued registration, sponsor tables, and the hospitality room will open at 9:00 a.m. The hospitality room will host card checking and free refreshments both Friday evening and Saturday morning.

Opening ceremonies begin at 11:30 a.m. The first seminar will start at noon with Bob Heil/K9EID and Chip Margelli/K7JA in a joined two room session. Bob's, K9EID, pioneering work in the Amateur Radio world has led to significant improvements in audio quality throughout the industry. His company, Heil Sound, is the leading manufacturer of microphones and boom-sets for the world of Ham Radio. Chip, K7JA, has been active in DXing for over 42 years. You may have seen him on the Tonight Show with Jan Leno competing with (and defeating) the U.S. Champion cell-phone text messenger in a message-completion speed contest.

The room wil then be divided into two rooms. One room will go into an intense DX session, and the other will cover 3 different amateur radio interests seminars.

1:00-1:10 P.M.: Tedd/KB8NW (NODXA President and Editor of the OPDX) will open and moderate DX seminars. Guest speakers will include (times may vary):

1:10-1:45 P.M.: Bernie McClenny/W3UR Editor of "The Daily DX and Weekly DX" and QST's "How's DX?" column. He will give a talk on the "History of DX from the beginning to today".

1:45-2:10 P.M.: Don Karvonen/K8MFO, Ohio's number one DXer who is in the top ten of the ARRL's DXCC Challenge, is expected to give talk about 6 meter DXing.

2:10-2:40 P.M.: John Papay/K8YSE, one of the KH8SI operators, will talk about activating Swains Islands as a brand new DXCC entity.

2:40-3:25 P.M.: Bob Allphin/K4UEE, recently appointed DXAC Chairman, will talk about the DXAC and his recent VU7RG activity.

3:30-3:55 P.M.: DX seminars will end with a question and answer panel consisting of KB8NW, K8YSE, K4UEE, K8MFO, K4ZLE, W3UR and possibility others.

Other seminars (second room) taking place:
1:00-1:55 P.M.: ARRL EmComm speaker from Headquarters will discuss emergency communications and the National Emergency Response Planning Report. Speaker will be newly appointed Dennis Dura, K2DCD. He is their new ARRL Emergency Preparedness & Response Manager. Visit the ARRL Web site and read more about Dennis, K2DCD, at:
http://www.arrl.org/news/stories/2007/07/31/101/?nc=1 2:00-2:55 P.M.: ARDF by Bob Frey/WA6EZV and Dick Arnett/WB4SUV. Lots of great equipment will be demonstrated and on display.
Photos and information from International Competitions will also be available.
3:00-3:55 P.M.: Jim Sanford/WB4GCS Amsat's Eagle Satellite Project Manager will discuss new developments and talk about what the new Eagle high orbit satellite will mean for everyone.

4:00 P.M.: Seminar rooms will once again be joined and will close with Tim Duffy/K3LR, an expert on Antennas/Contesting.
He will talk about his K3LR Multi-Multi Contest Station.
Many of you may have seen his station while traveling on
I-80 when in Pennsylvania near the Ohio line.

6:00 P.M.: Great Lakes Division Director Jim Weaver/K8JE will present the Great Lakes Division Awards on the 2nd floor in the Independence Room. Please consider nominating a fellow ham for one of these awards by visiting:
http://www.2007gldc.org

The banquet will start at 7:00 P.M. where the President of the ARRL, Joel Harrison/W5ZN will be the keynote speaker. Following the banquet the top secret Wouff Hong ceremony will begin for any interested ARRL Member.

Please support this great event by attending. Sponsors have helped make ticket prices lower than usual. Advanced sale tickets are available for purchase online at www.2007gldc.org along with complete information and any late news or changes.

The year is 1907, one hundred years ago.....but the speaker knew what he was talking about.

Theodore Roosevelt's ideas on Immigrants and being an AMERICAN in 1907.

"In the first place, we should insist that if the immigrant who comes here in good faith becomes an American and assimilates himself to us, he shall be treated on an exact equality with everyone else, for it is an outrage to discriminate against any such man because of creed, or birthplace, or origin. But this is predicated upon the person's becoming in every facet an American, and nothing but an American...There can be no divided allegiance here. Any man who says he is an American, but something else also, isn't an American at all. We have room for but one flag, the American flag... We have room for but one language here, and that is the English language... And we have room for but one sole loyalty and that is a loyalty to the American people."

himself. When flooding the Amateur radio groups with hundreds of daily nonsense posts, can you be at all surprised that more than a few of the other Usenet Hams become angry?
Mr. Morgan, of Chassell, Michigan, has single-handedly turned the radio newsgroups into cesspools while myopically claiming that he is the "victum" and is defending his non-existent "honor".
During Mr. Morgan's forced absence a few days ago while Tera News was down, the groups returned to their relatively normal, peaceful state. That alone is all the barometer one needs on this topic.

So from what I can gather, one of your enemies has driven you to resort more accurately driven him to beg the ownder of that furom to do so because he can't stand up to the sort of treament, in a milder form of a sort the forum as it had been runn was a useful diveration for his efforts, but it was a value only in that he was so married to using as a platfrom to solict violence and ahrrasment against me

(like publishing name and anddresses ofpeople he thinks are in my life

A moderated forum was created BECAUSE of Mark's abuse of these radio groups. It was nobody else's fault. Mark has the mistaken idea that HE is the de-facto moderator of this and other radio newsgroups and thus has carte blanche to flame, flood, and otherwise spam the groups with hundreds of inane posts per diem. Note that he refers to himself as the "ownder" of that "furom"...

None of Mark's flooding is anything near a "milder form", and it has yet to dawn on Mr Morgan that it was HE who initiated the flood of anger in the first place.

So there you have it. If Mark Morgan of Chassell, Michigan feels HE can do without it (the group) then he feels that the rest of US can do without it too, and the interloper has subsequently ruined this and other radio groups through his pure, unadulterated stupidity and crass selfishness.

2079. Finnish Ilmari balloon launch Aug 11th at 06 UTC

Hello,

This is an amateur balloon launch announcement that may interest North European amateur radio operators. The Finnish balloon project Ilmari will (finally) launch a balloon on August 11th, 2007, at approximately 06 UTC from Padasjoki (latitude N61° 21', longitude E025° 03', Maidenhead square KP21MI). That is today, within 5 hours or so of this posting, sorry for the late announcement. The flight is expected to last from 3 to 6 hours and touch down around 30 nm north-east from the launch site.

Ilmari is more than just a typical balloon, for example it carries a 23cm ATV transmitter and a 2m up/70cm down linear transponder (cw/ssb/digital), in addition to more typical 80m CW beacon and 70cm APRS transmitter. If Ilmari reaches its projected height of 25 kilometers, it should be workable from most parts of Finland, Sweden, Estonia, Latvia and north-west Russia. It maybe possible to receive Ilmari in northern parts of Lithuania and eastern parts of Norway. The balloon will use callsigns OH2SIX-11 and/or OH2SIX-12, they should be visible in the APRS-IS during the flight.

For more information and instructions on how and where (frequencies) to work Ilmari, have a look at http://www.kolumbus.fi/michael.fletcher/ilmari.htm and http://wiki.ham.fi/Ilmari-2007 for a kind of launch log.

Whatsoever you ask in My name, so shall it be granted.

Jesus of Bethlehem. Son of Joseph. Son of Mary.

"well nimbusters "Ham Baord" AKA woger flaming site has declared closed

an interesting turn of events a site where woger (http://www.qrz.com/detail/AB8MQ) has posting frely such vile filthabout me mostly and his other target (http://www.qrz.com/detail/N0VFP) and where Dloyd was found of hangingout and springing no blackmail schemes against me is now declared closed. there has been much whining about this on RRAP and a difeinate uptick in woger's insane posting but not to the degree one would expect, it is possible that vierting him to fight there and attacking with ToS on Google have cliped Woger wings at least for a while.

neither victory nor a defeat for me a defeat for those others around the feud trying to exploit it

Bwahahahahahah!

* PLEASE NOTE: The report "could" contain "Pirate/SLIM" operations or more likely a "BUSTED CALLSIGN". As always, you never know - "Work First Worry Later" (WFWL).

3C, EQUATORIAL GUINEA. Elmo, EA5BYP, announces that a DXpedition to the Republic of Equatorial Guinea (Bioko Island AF-010) will take place between October 5-14th. Operators will be Fred/KH7Y, Luis/EA5BRE, Vic/EA5YN and Elmo/EA5BYP. The team will operate with two stations and will sign 3C7Y for 10 days. Activity will be on all bands and modes SSB, CW and RTTY. QSL via EA5BYP.

4O & YT5, MONTENEGRO AND SERBIA. A team consisting of Pietro/I2MQP, Kan/JA1BK, Mike/K6MYC, Doug/N6TQS and Nikolai/UT5UT will be guest operators from stations in Montenegro and Serbia next month. They will first visit the QTH of Gojko/YU6AO in Montenegro between September 17-21st, and operate as 4O1AO and 4O1M. The group will then participate in the 2007 World HST Championship (Belgrade, Serbia), September 21-23rd. Their trip will end with a visit to Hrane's, YT1AD, station in Serbia and operate as YT5A until the 26th. Look for activity to be on all HF bands including 6 and 2 meters on CW, SSB, RTTY, PSK31, SSTV and EME.

5X, UGANDA. Nick, G3RWF, will be active as 5X1NH from November 21-30th. Activity will start from Kampala between November 21-26th. He also plans to be active in the CQ World Wide DX CW Contest (November 24-25th) as a Single-Op/Low-Power entry. Outside of the contest, Nick will try to be active on the low bands and the WARC bands, if conditions allow. Modes will be CW, SSB, RTTY and PSK. Nick plans a short safari to the Mountains of the Moon after the contest to Western Uganda and will do some "spare time" portable work. QSL via G3RWF. Nick is happy to try some skeds; E-mail address is: nick@henwood.demon.co.uk

6O, SOMALIA. You only have a few more days to work Filip, ON4TA, as 6O0F. He is expected to leave on August 15th. His activity is limited. Most of his operations is around 14240-14250 kHz usually between 1230-1600z. QSL via his home callsign, the bureau is preferred.

7O, YEMEN. Steve, 9M6DXX, reports (edited), "Chris Lorek, G4HCL, has authorized me to inform everyone that he plans to be active from Sana, Yemen, once again as 7O/G4HCL from Monday, August 13th until early on Wednesday, August 15th. Chris has written permission and official authority to operate on all HF amateur bands under supervised conditions, but warns that it may or may not be possible to obtain the specific documentation that satisfies DXCC requirements. WFWL! This is NOT A DXpedition but a business trip, and operation will therefore only be when possible and is only likely to be for short periods at a time. Chris will be using 1kW to a professional biconical monopole communications antenna. Activity will be SSB only, and probably only on 20m (look between 14170 and 14260 kHz). QSL information for this operation is direct only to G4HCL, PO Box 400, Eastleigh SO53 4ZF, UK. If Chris is able to get on the air for extended periods, this should certainly liven up the bands a little as a prelude to our 3B7C operation! 73..."

8P, BARBADOS. Richard, G3RWL, will be active as 8P6DR between September 27th and October 14th. He plans to be active in the CQ WW RTTY DX Contest (September 29-30th). QSL via G3RWL.

8S, SWEDEN (Special Event). The Jemtland Radio Amateurs (SK3JR) will be hosting the "2007 Scandinavian Young Ladies Radio Amateurs" (SYLRA 2007) meeting, in Ostersund, Sweden, from August 23-26th. YLs and OMs from Scandinavian countries and countries all over the world are invited to join SYLRA 2007. The special callsign for the meeting is 8S3SYL. On Friday, August 24th, there will be a special activity by YL operators from SI9AM with two stations active simultaneously. For more details on this event, please visit: http://www.sylra.se/_sgg/f10000.htm

9H20, MALTA (Special Callsign). Wim, PG9W/9H3ON, President of the Dutch Amateur Radio Society, informs OPDX that a new callsign, 9H20 (NINE HOTEL TWENTY) will be used by their Dutch group to commemorate the 20th year of being in MALTA (EU-023, JM75). The callsign 9H20, with no suffix, has been issued to their group as of August 10th through November 10th. However, the Dutch group will not be active until September 8-9th through October 1st. Activity will be on all bands 80-6 meters. The Dutch operators have also been issued individual 9H3 callsigns during that month. QSL the individual 9H3 callsigns via the info on QRZ.com. QSL Manager for 9H20 (NINE HOTEL TWENTY) is PB9ZR/9H3ZR: Ruben van der Zwet, Barentzstraat 1, 2161 TJ LISSE, The Netherlands. PLEASE NOTE: All QSL cards send directly and reaching them before the end of December 2007, will be answerd direct as well. After December, all QSL cards will go via the bureau. PLEASE NO IRCs!

AM/AN/AO, SPAIN (SPECIAL COMMEMORATIVE AREA CODES). The Spanish Ministry of Industry, Tourism and Commerce has published a Resolution of the General Subdivision of Planning and Management of the radioelectric phantom, by which it grants the use of the area codes (prefixes) AO, AN and AM respectively for EA, EB and EC stations between September 3rd and December 9th of 2007, in the occasion of 75th anniversary of the "Plenipotentiary Conference of the International Telegraphic Union".

C6, BAHAMAS. Operators Peter/W2GJ (C6APR), Ed/K3IXD (C6AXD) and Randy/K4QO (C6AQO) will be active from Crooked Island (NA-113, ARLHS BAH-005), Bahamas, between October 26-29th. Activity will be on 160-6 meters including the WARC bands, CW, SSB, and RTTY. The trio plans to be active as C6APR during the CQ World Wide DX SSB Contest (October 27-28th) as a Multi-Single entry. All QSLs go to K3IXD.

CN, MOROCCO. Operators Stefano/IK2QEI, Matteo/IK2SGC, Roberto/I2WIJ, Luca/IK2FFK and Spiros/SV8CS will be active as CN3A during the CQ World Wide DX SSB Contest (October 27-28th) as a Multi-2 entry. QSL via I2WIJ.

CN, MOROCCO. Jim, W7EJ, will be active as CN2R starting around October 19th and plans to be active in the CQ World Wide DX SSB Contest (October 27-28th) as a Single-Op/Single-Band (160m) entry. QSL via W7EJ. See the station from CN2R at: http://www.arraysolutions.com/Users/cn2r.htm

E7, BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA (New Prefix Change). The ARRL Letter reports: The ITU has granted a request from the Ministry of Communications and Transport of Bosnia and Herzegovina to replace T9A-T9Z with E7A-E7Z. According to IARU Secretary David Sumner, K1ZZ, "While it probably will take some time for the BiH administration to implement this change, it should put to an end the use of call signs outside the ITU-allocated call sign block by stations in parts of BiH." The new prefix will be implemented "probably later this year," Sumner said.

HI, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC. Ted, HI3TEJ, will be active as HI3T during the CQ WW RTTY DX Contest (September 29-30th) as a Single-Op/Low-Power entry. QSL via ON4IQ.

QSLS FOR 5X4A AND 5X4B. Tom, DL8AAM (5Z4GD, ex OP 5Z4FU/A, 5X/DL8AAM etc.), informs OPDX that a great part of the original logs were lost in the "civil war" in Northern Uganda. The QTH of 5X4A and 5X4B was in Kitgum/Gulu, in Northern Uganda, near the Sudanese border. During the time of their activity and to date, this region has suffered from a cruel civil war between the central government and the LRA (Lord's Resistance Army). Tom mentions that he has a great box of "unanswered QSLs". He hopes that maybe later he will be able to return to the sites, and possibly find and collect the "lost" logbooks.

It went quite nicely, upto about 31 km in height and even the payload was retrieved successfully 8 minutes after touchdown. The biggest problem were people who used way too much power to access the transponder, you could've worked it with less than one watt and 1/4 2m vertical just fine. There's some pictures and text available about this flight in English at http://wiki.ham.fi/Ilmari-2007a and http://ham.zmailer.org/oh2mqk/ilmari/2007a/

A greater part of the equation by far than Lloyd, is Mark who, between himself and Roger posted over 5,000 comments in just two weeks. The good part is that it keeps Morkie and Roger occupied elsewhere besides RRAP.

I listen to the Bible Beaters on rare occasion and really love it when EBM gets so wound up that he blubbers and cries. What a whacko.

In fact, convicted sex offender Marqueer C. Morgan KB9RQZ does employ ham radio frequencies to lure underaged boys to his filthy traielr so he can molest them. Marqueer lives at

17366 River Rd. Chassell, MI 49916

Why do you insist to continue to post to groups that have nothing to do with your twisted minds or really care about continued trashing of each other.
For someone claiming to have a IQ<--248 your claim of not knowing how to use a spellchecker is amazing as you try very hard to misspell words!!

Don't try to analyze Mork's behavior. He has no explaination or viable reasons for his actions, except what he makes up in that empty void between his ears. Apparently, Mork thinks it is perfectly ok to disrupt the NGs with his flooding and violate everybody else's right to use the group as intended.

Warning: Mark C. Morgan, kb9rqz, is a general nuisance and NG flooder.
Please make it a point not to work this creep on the air. He is a poor Upgrades have NOT included a renewal for a very long time now. The only thing that resets the renewal date is if a person gets a vanity call sign.

Could we get that in English please.

Warning: Mark C. Morgan, kb9rqz, is a general nuisance and amateur NG flooder. All amateurs should make it a point not to work this creep on the air.
He is a poor example of a ham and is not worthy of a contact with any real hams.

: Given other ways in which I have seen people exploit some of The Internet's
: capabilities to disrupt or indulge in sophistry, or to exploit a medium
: that resembles speech without the non-verbal and intonation cues, etc
: as a means of denigrating others, I question your use, albeit in quotes, : of the word "remote". I'm not saying it isn't remote and therefore it is : great, I'm just saying that I don't think we can easily classify it as : remote, moderate, or great.

I think you can build up quite a good picture based on what someone says and on their posting patterns. I don't think "The Internet" (capitals, no less) is as opaque a medium as you make it out to be.

: It is not easy to determine the validity of all information on The : Internet without making use of extra supplementary information.

: We do have the problem, pointed out by someone else, of the possibly
: "too perfect" textbook characteristics of what is being posted.

I explained that one, but I don't mind explaining it again (you don't mind having it explained again to you, do you now?). The reason my "symptoms" are such a perfect fit to the textbook is because the people causing the campaign "fitted me up" in such a way that what they did would resemble the symptoms of schizophrenia. Hence TV, radio, other media, people in the streets etc. By a fortunate coincidence (for them) these mthods of harassment are the ones which offer easiest channels of access (for them).

It's really quite neat. All it takes is for people to start believing that the "symptoms" aren't symptoms but reality, though, and the house of cards collapses in a heap. And there are _lots_ of people now who knoiw full well what has gone on.

: If harrassment by email, etc, has happened by someone out of the country,
: can a complaint be made that results in arrest or whatever upon that : person's entry into the country? An interesting point which Mike may be : able to inform us about, as he's said he will be in the UK in a few weeks
: time.

Picture the scene at the airport;
"I arrest you for being Mike Corley and mailbombing people"

"But my name isn't Corley. Who he? Mailbombing isn't illegal is it? You'd have to lock up a lot of people if sending annoying email was a crime"

"Er....."

: context-free parts of articles, conversations and things-on-the-TV and
: assume they are meant for you. Mike, this is called paranoia.

But that's the way real abuse works, too. People interject words and phrases into what they say which they know will have meaning for the listener.

And sometimes, they make it obvious. The very first evening of my job in Oxford, we went for a drink with the technical director, and a couple of other employees. The TD said in an "as-if" aside to one of the others,
"Is this the bloke who's been on TV?" (he said it directly in front of me, and obviously meant mke to hear him saying it). The other person replied, "Yes, I think so".

I think the subtext of what the TD said was "Why are they bothering with him? He's so insignificant, why would they possibly want to spend the resources going after him and putting all that expensive technology in his home, when there must be much better targets?". The Technical Director was given to sometimes disrespecting people, you see, and in my case he couldn't see the point of anyone expending money on harassing me.

"Unprecedented" hits the nail on the head. It _is_ unprecedented, but we have only just reached the technical stage at which it is feasible, and we know video-spying is done to other people (NB the Diana-Hewitt episode) and is a routine tool of security agencies.

Perhaps what is unprecedented is not the technical side, but the social manipulation of many people by a concealed element in what other countries would be called the secret police. The most disturbing element is the degree to which people allow themselves to be unquestioningly manipulated by an evil element within the state.

DXCC NEWS (Placing DXCC Plaque Orders). Bill Moore, NC1L, ARRL DXCC Manager, states: "Just a reminder to those who achieve a level in DXCC and you wish to order a wall plaque that you do not have to wait to be listed in order to place your order. When submitting an application if you are sure you will achieve a level for which there is a plaque, you can place your order at the time of your application. (Years ago there was a requirement that you had to be listed before a plaque could be purchased, this is no longer the case). If you've already made a submission and felt you needed to wait for your achievement to be posted before placing your order, you can contact DXCC and we can add your order to your current submission. Send an E-mail to dxcc@arrl.org or call (860)594-0234 or fax to (860)594-0346. Plaque order turnaround can take anywhere from 6-8 weeks, so if you plan to order a plaque for yourself, or, as a gift for a friend or Elmer, please get your order in early. The order form, along with current pricing, is located on the DXCC Web site at:

: great, I'm just saying that I don't think we can easily classify it as
: remote, moderate, or great.

I think you can build up quite a good picture based on what someone says
and on their posting patterns. I don't think "The Internet" (capitals, no

: It is not easy to determine the validity of all information on The : Internet without making use of extra supplementary information.

: We do have the problem, pointed out by someone else, of the possibly

mind having it explained again to you, do you now?). The reason my "symptoms" are such a perfect fit to the textbook is because the people causing the campaign "fitted me up" in such a way that what they did would resemble the symptoms of schizophrenia. Hence TV, radio, other media, people in the streets etc. By a fortunate coincidence (for them) these mthods of harassment are the ones which offer easiest channels of access (for them).

It's really quite neat. All it takes is for people to start believing that the "symptoms" aren't symptoms but reality, though, and the house of cards collapses in a heap. And there are _lots_ of people now who knoiw full well what has gone on.

: If harrassment by email, etc, has happened by someone out of the country,

Picture the scene at the airport;
"I arrest you for being Mike Corley and mailbombing people"

"But my name isn't Corley. Who he? Mailbombing isn't illegal is it? You'd have to lock up a lot of people if sending annoying email was a crime"

"Er....."

: context-free parts of articles, conversations and things-on-the-TV and
: assume they are meant for you. Mike, this is called paranoia.

But that's the way real abuse works, too. People interject words and phrases into what they say which they know will have meaning for the listener.

And sometimes, they make it obvious. The very first evening of my job in Oxford, we went for a drink with the technical director, and a couple of other employees. The TD said in an "as-if" aside to one of the others,
"Is this the bloke who's been on TV?" (he said it directly in front of me, and obviously meant mke to hear him saying it). The other person replied, "Yes, I think so".

I think the subtext of what the TD said was "Why are they bothering with him? He's so insignificant, why would they possibly want to spend the resources going after him and putting all that expensive technology in his home, when there must be much better targets?". The Technical Director was given to sometimes disrespecting people, you see, and in my case he couldn't see the point of anyone expending money on harassing me.

"Unprecedented" hits the nail on the head. It _is_ unprecedented, but we have only just reached the technical stage at which it is feasible, and we know video-spying is done to other people (NB the Diana-Hewitt episode) and is a routine tool of security agencies.

Perhaps what is unprecedented is not the technical side, but the social manipulation of many people by a concealed element in what other countries would be called the secret police. The most disturbing element is the degree to which people allow themselves to be unquestioningly manipulated by an evil element within the state.

It is in the same style as his other pieces, but it's so close to what actually happened a few days previously, that it's completely reasonable to assume that someone told Levin about the meeting, hammed it up a little bit and motivated him to write that article.

Look at the parallels;

1. "madman running loose about London"

2. it's about a meeting which took place recently

3. the police are called (he must be controlled, however much that consumes in resources)

4. he might be violent, approach with caution, yes we're laughing but really we're afraid of him, or is it perhaps our own propaganda that we're letting manipulate us

5. he "bursts into tears, and swears it's all true - and it is" a very exaggerated impression of the conclusion of that meeting

Don't worry if you don't believe me, neither my friend to whom I explained this nor my GP believe me either (until the friend found out otherwise!). If someone just presented this to you as I am presenting it now then I wouldn't find it credible (most likely), so it's not until you actually find out it's true that you can find it credible. And by then it's too late, because they've got you in their trap and explained how "funny" the abuse is.

Given that Mr Corley clearly holds a certain fascination for some people, and that his website, although "informative", isn't exactly ideal for encouraging discussion of the sort that we all enjoy so much (including Mike himself, by the look of things), would anyone be up for a Mike Corley newsgroup - uk.fan.mike-corley, alt.fan.mike-corley, whatever?
(Sorry, I'm not very well up on these things.)

This would be a perfect place for Mike to post his writings, and perhaps the occasional "look at the ...mike-corley newsgroup" posting in uk.misc and so on would be accepted in place of the current cross-posts.

When I'm told by someone who really does know such things that there was never any plot to get Mike then I trust that person sufficiently enough to accept his word.

The problem is Mike has escalated matters to an extreme level and like many silly billys he will find it impossible to give up all his self created crap and to live a normal life. After all what can Mike do now this crap has been exposed as untrue ? What new cause can Mike dedicate himself to ? (Some might read that as: who else can Mike now start upsetting ?)

So Mike write to John Major, c/o the Private Secretary, 10 Downing Street, London SW1A 2AA and ask the Prime Minister to help you. I'd normally disclose his fax numbers but if I did that you might jam up the lines with abusive postings just like you do here on Usenet.

Is anyone interested in joining with me to do a mass e-mailing of protests to Anon Penet and to Toronto Free Net in an attempt to flood their computer systems thus forcing them to seriously consider pulling the plug on Mike ? I'm not sure but is my proposal called a "flame" ?

Perhaps we should give Mike 7 days from today (6 July 96) to come to his senses and they start a massive multiple E-mailing campaign to Toronto Free Net. If all us victims send multiple copies of E-mails to the right addresses in Toronto then perhaps the Canadians will begin to get the appropriate message.

Copy e-mailed to Mike, just so he knows what is coming if he persists.

I see. So they're not wasting six years of manpower to persecute you. They're wasting six years of manpower to prove I'm _not_ being persecuted.

I wish I was clever enough to think of something like that. I really, really do.

Come on "Big Ears", why don't you admit that you made this posting? This is exactly the same line you were feeding me a few months ago. The posts are from the same news server, it's even the same newsreading software (Forte Agent .99e/16.227).

I'm afraid that if you friend "in the know" denied the existence of a plot then he was being, as they say, economical with the truth. Judging by the extreme reaction in London in May, and the panic you're showing now, as well as the replay post yesterday, I would say that things are hotting up again. But for you this time, not for me. I am out of harm's way, and there is very little you can do as long as I stay out of the UK.

2184. ARS numbers change

Any one want to add a guess on the change in ARS numbers due to dropping the code?

1) Predict amount of change in ARS numbers between the IMPLEMENTATION date of the R&O for elimination of code testing and one year from that date.
2) Calculation of the number of licenses will be done by N2EY under the same principals that he uses now to calculate the number of licenses.
3) You must select whole numbers for your percentage.
4) You may select positive or negative percentages.
5) You may select a range but that range may not exceed a total of 4%. Note that your average will be used to determine who is closest. If the actual change is outside the range of everyone's guesses then the person whose limit is closest will be the winner.
6) You must submit your guess no later than six months after the IMPLEMENTATION date of the R&O.

Anyone else? Note if your guess doesn't show up on the list within a week, it may mean that my ISP is blocking it or that you are on my blocked senders list. You may still participate but you will have to have your guess submitted by someone who is not blocked.

Guesses submitted:

N8UZE: 1% less to 1% more N2EY: 1% more to 2% more KH6HZ: 1% less to 0% change
N3KIP: 2% more to 6% more KH6O: 6% more to 10% more KK6J: 12% more to 14% more KC2HMZ: 5% more
K8BSG: 2% to 3% more <--- Added 02/18/06

Because he has made himself into a martyr and now he finds it impossible to back down. Mike's big secret has now been exposed. He made everything up.

Every time Mike makes allegations against the police, MI5, Tom-Dick-and-Harry etc. those organisations have taken people off vitally important work to ascertain whether or not there was any substance in Mike's ranting allegations.

When I'm told by someone who really does know such things that there was never any plot to get Mike then I trust that person sufficiently enough to accept his word.

The problem is Mike has escalated matters to an extreme level and like many silly billys he will find it impossible to give up all his self created crap and to live a normal life. After all what can Mike do now this crap has been exposed as untrue ? What new cause can Mike dedicate himself to ? (Some might read that as: who else can Mike now start upsetting ?)

So Mike write to John Major, c/o the Private Secretary, 10 Downing Street, London SW1A 2AA and ask the Prime Minister to help you. I'd normally disclose his fax numbers but if I did that you might jam up the lines with abusive postings just like you do here on Usenet.

Is anyone interested in joining with me to do a mass e-mailing of protests to Anon Penet and to Toronto Free Net in an attempt to flood their computer systems thus forcing them to seriously consider pulling the plug on Mike ? I'm not sure but is my proposal called a "flame" ?

Wasn't it documented that MI5 sometimes "bought" journalists and broadcasters?
I remember reading a report by some jouralist who had been offered an extra tax-free income by MI5 to become their covert mouthpiece, and had refused.

Bet you lots of others didn't refuse. Why do you think MI5 have such easy access to the BBC and media? Because they're directly paying them off, that's why.

It has been reported several times. The most recent was in Private Eye, a few months back. As I recall they also wanted information from him; journalists would be a natural choice for members of the Security Service and the Secret Intelligence Service for information sources.

He was most concerned that many others would have accepted such an offer. However, we can probably make an educated guess as to some of those who accepted: Nigel West (Rupert Allason, MP) and Chapman Pincher would come near to the top of the list.

This is true. I frequently employ private detectives to spy on people (there's a good reason for this and I'll tell you if you guess correctly) and one such detective showed me the latest technology only last week. A small rucksack. One strap of the rucksack has a tiny hole in it that you wouldn't notice unless someone pointed to it. That's the camera: the wires lead into the rucksack itself where there is a video tape recorder little bigger than a Walkman. I don't know if that's what Roger Cook uses but it certainly explains why it is that the subject can look straight into the lens and not realise (s)he's being filmed. Now, I say "latest technology" and I think that's the technology that the police use as well as the retired police who become private detectives, but no doubt the security services have far more sophisticated equipment.

: What about the following scenario? MI5 conducts "experiments" including

: project" underway to see just how invasive a surveillance of an

: training of novice personnel. Either way, there is a sizeable risk of My argument is that the fact that it's so totally crazy is what makes it so

: attention in a "let's follow the life of one person from life to : death" study - that while I was out or in bed there were programmes on
: the television about my life so far, etc. It makes for a good fiction,

Perhaps MI5 have become victims of their own paranoia. Their agency has been thought of as acting disreputably, so when their decision arrives, they don't think twice about breaking the law. Whereas say CSIS (the Canadian equivalent) is at pains to point out how it would never ever do anything in contravention of the law, and how it is strictly controlled in what it does and how it does it.

If this matter does ever make it into the public gaze, then it won't just be a few individuals in the media or security service who'll get hit. The UK is supposed to be a civilized democratic country (East Germany called themselves a democracy and they had the Stasi, but anyway). In a civilized country these things shouldn't be happening - and it is ultimately Parliament and the government who are answerable for not imposing sufficient restraints and accountability on those who are supposed to be ensuring security for citizens, not jeopardising it.

I don't have florid symptoms. But I'm in a difficult situation, because those people who don't know, aren't going to believe, and those who do, they just go along with the crowd. It's never a good idea to go against the grain, and the grain here is defined by interests in the establishment and the media. Even people who could say out loud what was happening won't, because then there's a risk that they'll be seen as traitors and ostracised.

Usually this type of 'hidden abuse' is racial and targetted at a racial minority within a country. You keep the minorities out of the good jobs, but you don't admit discrimination exists. It happens everywhere, not just in Britain. The persecution that is going on now is in reality a refined form of racism. Instead of "nigger" it's "nutter", and abusing the mentally ill is still socially acceptable today. In 50 years it might not be, but today there isn't any social or legal sanction against it.

So really they've refined racial harassment down to a minority of one. The words may be different, but the methods are the same.

Well, the "legal option" has just foundered on the rock of lawyers refusing to deal with me on the grounds that my perception of harassment must be due to the disease.

So we're back to square one again, the same place we were two years ago.

Now perhaps one of our uk.legal participants can clarify this point. To me it seems illogical that lawyers should have the final say on whether you are allowed to proceed with a civil case or not. Is there a default mechanism or agency for cases such as mine where it is difficult to find a solicitor to represent you? What exactly is the "official Solicitor"? What is it possible to do if you can't find a lawyer to represent you?

A chance to get a useful response out of the uk newsgroups! perhaps they can be good for something else besides spamming.

What can I do to get competent legal help though? If the case is on the face of it so bizarre that no solicitor would represent me or talk to me, then surely there must be a default mechanism? What is the "official Solicitor" that's been mentioned?

All you need do is go to a good library & read up about it - that's what the McLibel 2 did.

Organization: Toronto Free-Net
Summary:

Last night (21/Feb/97), I was listening to BBC GLR. You have to understand that I was listening by stealth. Back in 1990 I used to have Capital blaring out of the speakers all over the garden ("if he listens to Capital then he can't be all bad", thanks ever so much). But now I listen on my walkman on headphones with the volume turned right down. It could not possibly be overheard by any listening device, no matter how sensitive, because sound does not carry from the headphones.

Yet somehow they are still able to tell which station I am listening to on the walkman. And last night, I bravely tuned to GLR 94.9FM at around 8.45pm. Everything went well for the first half hour or so. The DJ (today GLR told me it was David Hepworth) had a "rock star spelling competition" (how do you spell Shakespear's Sister?), no trouble there. I was recording the show onto tape just in case anything unpleasant happened, as I had reason to think it might.

Around 9.10pm, it did. Here, precisely, is what Hepworth said after the song "Come Around" by the Muttonbirds (I have this on tape, and at some point will be posting the audio on my website);

"New album's called 'Envy of Angels', that comes out soon, that's the single that's already out, I would imagine, that's 'Come Around', the Muttonbirds, er, coming up after this, we got the rock-and-roll A-level, we have, I assume, Brian do we have an embarrassment of prizes in there, we do, don't we, (EMPHASIS) absolute obscene (END-EMPHASIS) amounts of prizes, there will no doubt be a riot at the back door", and that's, er, A-level coming up after this"

The key phrases in what he said are, "EMBARRASSMENT of prizes", and what he himself emphasized verbally, "ABSOLUTE OBSCENE amount of prizes". It is my belief (based on content and tone of voice) that when he spoke these phrases he knew I was listening, and that the phrases refer directly to my situation. The "EMBARRASSMENT" is the embarrassment he and other media people would feel at having their wrongdoing exposed; the "ABSOLUTE OBSCENE" (which he verbally emphasized) described the disgusting sexual abuse which the harassers have been throwing at me.

Needless to say, I can't prove this is what he meant, although this has happened enough times that it's hard not to recognise it when you see it. But I shall be sending him a copy of this explanation. We'll see what he has to say for himself.

I will try to explain with greater clarity.

I am prone to have ideas of "interactive watching" by people on TV, and "interactive listening" by people on the radio; which means as I listen to their programme, they are aware that I am listening (because my home is spied on, and those doing the spying phone up the radio station and tell them that I am listening to them), and they then interject nasty remarks in what they say.
This is what I believe may have happened on Friday night with GLR, and what I was trying to explain in my article.

It's happened before with other radio stations, most worryingly when I am listening quietly on my walkman as happened on Friday. This time, the interjected words were "embarrassment" and "absolute obscene". The "absolute obscene" referred to the abuse which is currently being directed at me.

I hope that's a little clearer.

Summary:

A couple of weeks ago I issued a summons against the BBC in my local county court, for the tort of private nuisance caused by the spying by their newsreaders on my home. My argument was that their spying had prevented me watching the news at home, and therefore interfered with my normal use of my home.

The BBC's Litigation Dept at White City have replied not with a defence, but with an application for my claim to be struck out because;

(a) it discloses no reasonable cause of action; and/or
(b) it is scandalous, frivolous or vexatious.

Their application will be heard next week. They have not made any affidavit in support of their application, nor have they given particulars as to why they consider my summons to be unarguable in law, which would be a necessary condition for there to be no reasonable cause of action.

I am more worried about point (b). Allegations are scandalous (says Stuart Sime's book) if they impute dishonesty against another party; which my allegations do, against the BBC's newsreaders. As for frivolous or vexatious, I think that will be up to me to make a good argument for the effect the BBC's spying has had on my life, and up to the district judge's opinion of my case.

Apparently seeking to have a claim struck out in this way is common practice when the plaintiff is a litigant-in-person. Even if it is struck out, there is always the opportunity to appeal. I think we could be in for a fight next week.

Congratulations. This is my first real flame for about a year.

I try to control my anger when I come across another uninformed naive idiot on usenet, but sometimes it goes free. We've had Corley for well over three years now, and his constant spams of various degrees have killed a couple of usenet groups I really rather lied. uk.media, to name but one. I gets my goat to read another useless fucker thinking he is a harmless eccentric.

Mike is mentally ill. He is unwilling to deal with it. He seems to think that uk.misc is some sort of forum that MI5 reads. And it should be avenged. He's mailbombed a large quantity of people, because they opposed his spamming.

1. He thinks MI5 watches him through his television
2. He thinks all references to mad people, refer to him
3. He thinks all people shouting, are shouting at him.
4. He's been diagnosed as mentally ill, just not a paranoid schizophrenic.
5. He gives not a shit about any newsgroups he abuses.
6. He goes through quiet periods, then _very_ nasty periods.
7. All evidence of this great conspiracy is laughable, to say the least.
8. He gives internet/usenet a bad name to the media. Including mailbombing Chris Tarrant and faxing various celebrities.

I do not condescend to him. I actually know what he does, and has done in the past, and am frankly not too respectful of him. He can be openly referred to as "mad" because he is. Let's check my mailbox saves:

He hadn't seen the light at all. His level of spamming had got to such outrageous proportions that we had to mount a concerted attempt to get his account(s) closed. The reason for the lack of spam lately is that Mike has been furiously swotting up on Law so he can bring an action as a LIP against the BBC (all solicitors having quite rightly and honourably declined to act for him). When this course of action is exhausted without result, I confidently predict that we will once again be the innocent victims of his ire and the spamming will commence again.

Something mildly unusual is happening. Nobody has been getting at me for the last couple of weeks. Best of all, about three weeks ago I bought a video recorder to try to get some evidence from the News etc, and despite having watched Martyn Lewis, Michael Buerk and the whole lot of them, not one of them has said anything to me in the last three weeks. And I have been listening to and recording Capital, with no ill effect. All in all, I am being comprehensively ignored.

Of course, I should have video-taped the news programmes back in 1990/91/92 (and even 93) when it was still all going on. Anthony Johnsson (casually name-drop to stick the knife in) will tell you how intelligent a person I am, yet I didn't have the good sense to record the programmes at the time, and it's a bit late now.

Today another avenue of exploration closed when my second summons against the BBC was struck out (basically through lack of evidence), and an order was made by the district judge saying that I could not sue John Birt again without the express permission of the court. She explained that this was for my own good, to save me the summons fees. Costs were not awarded though (the BBC didn't even really seek costs), and I am free to sue anyone else I take a shine to.

Well, that didn't last very long, did it?

Capital Radio this evening approx 8.35pm, Neil Long's programme a few moments after I switched to it (I am listening to it as I type this). The following spouted from his mouth;

"want to see Jacko in town? what a gig it's going to be, that guy is amazing, and PSYCHOTIC, but amazing on stage, 0171-4200958, on stage he's a MADMAN but he's wonderful"

God, I am so tired of this. It's been going on for seven years. When's it going to stop?

I have the above extract on tape. When I get around to it I will post it, and the Hepworth snippet, as audio files on the website. Of course, all the doubting Thomases and Smids can carry on doubting, because the mere fact that moments after switching on the DJ starts talking about "psychotic", that's not proof is it?

I wrote an aggrieved letter to Chris Tarrant at Capital and sent it off today, copied to Richard Park, Group Director of Programmes. I suppose they'll just lie as usual. Bastards, basically.
The solution is surely to not have a TV, video, radio or telephone in the house, Mike. That way they can't be used to watch you.

No. I tried that strategy in 1990/91 when I sold my television and stopped listening to the radio. It didn't work because they got at me through co-workers and eventually the general public.

The solution is to gather evidence by recording everything, and then complain or sue if possible. I wish I'd recorded it all five or six years ago, then I might be more successful in a legal action now.

Did anyone else watch the X-Files on Sky last night (Sunday 13th April) and recognise Mike's symptons in the chap with the tattoo? It was quite interesting to see someone responding in precisely the same way, picking up themselves as though they were intended.

Not a pleasant ending though. You take care, Mike, and keep taking the medication. uk.misc just wouldn't be the same without you now.

No, it isn't, but you knew that anyway.

Mike, how is it that you think that this can't be a coincidence because it happened 'moments' after you switched on the radio? Haven't you just told us that you haven't heard a thing for two weeks? Going two weeks watching TV & listening to the radio without a reference to 'mad', 'crazy' or 'loony' is quite an acheivement, especially given the trashy radio you seem to prefer.

I've just spent a lot of the weekend trying to keep a manic depressive under control, so that she doesn't have to go back into hospital and lose the last few months' memories to ECT. One thing I've noticed is that manic depressives almost seek to foster their fantasies, they enjoy the control and the high. You seem to be the same - you refuse to answer the points put to you that explain away what you call persecution totally - do you have the courage of your convictions to reply to this?
Or do you enjoy the attention your illness brings you?

Do please tell the truth. It has been longer than 2 weeks as I'm sure

Well I claim responsibility for the absence of persecution. When I rang John Major's personal private secretary, not the personal political one or any of the others in the same office, and I said you would vote for the Conservative Party at the General Election the secretary said Johnny would be so happy and as a sign of gratitude he rang-up the Head of MI5 and told them to save money for tax cuts by abandoning forthwith their campaign against you. Consequently MI5 and MI6 have been able to redeploy urgently needed resources (i.e. manpower and telecoms interceptions) against an international band of (censored**).

On behalf of the law-abiding and decent citizens in the British islands, I would like to sincerely thank you for your invaluable contribution to crime fighting by your instrumental achievement in releasing badly needed and very scarce MI5 and MI6 resources.

Many thanks,

Please don't forget it is National Election time and the news broadcasts

Perhaps it is for the best. Now that it is all over, you can return to Canada. Did you manage to get your Canadian citizenship ? What did your contracts at MI5 say about you becoming Canadian ? You never did mention the name of your MI5 liaison officer nor of any of the others.

That's true. But as it is now all over there is no need to worry about the past. MI5 said your file has been removed from the Registry and put in a burn-bag so there is nothing left for anyone ever to find.

By the way, what was the URL of your famous Corley web site ?

I have to admit that it is actually mildly amusing to have newsreaders watching you, although it is tiresome after a bit. I am currently in an interesting situation, because after my lawsuits against them I think the BBC newscasters have stopped watching me entirely; I also think that ITN, in particular John Suchet, are still watching but they're being subtle about it (his blink pattern followed mine).

Being called nasty words is quite horrible though, and seems gratuitous; what do they gain by it, except to exercise their sadism?

You better believe it. Tuesday's episode had one of its characters being labelled as a "lunatic" with "something wrong with them". I changed channels rapidly at this point, but in retrospect perhaps I should have carried on watching and taped the program.

A few days ago I bought a video recorder (about time too) for evidence gathering purposes. But strangely the TV news (both BBC and ITN) haven't uttered a sound over the last few days. Almost as if they know they're being taped...

And?

There are many characters in TV programmes who _are_ lunatics with 'something wrong with them'. Why do you think this alludes to you?

In the eponymous book, Cervantes' Don Quixote is described as 'crazy'
'mad' and 'lunatic'. Do you think this is a reference to yourself, albeit written by a time-travelling 17th century Spaniard?

If you accept that the character of Don Quixote can be described thus without it being a reference to you, what problem do you have with Peak Practice? Or do you enjoy tilting at your own little windmills?

A friend's lodger has turned out to be paranoid schizophrenic. Her obsessions are strikingly similar to yours, she is convinced that she is being bugged, and that students at her college are making fun of her for being foreign. She has been looking for the services of a private detective. Maybe Oxford has this unfortunate effect on foreigners?

I must say that I'm surviving rather well, or that's what the man under the stairs told me yesterday.

Victor Lewis-Smith has broken the silence in his TV review column "Goon and best forgotten" in the Evening Standard (on Thursday 8/May). He said, "If I sound paranoid, that's probably because I once worked there. Eventually, I had to leave because they were all trying to kill me but, for sheer pathological hatred of the Corporation, I couldn't hold a candle to Spike Milligan".

I take this to be about me, because recently I wrote to both the BBC and Capital Radio, saying "I believe the current purpose of the harassment is to force me to kill myself to prevent the harassers, yourselves included, from being brought to justice, and last year there were several incidents of people shouting 'suicide' at me, which would appear to corroborate that view." I think VLS's words about the BBC "all trying to kill me" shows he has seen or heard of what I sent to the BBC or Capital.

Nasty eh? I believe that VLS or his mates read this newsgroup. I wonder how he would explain his article?

Erm, Mike, I'm a bit of a fan of Victor Lewis-Smith, ever since his days of "BuyGones". I must admit, he often likes to play the flawed lunatic evil nasty person. He's been doing it for years, with prank calls, far before your illness. Its his act. He wouldn't be VLS without it.

He doesn't like the "Goons" either. It isn't about you.

I don't think Victor Lewis-Smith has worked for the BBC (or Capital) for here.

Not much changes. Today I was listening again to David Hepworth's show on GLR, having more or less waded in on it by accident. Here is the exchange;

David: "we have executive drivetime, we have Brian in charge of the prize cupboard. Brian it's not a bad prize cupboard this week is it?"

Brian: "no David it's an absolute (EMPHASIS) embarrassment (END-EMPHASIS) of prizes this evening" (laughter)

David: "what have we got?"

Brian: "well in my left hand alone we've got that .... Gary Clale, I don't know if you remember him obviously still alive and kicking...."

David: "Rock and roll spelling test is your first opportunity to take advantage of this embarrassment of prizes"

What do I read into this exchange? The laughter after the word "embarrassment" shows they're aware of the last complaint I made on usenet (copied by snail-mail to them). The "left hand" business is I think a coded way of calling me a wer (the term would be better applied to Brian and David).

I have a tape of this exchange, and will eventually get around to posting it on the website.

Overview

What all these snatches of video and audio, and newspaper articles, have in common is that none of them provide conclusive or very convincing evidence of their being directed against me, or forming part of a campaign against me. Other people with my illness doubtless could produce similar non-proof if they were minded to do so.

Good, now we've got the disclaimer out of the way, we can describe precisely what it is that is on display in this part of the site. In the video section, we have Quicktime (MPEG-4) clips of Jon Snow of ITN in action, also interviews with Ken Clarke and John Major of the ousted Tory regime. These are embedded in the page using QuickTime. While each audio/video clip is coded to automatically download the QuickTime player, you may find it helpful to download QuickTime from Apple's website before you start viewing the media files.

Note that each item is awarded a rating of the confidence I feel that it is directed at me, expressed as a percentage. Items with 50% or more are probably about me; 100% indicates a "dead cert".

In audio we have MP3 files of harassment at work in Canada in late 1996, also GLR's David Hepworth not even trying to pretend that he isn't getting at me, and a snippet of Capital. There is also an album track which I have taken as being about me. The newspapers section contains articles by Bernard Levin on his encounter with a madman who "bursts into tears, and swears it is all true - and it is". Also a Private Eye cover, and snippet from Victor Lewis-Smith.

I have added several recordings of abuse "in public". By Sept/1998 I had seven minidiscs of such recordings, unfortunately containing mostly very nasty sexual slanders which I will not be publishing on this website. The recordings were made on a Sony Minidisc Walkman MZ-R30, which I purchased in Canada in July/1997, with ECM-T140 microphone. After both the MZ-R30 and the microphone reached the end of their lives, in June/2001 I purchased as replacement my current recording gear, an MZ-R900 walkman with ECM-T145 microphone.

Share and Enjoy! I hope you enjoy partaking in my delusions which have been recorded with high fidelity digital equipment and presented for your listening pleasure.

Ken Clarke (1), April 1997

Certainty level: 30%

The first of two video segments from the same program, this shows Jon Snow interviewing Ken Clarke in April 1997, during the general election campaign. The following exchange is heard;

Jon Snow: "You say we are booming in your posters, the bust's around the corner"

Ken Clarke: "You took that from three years ago, when I was being advised to do all kinds of mad things to stimulate the economy, and being told that I had to take desperate measures to get it going"

At this time I was watching television almost continuously at home, with a video recorder whirring away, trying to obtain from the newscasters a reaction which would give them away. I think this is an instance where it happened. Ken Clarke first darts a glance straight at the video camera (and perhaps at a monitor next to it showing my living room), then comes out with "all kinds of mad things", while engaging in a facial display involving raising of eyebrows and lowering of eyelids.
To me at the time, and also now, it looked as if he was selecting a context into which he could drop the word "mad" as a directed insult against me.

Ken Clarke (2), April 1997

Certainty level: 30%

The second of two video segments from the same programme, this shows Ken Clarke during the election campaign. He makes the following statement;

"we have a party, and we have a Cabinet which has produced a manifesto consistent with our policy of the last five years; people are challenging us on the basis there's been some monstrous conspiracy between all the politicians to guide us we know not where, we know where we're going, we wish to be a leading influence in the European Union"

It should be fairly obvious what I read into in the above sentences.
The "monstrous conspiracy between all the politicians" could of course apply to the public perception of closer European integration, but I took it as referring to the conspiracy of politicians and media people against me. Again, facial expression comes into it; as Clarke speaks of the "monstrous conspiracy" his eyebrows twitch and it is clear that something or somebody is being made fun of.

Dimbleby / John Major, April 1997

Certainty level: 90%

Dimbleby interviews John Major during the election campaign. Here is the exchange, regarding Neil Hamilton, the "sleazy" Tory candidate;

Dimbleby: "It's a direct quotation from what he said to Sir Gordon Downey and what he said to his local newspaper, the Knutsford Guardian".
Major: "Well, heaven forfend that I should doubt what the Knutsford Guardian actually said"
Dimbleby: "Well I should hope so" Major: "Absolutely, it would be quite unforgivable to doubt the Knutsford Guardian"

What I find in this segment is an assonance between "Knutsford" and "Nut" or "Nuts". I think Dimbleby deliberately invents the play on words, and says it clearly enough for Major to pick it up and repeat it.
You can gauge Dimbleby's intent from his facial expression of false honesty when he uses the words "Knutsford Guardian"; and Major's reaction follows from his recognition of Dimbleby's intent; Major smiles and says it would be "unforgivable to doubt the Knutsford Guardian".
These are much clearer on the original video than on this Quicktime clip.

Channel Four TV News - 12/Feb/1999

Certainty level: 100%

I am positively, utterly, completely sure this item is about me. It's a bit subtle so the objective reader might not understand my certainty. Here is what happened. I was watching Channel Four News with Jon Snow, on the day Clinton "got off" (as it were) in the Monica-gate scandal. Snow said;

"[and we're anticipating that the President himself will make his] first comments after the trial in which he has now been cleared at around half-past seven. So we'll have more on the historic judgment, we'll also be considering [starts smiling] the winners and losers in this whole sorry saga. Now further doubts have been...."

When Snow said "half-past seven", I looked at the clock on the mantelpiece above the TV. Snow saw my glance, and in reaction to my glance at the clock, smiled. I think he was smiling at what he perceived as my self-importance.

Usually when newscasters or radio presenters laugh at me, there is an excuse for their laughter; usually they manage to find some reason for my being "funny"; their amusement is blamed on me; it is my "fault" they are laughing. And so it was with this instance; Jon Snow thought it was funny that I should be so interested in seeing Clinton, and his half-smile while reading the words "winners and losers" expresses that.

I wrote to Snow at ITN shortly after this broadcast to ask him about his behaviour; of course, he didn't reply.

I am wanted to be ham all my life? I study reel hard & they dont want to let me pass! I take the test 5 times before I pass,this meen I spent alot a money $14.00 for test x 5 test = $93.47 I spend to get license; so when I pass I get on 2 meter reepeter for fun & decide to make my own radio show in morning from 8-8:30am,I am tell weather & play music,but a local ham come to my door & tell me to stop my show & stay off his repeeter,he try to say he own the repeeter,but I no the fcc rule & tell him no 1 can own repeeter repeeter is for all ham & I am ham!He says he will just shut off repeeter but again I know the fcc rule & tell him the rule say you can make a repeeter & once you put on repeeter you dont own it anymore it belong to ham radio & all ham can use it & if he turn it off I can report him to fcc and he will get a fine maybe even loose his license!he laugh at me and leave,I know he do this because ham only like old ham & dont like new ham because they dont no mores code!they blame new ham tech because fcc make it against the law for them to use mores code to talk to other ham!Later that week they complain on my friend I give him ht to talk to me on repeeter,they say if he dont have license he cant talk on 2 meter!again I have to tell them fcc rule(you think they wuold no the rules) It is ok because i am controll oparater he call me from ht says my call sine & wait for me to answer I answer by saying this is(call sine)+ acting as controll operater for station player hater(that his handle) mines be ruff rider but I always id by say this be (call sine) the 1 ruff rider.So as long as I say controll operater it is ok!but he still dont like it! I decide to go and join local ham club I think if I join theer club then tey wont give me trouble any more,only me & some fourin guy(he is from a cuntree called Alaska) show up to join,they let the fourin guy join theer club,but say I cant join & say I am bad ham and want me to leeve! I tell that is not fair and it is against the law.And by fcc rule a fourin persin cant be a ham,They try to lie to me & say he isnt fourin, But i am not stoopid and tell them since Alaska is a country in yourup (I beleeve between sweeden & France) he is in fact fourin!if you arent from Amerika you are fourin!but they dont care & say I have to leave & that they have report me to fcc(lol for what I no the rules & follew them)Bottum line if you are new ham they dont want you & wont talk to you. So I ask all good hams to get together & try to get rid of the meen & bad hams,so we can all enjoy fun & musik on ham radio the way it was ment to be! To all new hams (or those that just dont no the rules) you can play musik on FM only (FM term came from stereo and it means For Musik)never play musik on AM (AM means Alternit Mode and is for talk only)and never play musik on SSb(Simple Sight Band) that is also talk only! have fun & mabe us new ham can git together and make our own club and chase away the old meen hams they must reelize we are the future of ham radio & without peeple like us ham will not servive it will just wither and dye!

Fraud on eBay is a very serious issue that law enforcement is working diligently to correct. People who have been defrauded should contact the authorities in the area the criminal exists (for example, the Chassel County sheriff or prosecutor) as well as file appropriate complaints at www.ic3.gov.

2235. Black Crime Wave

Black Crime Wave

Last year, among the nation's 10 largest cities, Philadelphia had the highest murder rate with 406 victims. This year could easily top last year's with 240 murders so far.

Other cities such as Baltimore, Detroit and Washington, D.C., with large black populations, experience the nation's highest rates of murder and violent crime. This high murder rate is, and has been, predominantly a BLACK problem.

According to Bureau of Justice statistics, between 1976 and 2005, blacks, while 13 percent of the population, committed over 52 percent of the nation's homicides and were 46 percent of the homicide victims. Ninety-four percent of black homicide victims had a BLACK person as their murderer.

BLACKS are not only the major victims of homicide; BLACKS suffer high rates of all categories of serious violent crime, and another BLACK is most often the perpetrator.

Liberals and their political allies say the problem is the easy accessibility of guns and greater gun control is the solution. That has to be nonsense. Guns do not commit crimes; people do !

Up through 1979, the FBI reported homicide arrests sorted by racial breakdowns that included Japanese. Between 1976 and 1978, 21 of 48,695 arrests for murder and non-negligent manslaughter were Japanese-Americans. That translates to an annual murder rate of 1 per 100,000 of the Japanese-American population. Would anyone advance the argument that the reason why homicide is virtually nonexistent among Japanese-Americans is because they can't find guns?

After a successful maiden flight two weeks ago, there will be another Ilmari balloon flight next weekend. The flight is scheduled for 06 UTC on Sunday, September 2nd, 2007, from Sappee (KP21GJ).

Ilmari should be workable from many parts of north-eastern Europe, if it goes as high up as the previous flight (30 km). Remember to keep your ERP low, 1 watt is plenty for working Ilmari's 2m/70cm ssb/cw transponder! APRS(-IS) callsigns will probably be OH2SIX-11 and/or -12.

Have a look at http://wiki.ham.fi/Ilmari-2007b for operating instructions and http://www.kolumbus.fi/michael.fletcher/ilmari.htm for pictures and information from the maiden flight.

Chris Tarrant - 10/March/1999

Certainty level: 25%

This one might be aimed at me, or it might be tinged with a whiff of intent, although I only give one chance in four for Tarrant's thoughts being aimed at me when he said this. During his "Who wants to be a Millionaire" TV show in March 1999, he said; if you're watching the show jumping up and down screaming at the telly, remember you could be here. You can either seek professional help or call us...

The background is as follows. In early March I'd sent a quantity of emails to Capital FM, the London radio station where Mr Tarrant has his breakfast show. They were addressed to the email account which Mr Tarrant used to read emails posted on Capital's website. Capital objected to the quantity of emails - in fact, they contacted the Metropolitan Police's Computer Crime unit, who, in turn, "felt my collar" by giving me a verbal warning over the phone to cease this behaviour.

The emails contained the words which I had heard Mr Tarrant speak in early 1994, namely;

"You know this bloke? He says we're trying to kill him.
We should be done for attempted manslaughter".

At the time of writing (May 1999), the Police have not told me what aspect of the emails was "illegal", nor despite my repeated urging have they questioned Mr Tarrant about his remarks from 1994.

Regarding the clip from Tarrant's show above. The Police spoke to me on the afternoon of Wednesday 10 March 1999. Tarrant's live show went out that same evening. The Police have told me that after speaking to me they told Capital FM that they'd spoken to me regarding the emails. So Tarrant would have known by the time of the show who'd sent the emails and why.... and it's quite possible that his remarks about "seeking professional help" were aimed at me personally following my attempts to persuade him to own up to his 1994 remarks.

Nicholas Witchell - 10/April/1999

Certainty level: 100%

This clip is of Nicholas Witchell reading the BBC2 evening news at 7pm on Saturday 10 April 1999. You have to understand that the psychopaths of the Security Service consider their abuse of me to be "so funny"; and central to their persecution of me is their inducement of their "bought journalists" like the BBC's Nicholas Witchell to laugh at me on television.

So in this clip we see Witchell smirking and grinning while he reads the news. Only part of the news broadcast is shown in the clip; preceding it, Witchell's upper lip quivers in mirth for several minutes, until his entire mouth twists into the uncontrollable smile shown in this clip, through the excuse of a weak non-joke about sports fixtures.

"England expects every man to do his duty"

Certainty level: 90%

This video clip portrays a fairly-certain case of unpleasant MI5 harassment; because of context, surrounding events, not just this one happening. It's the first time an MI5 agent has been caught on video, and, presumably to their chagrin, their paid agent is either engaging in an onanistic practice, or, more probably, pretending to do so, in order to carry out an act of harassment.

The background is as follows. In late June 2000 I had posted the following message to Usenet, about MI5's making obscene noises at me on several recent occasions;

>From: bu765@torfree.net (Mike Corley)
>Subject: relax, don't do it (mi5 again)
>Date: 22 Jun 2000 00:00:00 GMT
>you will recall that a couple of weeks ago I was supposing what MI5 were >doing with their 'single'handed' posting antics at 2am >exciting stuff

>so about a week ago someone rings me up at home.... 'is that Emmanuel >Goldstein?' then he phones back the following day and goes 'huaaaagh' on >the phone before dropping the handset in excitement >and a day or two later, just coming out of our house to put something in >the rubbish bin, a pair of blokes over the other side of the road, again >start making orgasmic noises
>I'm not paranoid enough to record minidisc when I pop out for a few >seconds..... but perhaps I should be

The video clip, which was captured on 1/September/2000, is the culmination of that thread of harassment. You have to understand that MI5's abuse is in threads; they choose a topic, and then continue with it for months and years. Sometimes they drop a topic, usually to be replaced by a worse one, and you never hear of it again.

If the person in the video clip were not an MI5 agent, then he would deserve privacy, despite carrying out a real or feigned act in a public place. But I am almost 100% sure, because of context, that this man was one of their operatives, which removes any consideration of privacy from his act. He is facing away and cannot be clearly identified from this clip. I've never seen this man before or since, but that is true of most other such incidents.

C4 SnowMail - January/2001

Certainty level: 50%

In January 2001 I signed up for Channel 4 TV News's email service SnowMail, under an anonymous email address.
Quite soon Jon Snow and others started getting at me in the SnowMail bulletins, so I promptly unsubscribed.
Here are three distributed messages which may be intended to be against me; I have given these items a joint probability of 50% only, since it is quite difficult to be sure these are against me, although I think they may well be.

First item is from 5 January 2001. "Back passage contacts" might genuinely be about Labour were communicating in a shielded way with ITN; but it may be about Snow's covert communications with me on his programme and in this bulletin; and it's a slightly strange thing for him to say, it suggests the human body's back passage.
"I wish they'd come and talk on our website".... Snow knows I'm subscribed to his mailing list, and he may be encouraging me to talk to him by email; again, if that comment were genuinely about Labour, then it would be a strange thing to say, since the politicians talk to Snow by phone and on his programme, so they wouldn't talk to him by email; my suspicion at the time is that he was trying to persuade me to talk to him by email, so he could decently lie that my thoughts of reference were incorrect.

Good afternoon dear viewer,

Well the 'snowmail' drew a little ire from Labour HQ yesterday. A sensitive call at 6.35pm from my friendly mentor there sought to correct the impression I gave in yesterday's missive that in some way Labour was bounced into naming these latest millionaire donors. Well I'm afraid they were...rest assured Paul Hamlyn would not have been named without the diligent sleuthing of my colleagues, and had HE not been named neither would these latest two.

The only serious inaccuracy I must plead to was the promise that we would put these matters to a 'senior Labour person'...alas none was forthcoming...I shall make no such rash promise again. My same mentor was on the phone again during last night's Channel 4 News urging us to 'get some reality into the programme'. I fear we may have touched a sensitive nerve...and the election campaign has not even started, or has it? I shall try to keep you posted with these 'back passage contacts' as the campaign unfolds..from all sides. I do wish they'd come and talk things over with all of us on the web site...here's an open invitation...

So to today:

Harold Shipman murdered as many as 250 people it now turns out. But he is never to be tried and relatives who seek closure to their uncertainties will never reap satisfaction..we have the DPP, the Chief Medical Officer and a solicitor for aggrieved and bereaved families on the programme..the world's second-worst mass murderer..can he be allowed to escape further action?

Sending private/sexy emails in company time gets workers the sack..Big Brother spies on office premises..is electronic life in the work place getting out of hand? We explore what we can...and if you are not sure what you can and can't send, our site spells out the legal dos and don'ts and gives you the chance to put your views to us.

The CIA publishes its risk assessment for the world in the coming years..beyond the CIA itself, what's the biggest threat to life and liberty? Find out on Channel 4 News..and a major encounter with a man expected to take a top job in the Bush administration...

And a sumptuous piece from Nicholas Glass in Valencia..a city transformed by a brilliant young architect for half the price of what the Dome cost us.

Lots moving, see you at 7.00,best as ever,

Jon Snow

The next contact was on 11 January, with the unsubtle words "the lunatics have taken over the newsroom" from Krishnan GM. The phrase needs no explanation as to why it might be a dig at me.

January 11, 2001

Good Afternoon. Jon's away so the lunatics have taken over the newsroom. I am joined by Samira for tonight's show.

The Depleted Uranium confusion deepens. What did Ministers and senior officers know about the risks to soldiers?
What did they tell others? And why the lack of candour over the recent documents that have surfaced? Having dismissed the army report leaked yesterday warning of the dangers of exposure to DU as written by a trainee and littered with mistakes, the Ministry of Defence now accepts it was written by an experienced officer.
But they won't say who. More awkwardly it emerges that senior officers decided a month after it was written that the report should be circulated to all personnel likely to come into contact with DU. But was it? Nobody seems to know. Our Science Correspondent Andrew Veitch has also visited the lab in Oxford that could begin testing veterans for Depleted Uranium within six months, but they have had no contact from the government as yet. From the Tories, Mr Duncan Smith is likely to join us. And we have Defence Secretary Hoon coming into the studio to answer the obvious (and not so obvious) questions.

No interest rate cut today from the Bank of England, but could it be next month? As real fears are raised about the likelihood of recession in the US how could it affect us over here? There's been a recent consensus that Britain could weather the storm instead of falling into the usual pattern of shadowing American trends. But how realistic is that? And what about all that inward investment we rely on from the States? Liam Halligan has been looking at just what impact economic downturn across the water would have on us.

The former Bosnian Serb President Biljana Plavsic pleaded not guilty to charges of warcrimes including genocide today. She was number two to Karazdic and a reputed hardliner during the "ethnic cleansing" of Bosnia.
But has a deal been done on her sentence if found guilty? Just why did she get on a plane and give herself up to the Hague War Crimes Tribunal? Nobody seems to have any explanation. Her lawyers are asking for special accommodation and even the possibility of bail. Gaby Rado is there and joining us live is the first Prosecutor in the Hague Judge Goldstone to discuss whether plea bargains and deals are the only way to get the real villains.

Also the astonishing news that scientists in America have bred the first genetically engineered monkey. What will they be used for and what's the next step? Does anybody really believe they won't do it to humans before too long? Julian Rush will have details.

All that and loads more at seven. See you then, I hope. Krishnan.

The third and final item is from 24 January, shortly after which I unsubscribed from SnowMail. Again, it is difficult to be sure if this item refers to me; it may do, it may not do, 50% captures the possibility. Snow refers to "third leg of [Blair's] political footstool". In English culture "third leg" indicates one's male member;
Snow's phrase may be a sexual reference, of which there were others around that time.

Good evening dear Channel 4 News viewer,

There are times in this business when you suffer severe attacks of deja vu...haven't I already said "Mandelson Resigns!"...I'm afraid I have, and tonight I shall say it again. He's gone, the fat lady has not only sung but died completely and utterly on his career...that is the end of the former Northern Ireland Secretary's political career.

It's a body blow against Blair for whom Mandelson was a mentor, manipulator, calculator, friend, brother and the third leg of his political footstool.
It's a body blow for a Prime Minister who has had to have him resign not once but twice. It calls into question Tony Blair's judgement. Mandy, probably one of the most brilliant spirits in politics, flew too close to the sun...suffering finally at the hand of his own diabolical flaw.
Amazingly it's a flaw Blair understood more keenly than anyone...

And then there are the Hindujas who have compromised every political party with ridiculous photographed party poses..who are they and how do they work?
Masses moving on all fronts on this story tonight. We have the resignation speech in full on our site www.channel4.com/news;
if you want to see how Mandelson bowed out.

There are other developments:

The cancer tragedy at Nottingham Queens medical centre..the wrong drug going into the spinal column of an eighteen-year-old Leukemia victim who's now in intensive care, dangerously ill...it's happened before..why has it happened again?

And a moving interview with Sharon Sage who's mother Lorna Sage wrote a spell binding memoir highly rated in last night's Whitbread Prize. An exceptional piece....

A highly political night....see you at seven on four...best, as ever, Jon

After this email I unsubscribed from SnowMail. I could not be sure that these items were or were not about me, but it's an unpleasant feeling that Mr Snow might be getting at me in writing, as he certainly was when he watched me while presenting the news; so I cut my losses, so to speak, and bailed out.

BBC-TV "See You, See Me" - 7/Dec/2001

Certainty level: 80%

On Friday 7 December 2001, BBC Schools aired a TV programme from their "See You, See Me" series.
The series was based in Scotland, with Grant Stott and Wilma Kennedy trying to find some stolen jewels.
Its web home is www.bbc.co.uk/scotland/education/seeyouseeme/

The programme appeared to make some "subtext" references to my situation. Kennedy refers to "it's not fair", which is a key phrase; its existence started with OCTS MD Hugh S.-W. who humorously referred to my treatment with the same phrase.
The subtle statement is that it is fair, because we're doing it, and we're always right, even when we're wrong.

The phrase "useless idiot" from the police chief is a clear insult directed at me, and needs no explanation.

But it is the third item in this clip which is most telling. Stott says the words, "humiliating in front of the whole public, it would crucify us" if the investigation were called off. That's the phrase that assures this clip of an 80% probability rating. MI5 are trying to humiliate me "in front of the whole public", and their strategy is a mixture of ambiguous covert, such as this very programme, and clear overt.

Channel Four TV News - 10/April/2002

Certainty level: 80%

I was watching Jon Snow on Channel Four TV News on Wednesday 10 April, and he again reacted on seeing me watching his programme. At 7.25pm he was reading an item on atrocities during the Balkan war;

JS: "It was Europe's worst massacre since the Second World War, and Dutch army officers [cough] and the United Nations should share the blame. So says the first authoritative report into the murder of thousands of Muslim men in Srebrenice at the height of the Bosnian war in 1995. The 7,500 page document took Dutch Government researchers six years to prepare, and it condemns military and political leaders for sending peacekeepers on a mission impossible. Our Foreign Affairs correspondent Gaby Rado, who went to Srebrenice very soon after the massacre, is with us now. Gaby, how damning is this report?"

GR: "Well it is very severe. It accuses the Dutch Government of sending badly armed and badly briefed Dutch soldiers into a very dangerous space out of a sense of national arrogance basically. It accuses the United Nations basically of..."

There are two incidents in this one recording. The first (80% certainty) is when Jon Snow develops a frog in his throat in the first sentence, shortly after reading the text "Europe's worst massacre". There is both verbal expression and facial expression at that point; he is laughing at me, which is at odds with the serious material he is reading. His eyebrows twitch upwards, and he is smirking at the phrase "Europe's worst massacre", and its application to the Security Service's actions against me. Another aspect is that when Snow said "Europe's worst massacre", I facially reacted; in return, Snow would have seen my change of expression, and followed it with his own reaction. He almost says "United States" instead of "United Nations"; he isn't looking at his autocue, his mind is off what he is reading, instead he is looking at me in the little monitor where he sees me through the television.

The first incident I'm fairly sure about, but the second I only give a 20% certainty to; it's when Gaby Rado talks of a "sense of national arrogance", supposedly about the Dutch, but perhaps the English actions against me for over a decade. If Rado's statement were about me, then it would be condemnatory of MI5 as being "arrogant"; but I cannot be reasonably certain it's about me, or much less so that Snow's reaction in the first instance, anyway.

BBC1 TV News - 18/Dec/2002

Certainty level: 30%

This item occurred on Wednesday 18/December/2002, on BBC1 TV News shortly after 6pm. It is one of the "coincidence" category of happenings, where people by supposed coincidence repeat exactly the words I have said or thought very recently.
In this case, the BBC's New York correspondent Stephen Evans, live from NYC, says the words "airy fairy language", during a piece on Britain's entry in the competition for a successor to the WTC after 9/11.

I had been thinking the words "airy fairy" a day or two previously and may have spoken them in my sleep. I did not speak them awake.
The TV practice in 1990-92 had been to repeat on TV/radio (or at work) words which I had either spoken while awake, or words I had thought but not said consciously - since I know that I sometimes say things in my sleep, but cannot later recall saying them, obviously since I was unconscious at the time. The TV news reader or reporter then finds a context in which to drop a particular phrase; this practice has a famous exemplar in the "Phil the Greek" item relating to the Duke of Edinburgh - who had been called Phil the Greek in Private Eye, then a TV reporter managed to structure his report to include the words "fill the Greek community with alarm".
It might appear funny, but when such "intentional coincidence" happens a lot, as in 1990-92, and when it supports other methods of obscenity, then the amusement value wanes.

The choice of words appears to form a homosexual reference - the way it works is that the Security Service are blokes fantasising continually about another bloke, so to avert the obvious observation of their being gay see here for another instance of unwholesome MI5 fantasising in public), they try to assign the attribute to the victim - they do this sort of thing all the time, with all sorts of attributes. However, in this particular case I give it only a one in three probability, since this incident seems to have been a one-off at that particular time.

Life is so hard

Certainty level: 100%

This relates to harassment at my workplace in Canada. Yes, "they" had their claws into my employers in North America, it doesn't just happen in England, it happens here as well.

During the second half of 1996, at work, I was sitting near a co-worker whom we shall call Mark (we can, because that's his name). This guy occasionally came out with words and phrases that made me think that "they" had got to him and were supplying him with information about my home life (not social life please note, because of course I don't actually have a social life here).

During November 1996 I tried to catch him in the act of saying something "meaningful", a difficult exercise because as soon as he saw a tape recorder, he shut up completely, except for times when he knew he would be out of range of the walkman. (Note that the quality of this recording is not very good; I was just using a four-year-old tape walkman with a cheap microphone, quite low-tech).

During the evening of 12 November 1996, at home in my apartment (flat to you UK-ers), I said "life is so hard, and then you die". A nihilistic, negative thing to say, but quite distinctive. The following day, 13 November, Mark said loudly, "life is so hard eh, and then you die" followed by loud laughter.

In my book the precise repetition of the words makes this incident a 100% certainty. You, the reader, may differ, but then living in a free country allows each of us to have our own opinions, doesn't it?

2253. MI5 Persecution: GLR: David Hepworth (21/Feb/1997) (2158)

GLR-David Hepworth (21/Feb/1997)

Certainty level: 80%

I was listening to BBC Greater London Radio (GLR) by stealth, ie. on my walkman with headphones, with the sound turned right down, to prevent anyone from hearing what I was listening to. Yet somehow "they" are still able to tell what station I am listening to on the walkman. After half an hour or so listening to GLR, DJ David Hepworth came out with this;

"I assume Brian, do we have an embarrassment of prizes in there, we do, don't we, absolute obscene amounts of prizes, there will no doubt be a riot at the back door, and that's A-level coming up after this"

The key phrases in what he said are, "EMBARRASSMENT of prizes", and what he himself emphasised verbally, "ABSOLUTE OBSCENE amount of prizes". It is my belief (based on content and tone of voice) that when he spoke these phrases he knew I was listening, and that the phrases refer directly to my situation. The "EMBARRASSMENT" is the embarrassment he and other media people would feel at having their wrongdoing exposed; the "ABSOLUTE OBSCENE" (which he verbally emphasised) described the disgusting sexual abuse which the harassers have been throwing at me.

Of course, I can't prove that this is what he meant, although this has happened enough times that it's hard not to recognise it when you see it. I sent David Hepworth a copy of this explanation, with the results listed in a subsequent item (David Hepworth 9/May/1997).

GLR-David Hepworth (9/May/1997)

Certainty level: 100%

This time I deliberately listened to Hepworth with the sound turned up on the radio, to try to get a reaction. Sure enough, he and his cronies reacted;

David: "we have executive drivetime, and we have Brian in charge of the prize cupboard. Brian it's not a bad prize cupboard this week is it?"

Brian: "no David in fact it's an absolute (EMPHASIS) embarrassment (END-EMPHASIS) of prizes this evening" (laughter)

David: "what have we got?"

Brian: "well in my left hand alone we've got that .... Gary Clale, I don't know if you remember him obviously still alive and kicking.... and that's just in my left hand"

David: "So it's certainly worth competing. Rock and roll spelling test is your first opportunity to take advantage of this embarrassment of prizes"

What I "read into" this item should again be quite obvious. Remember, I sent off a letter of complaint to Hepworth after his spying activity during the previous show. Here the emphasis on "absolute embarrassment" of prizes shows he knows this is a "key" phrase.

It might be interesting to try to talk to DJs like Hepworth and ask them what they get out of abusing their listeners. But if you challenge them directly, they show their true colour (yellow) by either not answering the challenge, or by denying that harassment has taken place.

Capital Radio (11/April/1997)

Certainty level: 10%

A nice easy one here. The DJ is heard to say (around 8.30pm);

"Jacko in town, what a gig it's going to be, that guy is amazing, and psychotic, but amazing on stage, 0171-420-0958, on stage he's a madman but he's wonderful"

I was listening to Capital loud and clear, trying to get a reaction.
The above may have been a reaction. I'm not sure if it was, and I'm not sure that it wasn't.

Neil Fox's Juke Box on Capital Radio (week ending 15/March/1998)

Certainty level: 70%

Here is an excerpt from Neil Fox's show on Capital Radio 95.8FM, sometime during the week ending Sunday 15/March/1998 (probably during the weekend, but I don't remember).

First I will give the text of the conversation between Neil Fox and telephone caller Martin, then I will state my interpretation.

(conversation) (F=Dr Fox, M=Martin the caller)

F: coming up on the jukebox, the hotline's 0171-4848-958, just a quick shout here and so who's this going to be then Mr Producer?
(staff, shouting) MARTIN!
F: Couldn't quite hear you, it's going to be?
(staff, normal voice) Martin.
F: Thank you. Martin, hello.
M: Hello, Foxy.
F: How are you Martin.
M: Er, knackered.
F: Why?
M: Didn't get much sleep last night. Party down the road.
F: What time did you go to bed?
M: Four o'clock this morning.
F: Well that sounds quite a reasonable Saturday night if you ask me.
M: I was up at eight.
F: You were up at eight this morning?
M: Yeah.
F: That's sick. Why? What on earth made you get out of bed at eight this morning?
M: My father.
F: Well that's no good. Why is he being sicko, is he being a sadist?
M: No, he out there, sort of clearing room.
F: Listen, is your dad there?
M: No, he's downstairs.
F: Oh mate, can you get him?
M: No.
F: Does he not let you on the phone? The only reason is that I wouldn't mind having a chat with someone who makes anyone get up at eight o'clock on a Sunday morning. I'm sorry, that's ill isn't it, that's out of order.
M: It's sick.
F: I'm just going to ask around here. What do you think then, eight o'clock Sunday morning? That's out of order isn't it, for any father?

(staff) Yeah, definitely.
F: Is he like victimising you or something, is there any reason why he wanted you up at eight o'clock? To clean your room?
M: Well as I say I got up at eight this morning to clean my room and it looks worse that it did yesterday.
F: Well I should have just left it and stayed in there until eleven o'clock if I was you.
M: Well I was up, I didn't get out of bed.
F: What, you didn't get out of bed at eight o'clock? No, he woke you up at eight o'clock. Did you do any cleaning at all?
M: I haven't touched my bedroom.
F: Top man. Boy you're going to get your arse kicked later aren't you. Now a song for you, what can we play?
M: Guns and Roses, "Sweet Child of Mine".
F: And we're going to dedicate this to your father?
M: No we're not, we'll dedicate this to my good mate Jamie, who's sitting on the bed now.
F: Right, hello Jamie. And anyone else? Any top totty in your life at the moment?
M: Unfortunately no.
F: The totty factor is quite low at the moment is it?
M: It's dead.
F: It's dead? What, nothing?
M: Nothing.
F: What, zero? Well, that's pathetic. No wonder you're down. You stay out til four o'clock and nothing. We'd better have words when we're off the radio I think. We need to give you a team talk. You have a good night tonight.
M: And you.
F: Take care.
(song starts)
F: Actually something was going through my mind. I think I'll leave it.

I'm not really sure whether this is in any way about me. It probably isn't. Probably it's just my nasty suspicious mind finding links where none exist. However, here is an explanation of why it might, possibly, be about me.

Throughout this interview, I was throwing abuse at the radio, and to my mind, Neil Fox was hearing the abuse, and responding interactively. This explains why he sounds so stressed when talking to telephone caller Martin, and the general violence of his words including "Boy you're going to get your arse kicked later aren't you".

The piece starts of with the producer shouting the name of the caller, which might be related to my loud vocalisations at the radio. The trouble starts off with Fox saying "That's sick". "Sick" might be taken as a reference to my condition. Then Fox says, "Why is he being sicko, is he being a sadist?", again sick = my illness, "sadist" = attitude of my oppressors towards me. "that's ill isn't it" = further comment on my illness. "Is he like victimising you or something" = again what my enemies are doing to me.

Fox sounds quite happy when he gets Martin to say "It's sick"; as you would expect him to, if the comment were directed at me. It is a constant feature of my enemies' harassment of me that they get intermediaries to verbalise the abuse. Immediately after saying "victimising you" Fox gives a little laugh, to show he thinks the victimisation (of me, not Martin) is funny.

Fox gets increasingly nasty as the piece progresses. "Boy you're going to get your arse kicked later aren't you" is not really what you would expect him to say if he were just talking to Martin. Fox is on the same side as Martin, so why would he be so verbally aggressive to him? On the other hand, if the piece is about me, then his strong words start to make sense.

Fox's jubilation at finding that Martin's "totty factor" is "dead" again doesn't make much sense unless you think that he might not be considering Martin's totty factor, but mine, since it's a fairly well known fact that my "totty factor" is not significantly above zero.

To round off the 135 second interchange, just as the next track is starting, Fox says, "Actually something was going through my mind. I think I'll leave it". Given that I was chucking abuse at Fox throughout, it is only natural for him have thought up a reply that he would have wished to have made, except that such a reply would (a) probably not be suitable for a family show, and (b) have given the game away completely.

So there you are. You the jury, what say you in the case of plaintiff vs. Neil Fox's Juke Box, guilty or not guilty?

2266. Challenge unsaswered

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.misc

A previous poster asked Mark why his alleged wife did not assume Mark's last name.
Mark responded that it was nobody's business.

The question remains unanswered, however, and I'd like to hear the answer to that, too.

Methinks that perhaps Mark and Gav are not legally married in the sense that a legal authority documented the joining. Instead, with their off-the-wall leanings toward the Knights Of The Round Table and sixteenth century leanings, I posit that Mark and Gav decided that 21st Century marriages are not of their liking. It is not unlikely that the two of them stood under a tree somewhere in the UP and exchanged "vows" with perhaps a few fellow screwballs and a sheep or two in attendance.
Gav probably wore a period dress of her own design and held some freshly picked wildflowers while Mark stood stupidly by like the weak-willed follower he is.
He and she probably said, "I marry you" to each other and considered it a done deal. Then Gave went back to her apartment and Mark went back to his daddy's house. There was no Honeymoon and probably no culmination of the joining by any sexual act. At least not together.

Then Mark, ever one to try to get something for free, posted a Wish List on the Internet in hopes of obtaining some wedding gifts. Nobody responded, save for one individual who "outed" Mark and exposed his greed.
Mark became enraged that this individual exposed his scam for a high dollar wedding gift wish list and when no toaster ovens or bread making machines (or anything else) were offered, Mark went ballistic and falsely accused the individual of "hacking" his wish list and wrongly accused the man of "stealing" Mark's credit card information.
Nobody stole anything, since Mark had posted this information on a web site that anybody could access.
No credit card numbers were ever in jeopardy, and Mark overreacted and lied as usual. Mark has been a crybaby since.

Back to the question. Why, Mark, does Gav not use your last name on QRZ.com?
Yet on one of the Jewish sites you claim to be Mark and Gav Morgan.
And, Mark, care to explain to us why Gav refuses to live with you at your father's home?
Enquiring minds want to know.

HDTV is inexorably moving across the country, even some XX.1, XX.2 channel leaking across from XE land.

Is this new digital product subject to the same TVI as analog, displaying the same "sound bars", "herringbone", etc., or do we need to decode new artifacts to know if our TVI is from radiated or conducted signals?

I don't recall anyone here asking you where you were married or honeymooned. Why do you feel the need to answer a question that wasn't addressed to you? Guilty conscience?

He will then move to Carriacou Island (NA-147), another island in the Grenada group and be active from there until September 16th. Activity will be on 160-6 meters, mostly CW and RTTY, with a little SSB. QSL via his home callsign, direct or the bureau using E-mail requests to: qsl@dl7vog.de

JD1/M, MINAMI TORISHIMA (OC-073). Operator Masafumi, JA6GXK, will be active from Marcus Island as JD1BMM between August 27th and September 18th. He seems to like PSK31 on 20 meters but plans to be active on 80-10 meters on CW, SSB, PSK, RTTY and SSTV.

SV/J4, GREECE. Geza, HA4XG, will once again return here for a family holiday. His first stop will be in Corfu (Kerkyra) Island (IOTA: EU-052, MIA: MG-055, JM99WR) between August 31st and September 6th. He will operate on the HF bands, and 6 and 2 meters as J48XG and SV8/HA4XG. Look for him to enter the IARU VHF Contest (September 1-2nd). Activity will be on Meteor Scatter transmitting (random) on 144.363 MHz. Geza will than move to Amaliapoli (KM19KE) in Thessalia, near Volos, September 7-14th. His callsigns will be J44XG and SV4/HA4XG, and he will be active on the HF bands, and 6 and 2 meters. He will again be active on 2 meters using Meteor Scatter. Look for him during his morning and evening hours on CW. His rig is an IC-746 into DunaX verticals, preamp on 2 meters, and 10 element DK7ZB Yagi. QSL via the Hungarian QSL Bureau or direct to his QRZ.com address.

V2, ANTIGUA. Bud, AA3B, will be active as V26K between November 21-26th. Activity will include the CQ World-Wide DX CW Contest (November 24-25th) as a Single-Op/All-Band/Low-Power entry. This will be an all CW operation on the contest HF bands only. Please QSL via AA3B.

V8, BRUNEI DARUSSALAM. Operators Ronald/PA3EWP, Flo/F5CWU and Tom/GM4FDM are planning a DXpedition to here between November 4-18th. Callsigns are as follows: Operator V8 Callsign QSL Route
-------- ----------- ---------
PA3EWP V8FWP QSL via PA7FM
GM4FDM V8FDM QSL via GM4FDM
Activity will be on all bands from 160-10 meters, conditions permitting. Modes of operations will be on CW, SSB and RTTY. Special attention will be given to the lower bands (160-30m). Also, special attention will be given to Western Europe and the USA. They plan to use at least one beam antenna along with verticals and dipoles. All operators have plenty of experience during DXpedition operation. Depending on InterNet availability, they shall try to maintain online logs at a Web site yet to be established. The Web master will be Dennis, PA7FM, - http://www.pa7fm.nl/

VK9W, WILLIS ISLAND. Operators Tomi/HA7RY and George/AA7JV are expected to leave Cairns on September 22nd on the Motor Vessell Varzin (with George skippering), and hope to commence an operation on Willis on September 25th. Their callsign will VK9WWI. They plan to stay (depart) on October 5th. Please note that these dates are strongly WX dependent. With the Varzin only being a 60 foot motor vessel, operators may delay their departure and wait for favorable weather. Their intent is to set up on the North Cay, but may land on Middle Cay instead due to some recent advice they received. They plan to play it by ear because navigating between coral heads is a scary thing, so the ability to get close to the cay and a good anchorage will decide where they end up. Tomi, HA7RY, will be working the high bands during the day (while George is diving). Then George will work 160 and 80 meters at night. They plan on using 500 watts into two vertical antenna systems. They have chosen the Spiderbeam Telescoping 60 foot mast for the 60 foot inverted L on 160 and 80 meters, as well as the 40 foot Spiderbeam Telescopic mast for 40/30/20 meters. George advises that they have not selected operating frequencies but are open for ideas. STAY TUNED.

VP5, TURKS AND CAICOS ISLANDS. Operators Frank/WA2VYA, Tony/W2WAS, Ken/K2WB and John/N2VW will be active as VP5T during the CQWW DX SSB Contest (October 27-28th) as a Multi/Multi/Dxpedition entry. QSL via N2VW or LoTW. Their activity will be from Providenciales (NA-003), October 23-30th. Look for CW and operations on the WARC bands before and after the contest. Operators will sign using VP5/homecall. QSL to their home callsigns. No eQSLS. SWL QSLs are OK.

VP8, FALKLAND ISLANDS. Chris, GM0TQJ, will be active from East Falkland (SA-002) as VP8CXV during his spare time between September 8th and January 15th (2008). Activity will be mainly SSB but with some RTTY and PSK31. QSL via his home callsign.

The artifacts seen on digital TV, such as they are, are very different from TVI artifacts on an NTSC broadcast signal. You won't see (or hear) sound bars, hum bars, herringbone, buzz, at all (unless perhaps your TVI is so powerful that it's getting directly into the final, analog stages of the TV... not likely unless you're running a kilowatt right next door).

You'll tend to see one of two types of interference artifact on DTV signals:

(1) Macroblocking. Square or rectangular portions of the picture will freeze, "tear up" or become monochrome.

(2) "Looking for signal" - the whole digital signal "drops out" and the TV blanks the screen and complains.

The audio will exhibit analogous dropouts - momentary gaps in the sound, or complete silence when the signal is lost entirely.

The character of the artifacts probably won't be terribly useful in figuring out if a ham transmitter is involved... you'll have to depend on the timing (e.g. if macroblocking starts happening when you key-down, your transmitter may be involved).

You are the one who keeps bringing adoptions up, but offer no proof.
What do you have against adoptions? Maybe there is a whole new

I wonder if this workshop would be useful for some hams to attend (or at least plug into the audiocast and record it).

The Federal Communications Commission has announced the agenda topics and tentative speakers for the Digital Television Consumer Education Workshop to be held Wednesday, September 26, 2007, at FCC Headquarters, 445 12th St., SW, Washington, DC, in the Commission Meeting Room. The Workshop will begin at 8:00 AM and end at 3:45 PM.

A live audiocast of the hearing will be available at the FCC's website at http://www.fcc.gov/realaudio/#sep26 on a first-come, first-served basis. In addition, the hearing will be recorded, and the recording will be made available to the public.

Have a quantity of Test Equipment and Radio Communications Service Manuals, both Commercial & Amateur that I have rescued from the Dumpster. Most of them are in Like New Condition.

Please check my site: www.rodemi.com for what is available. Click on

I recently retired from the Commercial 2-way radio business and would like these useful manuals to find a good home.

Stop lying, The truth is you steal everyone eles's quotes off of Usenet and put them on your blog. Then you claim someone is quoting what you wrote, when in fact they are quoting the same text that you stole. You've never had an original thought in your entire pathetic

At 1:38 AM lonely Dave "fat cockroach" Heil, K8MN (take note new hams of the hypocrite assheil's postings) whined:

>>Davey Vile K8MN SUX wrote:
> On Aug 27, 1:08 am, Dave "Getting no sex tonight from his ex whore > wife" Heil <k...@earthlink.net> wrote:

>Neither my mother nor my wife ever worked as prostitutes

That's not what their "rap sheets" indicate.

Why did Leila appear in that men's porno mag 21-some years ago?

>UnWiseman.

Unoriginal. So very Heil.

>The matter of whether I have sex with my wife is not your concern.

So you admit you don't have sex with her.....

>> And here you are up at 1:08 AM masturbating to the posts. I bet you >> waited up all night just so you could log on and read them.

>It is an interesting note

It is interesting to note that there you were here whining at 1:08 AM instead of being with your wife.

> Sill haven't figured out how to use that kill file...

"Sill"?

"velley"

>I've known how to use one all along.

Sure you have, sure you have. The fact is, you rather enjoy showing to new hams

exactly how an embittered old time ham acts towards others they view as not having the same narrow views as you do.

> ...no wonder the State > Dept. forced you into early "retirement." They could only take so much > of your incompetence.

>Any Foreign Service <more lies>

Mainly, you were forced out for your incompetence.
Poor Dave, still smarting over his alleged expertise in State Dept.
communications from the Cashew Nut Capital of Africa.

>You're actually right

Of course I'm right.
Sucks for you to have your lies exposed, eh, hypocrite?

>> "That's" is a contraction, not a sentence.

>The moon's full and you grow increasingly erratic.

Only an idiot would believe that the moon has something to do with people's behaviors. But then, you actually believe in so many fairy tales, like the ones propagated by your dead daddy the child diddling priest.

> And you are never correct, factually or otherwise.

>Sure <lies>

Poor Davey, he couldn't lie and backpedal out of it.

>Putting forth effort is in no way hypocritical.

When are you going to start on doing that effort?
And you are a hypocrite.

>You've not infested our place

No, Leila's done that all by herself. How is that inbred capital of Cameron, BTW?

>"Enourmous", huh?

"velley", huh?

>you're "sill" not playing with a full deck, Bedbug.

You are about as competent as Mark Morgan. He may have you beat.

>My "litle"

Yes, your "little" thing keeps you from having sex, too.

>> Pity you don't follow my example.

>Wake <backpedal>

Wake up yourself, your opinions mean very little to anybody.
All you wish to do is to force your will on the rest of us.

You are quite the fascist.

>You have yet to correctly use any method employed by me.

Yes, one tries to stick with winning methods, as opposed to yours.

>You know I'm kind of bumbling sociopath.

You sure are.

>"Sill", "enourmous", "litle", "yoru", "timwe"

"cold read", "velley", "polic", maquarading", "go the best"

>> What's written and sent, is written. It doesn't go away.
> You keep that in mind, assheil, er asshole.

>Keep it mind?

Yes, I know that task isn't what you are used to, given your limited thinking ability, but try and keep it in mind.
Even though Marqueer Morgan has spammed the newsgroup into unsuitability, your posts are there as well.

>I did no whining, offered no excuses and did no backpedaling.

Classic denial from Assheil.

>> Yes, you are very weak.

>If that's the case, why <flush>

Save your lies and unsubstantiated bullshit. the ARES meeting was over, The hams were just having small talk and Roger wasn't even home when you supposedly came calling. Of course, we only have your version of it, since you have nobody who will back up what you claim.

>I've certainly called on God for help.

I'm sure you have, weakling.

> Save us your lies and exaggerated bullshit story about your so called > "job" at the State Dept, errand boy.

>I never had a so-called job

So all your lies about the State department were just that, lies?

>>>> UnWiseman.

>>> Poor Lame Dave.......

>> Poor UnWiseman, governed by the phases of the moon.
> Poor Lame Dave, governed by his defective genetics.

>That's just more transference <plagiarizing and IKYABWAI>

That's just an IKYABWAI, from the book of schoolyard tactics by Davey Assheil. You have the defective DNA, and got it from that sniveling coward father. I can just see it now, the real soldiers around him wondered what kind of sissy mama's boy he was, crying, and on his knees in one of the corners of the troop ship hold.

>A kill-file doesn't solve the problem.

No, you'd still be as big an asshole as ever.

> No, they forced you out.

>Did the Department of State <poor whining dave>

Whine a little louder.

>Maybe it was the United Jewish Appeal.

Dave Heil K8MN's anti Semitic leanings noted. Too bad I'm not Jewish, you could get ADL looking into your "views."

>> Ah, well, you wouldn't know how to network them anyways.

>That's more of your preposterous nonsense.

Seems like it struck a nerve, "the great pretender" Heil.

>> Bedbug.
> Again with the bedbugs.

>Again, you're crazy as a bedbug

Again, bedbugs don't have the nervous system to be "crazy". You are a demonstrated unbalanced stalker.

> Leila should have them fumigated from her the > next time you give her a flea dip.

>How about if we just mail you the flea dip?

More mail fraud, Assheil?

> Neither do you "Not Roger", etc.

>I'm not <lies>

Quit lying. Your writing "style" in your sockpuppets give you away.

>>I've not

You are a liar and you know it.

>Everything I've stated about killfiles can be verified as correct.

And you still don't know how to use one.

>>The thinking you've exhibited is not abstract

Not to a narrow minded asshole like you.

>bed<flush>

PKB, calling people "bedbug" isn't quite the norm, except to a retard like you.

Besides, you lack the education to make any kind of psychological evaluation.
Now tell us why you spent some time in the Northwood rubber room.

>> Oh, so you do have a fat ass........nice admission.

>You continue to see admissions where none have been made.

You continue to believe anybody gives a fuck about your opinions.

>> Who says I'm not?

>I believe

Yes, you believe you are superior, but that's just a delusion.

>>>> No, the answer is No, the answer is to deal with the problem at its

>>> The answer is for you is to shut the fuck up,

>> What's the comma for, Rog,

> So they didn't go over the comma in those remedial English classes you

>I was always an "A" student in English

Sure you were, "velley" boy....sure you were.

>>Who are you to tell anybody what they can and cannot post?
>> Hypocrite.

>Filth <"whaaaaaaah!>

But it makes you snivel and cry like a little girl........ besides, your attacks on Roger's home, his parents, etc. doesn't make you any better, hypocrite.

>Why, "cedrtainly",

"velley" .....A typo was made. deal with it.

>You don't know <pkb>

And the same can be said of you knowing Roger's family, hypocrite.

> Sure you do, you've tried many times in the past, and continue to > try.

>No, Rog, I simply haven't the time nor the inclination to attempt >moderating the entire internet. You're guilty of exaggeration.

Yes, liar, you try to control what many people post. One can go back to your archived posts and see that is what you attempt to do. Your thought processes are delusional.

> And you are in no position to talk about somebody else being mentally > unbalanced...

>Yes,

Glad you agree your "opinions" mean very little to anyone.

>> since you went and stalked Roger...

>Since I "went and stalked Roger"? snicker How did I stalk you, Roger

You stalked him, and you know it. You went by his house and took pictures of it and posted them, when none existed on the internet perviously. You asked him if he would like to see some of his newsgroup posts on utility poles in his neighborhood (an illegal act in itself). You are stalking him.

>>and why are you writing of yourself in the third person again?

PKB, especially when you use other identities to post under.

>> ...and even posted pictures >> of his house, when non existed on the net before.

> That is psycho.

Glad you agree, you are psycho.

>That's psycho, is it? In the past, you've posted my name, address and telephone number.

All public information.

>You've grabbed a photo of my home from my web site,

Well, you were stupid enough to post it.

>altered it and posted it here in a non-binaries newsgroup.

No alteration, that shown your shitty farmhouse as it was, perhaps you don't like the comments added to it?

>You've posted filth about my mother, my father, my wife and my daughter. You >posted my property tax information here.

And you've done the same to Roger.

>> More of the hypocrisy of Dave Heil.

>There was not a hint of hypocrisy

No, there was a ton of your hypocrisy, much like your fat ample ass.

>What you got was payback--retribution if you like.
> You simply messed with the wrong guy.

I started taking Yasmin a year ago to help control my acne which the dermatologist described as adult acne or hormonal acne. It worked and cleared it up. Since then I have gone off of it twice, but the acne returns, so I go back on it. I went to the regular doctor this past week, and he diagnosed me with depression. The depression symptoms started around the same time I was put on yasmin. Could they be lamisil cream 1? I don't want to go off of it because my acne will come up, but it seems to have totally changed my personality.

Poor Roger. He asked for a "vote" and nobody responded. So much for that failed endeavor, eh?

Of course this lack of response is due to the fact that Roger is recognized as being just as much of a crackpot as Mark. Both Mark and Roger seem to enjoy one of those odd, symbiotic relationships that often occure in nature...not unlike a Dung Beetle and the necessary pile of dung. The problem here is in determining which of the two is which.

Is anyone familiar with the RS 279-101 ADSL filter? I know it has high attenuation just above 3KHz, but I wonder how high it actually filters. In other words, is it a low pass filter with good attenuation up into the RF (MF/HF) realm, or just a band stop filter centered on the ADSL realm?

Checks on my bench with a sweep generator are inconclusive.

Check out the editorial at http://www.arrl.org/news/features/2007/09/01/1/

The final paragraph:

As we work to understand and to meet today's emergency communications needs we also must think about the future. As Harold Kramer, WJ1B, points out in his article on page 38, the traditional role of the Amateur Radio communicator no longer matches what the emergency management official is looking for.
Replacing their missing telephone is no longer enough. To do their jobs, they also need email and possibly Web access. In the future, what they're likely to want is for their own iPhone (or equivalent) to work -- in other words, for that missing piece of infrastructure that we mentioned earlier to be restored.
Filling that need is within our capabilities as radio amateurs, but it may take us in new directions and into new partnerships.
Let's be open to the possibilities, and alert to the opportunities.

Lisa And Ed Show #4

http://www.evoca.com/LisaAndEd/LisaEd

http://www.myspace.com/Lisa_And_Ed

On show #4 Lisa and I talk about the Meth epidemic that plagues the United States, through poetry and discussion. The following poems were recited:

Tina

Put to death my former self, from poisons I consider wealth.
That take away, from all my pain,
and eat away my fragile brain.
And sleeps become a bitter chore,
So night is now my wicked whore.
She keeps me hidden out of sight, away from all the blessed light.
And I no longer have a choice, for Tina's now my only voice.
She tells me how I should feel,
she never lets my body heel.
And I would crawl across the floor, for the chance to get just a little more.
And I'll play my hand for the cards are dealt, until I've joined my former self!

Meth

Brain patterns of new.
Scares embedded into your mind.
Not sure if your you.
Not sure of your place or your time.
See shadows that move.
Everything is coming alive.
Not even a clue.
Not even trusting your own eyes.

Blisters on your tongue.
You fear the sun.
Liquids that you crave,
Are flushed away.

Kingdom come has come.
Your hearts a drum.
Running up the days.
For rest you prey.

Thin blue avenues.
Antifreeze is flowing inside.
Don't know your next move.
Don't know if you will even try Nightmares have come true.
Dr. Jeckle's now Mr. Hyde
Don't know what to do.
Don't know if you will live or die.

Leather for your skin.
Your souls worn thin.
Trying to avoid.
The inner void.
Where did I begin.
This life of sin.
Am I just annoyed
Or paranoid

Ed~xxxx

Underneath the flesh
Vacant is the hole
No need to confess
Its out of our control
Just beyond the noble rot though bitter be thy name
You help me find what I forgot kept hidden from the pain
And though distance smiles arriving Get caught up inside black clouds
I know that we're surviving Like silver lining kept in ancient shrouds
And all that I need to triumph
Is the gentle voice that you provide And together we'll rely on A kind of love that's lost with pride
Now I look forward to the future
And all the comfort that it brings Though fresh with blood stained suture
I have finally found my wings.

Tame less

She's a colorful bouquet of splendor,
Many lives that fall apart,
And come together.
Her cries echo from empty bottles,

Through love, and fear,
And rage, and lust.
A plaything betrayed,
By all she trusts.
Her hand and heart are objects,
Of feverish pursuit.
Possessed by no man,
My desperation is mirrored
In her lonely eyes.
She will not be tamed
This lovely, wild creature.

2365. Why Many Hate Porn?

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.misc
Date: 2007-09-06 10:12:28 UTC
From: afriendnottohave@yahoo.com Message-ID: <1189073548.930919.19690@r34g2000hsd.googlegroups.com>
Source record: 16437

Human natures are fine tuned for gene pool survival.

The way we evolve in the gene pool is that when we're not at war, we're in a race.

Peace and freedom means competition. Some people are uncompetitive. So they don't want to compete. Those people demand slavery.More...

Those who demand slavery are not necessarily poorer or richer, superior or inferior. Those are people that somehow do not like competition.

The farm owning farmers in southern US, for example, do not want to compete with the higher salary the industrial north has, so they demand slavery. This happens despite the fact that the landlords are already way richer than their slaves.

Uncompetitive businesses also do not want customers to be free to choose the best products. They demand enslavements of consumers by restricting consumers choice to choose better products.

As time goes by and consensual productive means to aquire wealth become available, those who oppose competition tends to be the one inferior.

When we're not at war, we're in a race. So in a sense, some part of life is a zero-sum game. The happiness of some superior competitors correlate with gene pool survival of such people. This correlate with the extinction of inferior people and this make inferior people unhappy....page...

For example, women prefer rich smart males and normal males prefer as many females as possible. Actually poor males prefer more money rather than more women, but that's later.

If rich smart males get more females, then rich smart alpha males will survive better in the gene pool. That means, the other males do not get any. Hence, the lesser males will not be happy. They will then come up with monogamy to ration females in equal share for everyone.

Those who are uncompetitive are not going to say honestly that they are disgruntled competitors. They're going to come up with some religious unscientific fairy tales to come up with pretext that freedom, such as free sex is wrong.

In short, whenever someone is happy, whenever something gives pleasure, happiness, and money, you can count that someone, somewhere, somehow, will come up with some fairy tales of who knows what that somehow it's wrong, bad, and should be prohibited.

The preference to snuff of happiness earned by others are called envy. In a sense, those who want to be happy are meant to kill each other with those who are envious.

Unless those who run the fastest also hit the hardest, success is simply a bridge to a gas chamber. Deviation from free fair competition turns life into some form of gun fight.

Not everyone can be appeased in a gun fight. Envy is simply unappeasable. The way to keep pursuing our happiness and still be alive is either to kill, or threaten to kill, those who are envious of us that it's not to their best interests to kill or prosecute us....page...

That's why I strongly support death penalty. Without it, all succesful people will be slaughtered by bigots that don't mind going to jail for it.

It's also the same reason why many ugly women oppose porn. That's because those women are envy bigots.

Think of it this way. Pretty women can just show some skin and make millions of dollars. Ugly women has to sexually serve poor males and get knocked up for much less money.

If this keeps going, pretty women can pick the best males with the best genes and provide their sons with better education, opportunity, and more initial start up capital.

The pretty genes will survive better in the gene pool and the ugly will be outcompeted, like in Europe or Japan. All thanks to porn.

Obviously, pretty porn stars are way better of then ugly wife. Becoming a porn star or prostitute is then one of the best job ever in this world.

However, out of envy, ugly women will want to prevent that. What's their justification? By saying that all the good jobs are so bad that it can't possibly consensual, and hence has to be prohibited.

They said that porn should be prohibited to protect women. Which women? Not the consenting one of course. How in the earth people get protected from consensual offers anyway. It's there to protect disgruntled envy competitors.

ARRL Outgoing QSL Service Changes (Bill Moore, NC1L): "Effective September 6th, 2007, the ARRL Outgoing QSL Service will no longer accept QSL cards for shipment to HH (Haiti) and 9L (Sierra Leone)."

The ARRL Incoming QSL Service and 1X1 Callsigns (Bill Moore, NC1L):
"When sending cards to confirm 1X1 callsigns, the ARRL QSL Service requests you note somewhere on the card the person who 'requesitioned' the callsign. This will expedite routing to the proper station and may result in quicker processing of cards handled through the ARRL US Incoming Bureaus. To locate the person responsible for a 1X1 callsign, please visit this site: http://www.ncvec.org/1x1.php Enter the 1X1 callsign. When the screen appears, select the 1X1 callsign based on the event you worked. Click 'Details' on the right-side of the page to determine the person responsible for the operation.
'See Requesitioned by'
Remember, callsigns may be issued more than once, so following the above procedure will allow the QSL Service to direct it to the proper person.
Direct any questions to qsl@arrl.org"

OH0Z PIRATE ALERT. Juha, OH9MM, sent out the following press release:
"Since 27 June 2007 there has been a lot of pirate activity. Most of the pirate activity has been on 10MHZ cw. Primetime for pirate has been so far around 17Z.
Luckily the pirate has been very rude (operating quite long periods). It has been relatively easy to trace. Most of the signals have been sent from the same area. However, we need some more data to contact the telecommunication authorities. Only groups of voluntary people across Europe have identified the antenna directions so far. Even at this point OH0Z &#65533;team would like to thank them for good co-operation! In the future: if the pirate keeps on going, please also inform the antenna direction in the spot. Just a reminder, our station is located in square locator JP90&#65533;

We have also built an automatic system to monitor the use of OH0Z call. Practically we are receiving OH0Z spots directly to our mobile phones. We can also turn this system off, please no kidding with cluster spots!
Untill further information OH0Z is now totally QRT on 10MHZ. All the future activations on 10MHZ can now be claimed as pirate activations.
OH0Z has been active on 10MHZ only two times this year:
26 &#65533; 27. May 2007 operated by OH3BHL
24 &#65533; 26. Jun 2007 operated by OH9MM
Before sending any qsl please check log search at our page www.oh0z.net. It contains all 10mhz contacts. We were on the island last weekend preparing new antennas for the upcoming contest season (1-2 September). Few qso&#65533;s were made on 80m, 20m and 17m (log seach will be updated soon). No activity on 10Mhz&#65533;
Normally we are active during contests. Some &#65533;warm up&#65533; qso&#65533;s before and after the tests. Holiday style operations may occur, but they are very rare! In normal situations we are not active during the week. We are also trying to publish our activities in advance in major bulletins as much as possible!
Please notice that we are also renting the OH0Z place with certain terms. There is no need to operate with our call sign in your home.
On behalf of RadioSporting Team (OH0Z).... Juha Valimaki, OH9MM" ADDED NOTE: OH0Z will be on for both modes of the SAC Scandinavian Contest, September 15-16th (CW) and September 22-23rd (SSB), 80-10M. OH1JT will be the operator, SOAB in CW, and OH1RX + OH9MM (maybe also others) M/S in SSB. QSL via W0MM. Special prefix may also be used.

P29, PAPUA NEW GUINEA (New IOTAs). Operators Luis/CT1AGF, Derek/G3KHZ, Steve/G4EDG and Hans/SM6CVX together with two non-ham friends will make the journey by chartered boat from Buka Island on September 22nd to Nukumanu Island (OC-284p). They should be active as P29VCX from Nukumanu for about 6 days beginning September 23rd. The plan is then to sail to Takuu Island (OC-283p) and operate using the callsign P29NI from there for 6 days starting about September 30th. Finally, if time permits, they will sail to Kilinalau Island (OC-256, aka Tulun Islands) and operate from there for a few days, possibly as P29VLR, between October 6-9th before returning to Buka. The dates may vary a little depending on the local weather. They expect to operate on all bands, including 160 and 80 meters, with possibly 3-4 stations, two amplifiers, verticals and a multiband dipole. Their plan is to run 4 stations simultaneously from 2 sites on each island. This should allow simultaneous operation from two stations on the same band using different modes. Two stations will use 500w linears and two stations will use 100w. QSL P29NI via G3KHZ. QSL P29VCX and the Kilinalau Island operation via SM6CVX. The group is looking for support from the ham community. More details and updates are available on their Web page at: http://www.rep.pt/P29-PapuaNewGuinea/

P40, ARUBA. Ken, K6TA, will be active from here as P40TA from November 27th to December 18th. He plans to be active in the ARRL 160 Meter Contest (November 30th-December 2nd) as a Single-Op/High-Power entry. QSL via WM6A and LotW.

VP5, TURKS AND CAICOS ISLANDS (Correction). Operators Frank/WA2VYA, Tony/W2WAS, Ken/K2WB and John/N2VW will be active as VP5T during the CQWW DX SSB Contest (October 27-28th) as a Multi/Multi/Dxpedition entry. QSL via N2VW or LoTW. Their activity will be from Providenciales (NA-002, not NA-003 as mentioned earlier), October 23-30th. Look for CW and operations on the WARC bands before and after the contest. Operators will sign using VP5/homecall. QSL to their home callsigns. No eQSLS. SWL QSLs are OK.

VP9, BERMUDA (NA-005). Operators Ted/W3TB and Blair/K3YD will be active as VP9I during the CQ WW DX SSB Contest (October 27-28th) as a Multi-Single entry. QSL via N1HRA.

ZD7, ST. HELENA. Just a reminder. Tom, KC0W, who recently moved to St. Helena Island, and is expected to be active as ZD7X possibly by September 15th. His activity will be on modes CW, SSB, RTTY and PSK. Look for his operations on 160-6 meters. Special attention will be given to 40, 75/80 and 160 meters. ZD7X will be active in all major contests. Tom has already announced that he will be active as a Single-Op/Low-Power entry in both the CQ World Wide DX SSB Contest (October 27-28th) and the CQ World Wide DX CW Contest (November 24-25th). When not contesting Tom will be DXing in general. His QSL Manager is W&#65533;MM.

ZONE 2 (IOTA Op). Three members of the Magnolia DX Association (MDXA) and one other operator will activate Orleans Island (NA-128/QC-007) as VE2IDX for 2007 W/VE Islands QSO Party and Zone 2 (Sept-Iles) as VE2Z for CQ World-Wide DX SSB Contest (October 27-28th). Operators mentioned are: Igor/VE3ZF/VE2IDX (MDXA - Team Leader), Ken/VE3FDX, Travis/K5GED (MDXA) and Bill/K5YG (MDXA). This is an all-out, high power operation, with an extensive array of antennas. Their goal is to "Set World Record" for the QSO Party and "Set the Record" for Zone 2 for the CQWW Contest. More details should be forthcoming.

I would ask him to distribute Gordo's newest and greatest tech manual to

Of course it's ironic how much you hammy's hate Mark. You tards are the

Oh? While your Hero, Mark has single-handedly flamed and spammed this newsgroup into near oblivion?
Oh, yes. I'll "celebrate" Mark when his ISP cancels his Hughes subscription.
This group used to be user friendly, until Mark came on scene and proceeded to flame with fifty, sixty, seventy and more posts per day.
You can bow down at the Mark Morgan altar if you wish, but the rest of us will continue to view him as an interloper with no redeeming values.
By the way. This is still a great hobby. Perhaps that has escaped your narrow view.

Not true. Everyone here is to blame on an equal basis.

I'm sure he will drop hughes when BPL comes to his neighborhood.

The rest of you will go share a long sloppy tongue kiss with the other assholes at the club house next Friday night.

If is so "great" WTF are you doing wasting valuable "radio play time" here on usenet?
You're a useless idiot!

I hope you enjoy your new BPL connection. MUCH better use of spectrum then the nightly 75 meter rants or nurds playing with their little 2 meter Ht's.

If only the great hams within this group were able to reign in Robesin this would still be a viable medium for hams.

They wouldn't and it isn't.

Between ridding the newsgroup of Robesin and that other white trash stool from Glendale, By God, West Vagina, this would be an excellent newsgroup to discuss some actual information. However, between those turds its pretty much impossible to generate discourse here because of their vast amount of spamming over the years.

* PLEASE NOTE: The report "could" contain "Pirate/SLIM" operations or more likely a "BUSTED CALLSIGN". As always, you never know - "Work

First Worry Later" (WFWL).

1A, S.M.O.M. It was announced this past week that an international team of operators will be active from the Sovereign Military Order of Malta (SMOM) for the first time ever during the CQ World Wide SSB DX Contest (October 27-28th). The callsign 1A3A will be used during the CQWW SSB Contest. This callsign, 1A3A, is a new prefix, and it will be used for the first time from the Sovereign Military Order of Malta. QSL via IZ4DPV. For all activity prior to and after the contest, operators will use the callsign 1A4A. There will be both SSB and CW activity on the WARC bands using the 1A4A callsign during the noncontest period. For updated information, please visit: http://www.1a4a.org/

3B7, ST. BRANDON. The 3B7C team continues to be active from Isle du Sud, St. Brandon (AF-015)until September 24th. As this was being typed Sunday morning, the 3B7C log states as of 2359z, September 15th, there are a total of 72077 QSOs in the database. First QSO was at 2000z, September 7th. Break-down by bands and modes:
10m - 3232 30m - 7039 Phone: 28002
12m - 4488 40m - 10054 CW: 43599
15m - 9880 80m - 7266 RTTY: 476
17m - 10131 160m - 1739
20m - 18248

Currently, the team is reporting that their Web site has been running very slowly, probably due to the high volume of traffic. The on-line log section is particularly badly affected. They also mention that they are still having trouble with the on-line log server. It seems to be related to the "large number of entity/zone leaderboard requests", so for the time being they have disabled that facility. They will continue to work on a solution, and suggest to please bear with them. Remember, the 3B7C Web page is available at: http://www.3b7c.com

OJ0, MARKET REEF (OJ0B - Challenging the Rough Seas Once Again!). The following is a press release by Jarmo, OH2BN: "The August 2007 outing to Market Reef, OJ0B, was designed to decorate the lighthouse with powerful antennas that can only be hoisted in good weather conditions. The group was successful, and in addition to making more than 13,000 QSOs, a SteppIR beam plus an assortment of wire antennas were mounted at the light.
The newly composed group of OH0RJ, OH2BH, OH2MM, OH2PM, OH7EA and OH8NC are at it again and they plan to be operational from September 15 until September 24, including both Scandinavian Activity Contests, with three stations. Now they have more flexibility since they have a resident helicopter at their disposal.
Outside of the contest their frequencies are as follows:
CW: 3523, 7023, 10113, 14033, 18083, 21033, 24903 and 28033 kHz SSB: 3775, 7075, 14175, 18135, 21275, 24960 and 28475 KHz

Once again, if you are a stamp collector or wish to receive your QSL card with unique Market Reef stamps, you may send an SASE with 7 Euros (10 USDs) as your postage/donation to the Finnish Lighthouse Society via QSL manager OH2BH.
If you wish to tour the Reef in the spirit of adventure, you may follow in the footsteps of the August 2007 and November 2005 OJ0B activities:
http://sm0w.com and www.kolumbus.fi/oh2bn/pagemarket.htm
The Finnish Lighthouse Society has been active repairing the lighthouse this summer, and you may wish to follow their activities which include daily reporting and interesting general details."

QSL INFO AND NEWS.....
BS7H QSL STATUS. QSL Manager Steve, KU9C, reports: "I've been sending QSL cards out for BS7H for a bit over 40 days now, and am starting to get the question 'my buddy has his, where is mine' or 'are they all out yet'. So, here's the status.... I'm about 75% of the way thru the pile, and well on the way to being more-or-less current with the incoming mail, which is still coming in at a healthy pace. Just to help folks understand the sheer volume, in the first week after the operation, I received nearly 7000 envelopes; to date I've received nearly 14,000 envelopes relative to BS7H. Each card has to be checked against the log, as I'm not pre-printing labels by call with each QSO listed, I'm only issuing QSO's claimed. I expect to be current, and have all QSOs in hand answered, more or less, by the end of September. One way to see if your QSL has been processed is to check the LOTW file. Within a few days of printing your label, your confirmed QSOs will show up there."

GOLIST QSL MANAGER DATABASE HELP NEEDED. John, K1XN, from the GoList informs: "During my QSL Manager confirmation process, I have accumalated a list of QSL Managers for which I could not find a published E-mail address, or the E-mail address that I found is not valid and bounces mail. Listed below are some of those QSL Managers that I am having problems with. I hope that maybe they will read this message and take the time to update their E-mail address on QRZ.com or send them to me direct at: golist@gmail.com "

Due to logistics issues and problems with one of the boat's engines, we will be staging out of Airlie Beach, instead of Cairns. We still expect to arrive at Willis on September 24th and be on the air by September 25th." George has indicated that the dates are weather dependent and may slip. Stay tuned for further updates.

2417. 2m Repater intermod problem

Any idea how to slove intermod problems at repeater location, very close (150 meters) to VHF repeater antenna is located FM-TV tower with 7 strong FM channels, nominal power is from 5-10KW + antenna system gain. Bad thing is that combination of 104.7 MHz + 145.7 MHz (repeater tx) - 105.3 MHz = 145.1 MHz (same frequency for repeater input) !

There is 3 +3 cavity duplexer pass/reject type and professional type of vertical dipole with 0 dB, I`m sure if notch cavity can change this problem or installing high quality FM Trap filter to existing setup.

Tnx for any help !

2418. Candidate for ARRL Southwestern Division Director Disqualified

Candidate for ARRL Southwestern Division Director Disqualified; Norton Declared Re-Elected:

Carl Gardenias, WU6D, the challenger seeking the position of ARRL Southwestern Division Director, was declared disqualified Thursday by the ARRL Ethics and Elections Committee. Gardenias was running against incumbent Richard "Dick" Norton, N6AA. Due to the disqualification, the Committee has declared Norton re-elected.

According to ARRL CEO David Sumner, K1ZZ, writing on behalf of the Committee, an e-mail signed by "Cathy K6VC, Newsletter editor" was sent on behalf of Orange Section Manager Carl Gardenias to ARRL Orange Section newsletter editors and Web masters, among others, on September 1 regarding the Southwestern Division election for Director and Vice Director. The e-mail encouraged "ARRL Full members to vote and vote wisely" in the upcoming election. Recipients were also asked to encourage clubs to "post to their websites and into their newsletter information regarding each candidate," and went on to list information, including e-mail addresses and campaign Web sites, for the two Director candidates and four candidates for Vice Director. Cathy Gardenias, K6VC, is Assistant Section Manager for the ARRL Orange Section and the wife of Carl Gardenias.

The information given in Cathy Gardenias' e-mail was incorrect, in that the e-mail address for Norton was wrong. The e-mail also stated that Norton and Vice Director candidate Marty Woll, N6VI, did not have campaign Web sites, when in fact they did.

Cathy Gardenias' e-mail went on to say that "Since all candidates are listed with e-mails and websites if they have one, there is no show of favoritism or bias. Please vote. Approved by the ARRL k1zz."

The ARRL Ethics and Elections Committee received a complaint regarding the misinformation and concluded that the email violated the standard of "truthful and not misleading" that applies to candidates' mailings. It instructed Sumner to notify Carl Gardenias that "a correction must be circulated to everyone who received the incorrect information, i.e. everyone on the above distribution list and anyone else to whom it may have been sent." Carl Gardenias was also told that should he "become aware of any postings of the original, uncorrected item, you should immediately endeavor to have them corrected or removed."

Specific language for the correction was supplied by the committee. It was to list correct e-mail addresses for each candidate, including Norton, and to supply the Web site addresses for Norton and Woll that had been missing from the original message. It was to further state, "Finally, the item was NOT approved by the ARRL or K1ZZ, as incorrectly stated," and that "The Orange Section regrets the errors and apologizes to those affected."

Carl Gardenias acknowledged receipt of Sumner's September 5 e-mail. On September 7, having seen no evidence of compliance with the Committee's directive, Sumner sent him another e-mail, asking for a copy of the correction that Gardenias was supposed to have sent out. Gardenias replied via e-mail, "OK on Monday we are at the convention," meaning the ARRL Southwestern Division Convention. Since that response, Gardenias has not communicated with Sumner, "nor has any evidence of your compliance with the committee's orders been received," according to an e-mail Sumner sent Gardenias September 13.

In that e-mail, Sumner reminded Gardenias that he was previously advised that "candidates' statements 'must be truthful and not misleading, which matters will be conclusively determined by the Election Committee.' The standard of truth applies to all mailings by a candidate. The email that was sent on your behalf on September 1 violated this standard, as documented in my September 5 message. You failed to follow the instructions of the Ethics and Elections Committee to make a timely correction, although you had ample opportunity to do so."

Sumner advised Gardenias that he has "been disqualified as a candidate for the office of Director of the Southwestern Division. Your name will not appear on the ballot." Since Dick Norton is the only eligible candidate, Sumner said, the Committee has declared him re-elected.

The intermod could be arising in any number of locations. Some are probably filterable, others probably aren't.

You could be getting intermod from:

- Mixing of the 2-meter TX with commercial FM, in your 2-meter TX finals (FM "coming back down the cable"). The best solution to this would probably be a ferrite circulator/isolator, located between your TX output and the duplexer DX input... this will divert any RF coming back down through the cable and duplexer into a dummy load before it reaches your finals and mixes in.

- Overload of your receiver by incoming commercial FM - you might see intermod or desense from this. You could try a notch filter tuned to the commercial FM signal, or a high-pass filter to attenuate the whole range below 144 MHz.

- Intermod created in the antenna system itself, due to some form of nonlinearity (corroded connections or joints, presence of dissimilar-metal junctions where plugs and jacks interconnect, etc.). In some cases you may be able to get rid of this by cleaning up the antenna... e.g. eliminate nickel-placed N/UHF connectors (use only high-grade silverplated connectors), make sure that all cable connections are tight and weatherproofed, check all bonding connections to make sure that they are solid and not corroded, etc.

You can't get rid of this latter sort of intermod with a filter, as it's being created outside of your electronics and the resulting intermod signal is right on the frequency you want to receive.

Screening the antenna from the commercial tower, or placing your antenna on that same tower but directly above or below the FM antennas, may gain you enough reduction in commercial-FM signal strength to bring the intermod to within tolerable proportions.

2441. Random wire Receiver antenna good enough?

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.misc

Hello,

I have just gotten my radio license and someone gave me an old hammarlund receiver that hadn't been used in over 25 years. I used a variac to bring up the power slowly, because I was told that the capacitors needed to be reconditioned. Everything seemed to work fine and I was able to pull in some transmissions with a random wire antenna. I don't have a transmitter yet, so I am hoping to just use a longer random wire antenna, laid along the attic until I can get money together etc. My question is probably dumb, but I was wondering if there is an "optimal length" for a random wire antenna for hf?

THanks for any help you can provide,

Joel Hainley

well the questions is good enough for what?

1sure it is a good start

2 optimmum lentgh well Id say yes and know some od multiple of he band you want to hear most is like a good lentgh so you might want about 3 (or 5 or 7) half wavelenghs for 20 m for the and if you have room 3 half waves for 40 or 80 at night

3 I am not familair with your model reciever if is odd enough it may have AM cap which would be VERY limited if it doess SSB it is likely ok

If a "random" wire has an "optimum" length, then (it seems to me) it is no longer "random". miki.

I'm dealing with the random length issue as well. For a receiver ONLY, it isn't going to make a lot of difference. However, when you get your transmitter, you need some sort of matching device (various MFJ units come to mine), and a SWR bridge of some sort to measure your SWR. If you get those in the mean time, you can use the matching device to improve your receiver performance, as you will be matching your receiver to the antenna. Just tune the matching device for maximum noise in the band.

If you are just going to be listening, there are a number of active antenna improvement devices.. basically a matching network and some sort of amplifier and gain control. Worth looking into.

I have about 1/4 wavelength at 40 meters in my attic, and I can match it just fine for my QRP rig. What are you planning on for a transmitter?

Be sure to bring yer cents of humor with you.

Instead of karaoke, the Greenlight has a thespian showcase ever Saturday nite at 11 pm sharp. Each year they have a different theme for the showcase, and this year the theme is Native American berdaches and their customs and costumes. Right now, the thespian who has won the last five showcases is Mr. Morkie, and so he is Greenlight's reigning champion and the one to beat.

Besides that, the Greenlight has an enema room with its own beer keg and floor drain so that you can enjoy beer yer own way. This is a feature to be found in no other U.P. bar.

We have fun, fun, fun, fun, fun ever Saturday night, so put on yer leotards and get to stepping. Be thier or be square.

---------- Forwarded message ----------
From: Rick Nungester <nunges...@mail.com>

Subject: Voyager Golden Record cover errors
To: alt.astronomy, sci.astro, sci.astro.amateur, sci.space.history

Can anyone verify that the designed scan rate of pictures on the 1977 Voyager Golden Record was 120 Hz? If it was, do you agree the cover has these 2 errors on it?

These won't cause problems in decoding the content, because the cover specifies the first picture is a circle and any timing adjustments needed to make this so will be applied to all pictures. But still, once those timing adjustments are made, the following two things will be apparent to the receiving aliens. How embarrassing for our race.

1) The top-right image on the cover shows a time of 8.34 ms (after conversion from binary, multiplication by the hydrogen-line period, and rounding) as the time of 1 scan line and 2 retrace lines. If the intent was to indicate a 1/120 second sawtooth period, the left duration marker should have been drawn one retrace-duration to the right.

2) If the time indicated is meant to be 1/120 seconds (exactly 8 1/3 ms), then the binary value beneath it, resolved to as many bits as it is, has a bit error. The value shown on the cover is

101101001100000000000000 = 723*2^14 (exactly)

Multiplying 8 1/3 ms by the hydrogen-line frequency of 1420.405752 MHz, rounding to the nearest integer, and converting to base 2 results in 101101001001110100101011 = 722.46*2^14 (approximately, but it should round to 722)

So the 10th bit on the Voyager cover should be a 0, not a 1. This results in a time value very close to 8.34 ms instead of the ideal 8 1/3 ms.

I have a Daiwa PS-304 power supply. It's still working, but I'm having some problems with it. I don't seem to have a schematic for it.
Does anyone have a copy of a schematic for it that they can provide?
Thanks. Bill N3JLQ

If the time indicated is meant to be 2 times the standard NTSC (TV) scan rate of 60/1.001 Hz (instead of exactly 120 Hz), then the binary value is correct.

(1/(2*60/1.001)) / (2^14 / 1420.405752e6) =~ 723.17, which should round to 723, and the value on the cover image is correct.
(1420.405752e6 Hz is the frequency of the hydrogen line.)

But this is the period of the scan sawtooth waveform, which is not what is indicated in the graphic, so I still think the graphic is in error.

Instead of karaoke, the Greenlight has a thespian showcase ever Saturday nite at 11 pm sharp. Each year they have a different theme for the showcase, and this year the theme is Native American berdaches and their customs and costumes. Right now, the thespian who has won the last seven showcases is Mr. Morkie, and so he is Greenlight's reigning champion and the one to beat.

Besides that, the Greenlight has an enema room with its own beer keg and floor drain so that you can enjoy beer yer own way. This is a feature to be found in no other U.P. bar.

We have fun, fun, fun, fun, fun ever Saturday night, so put on yer leotards and get to stepping. Be thier or be square.

The infamous "JC Caller" managed to get thru to Art Bell on the 9/28-9/29 C2CAM. Of interest was the hint that JC lives in Idaho (no suprise here?)
and a revalation that if you ever have lunch or dinner with W6OBB at the local 24/7 diner, under NO circumstances are the lima beans to ever appear on the table - else your will be in very deep doo-doo.

I'm trying to realize a simple RF power oscillator to experiment RF induction for educational goal. I found a lot of amateur radio transmitter schematics but my goal is something of more easy because I don't need of modulation, antenna matching and so on. My ideal scheme is an equivalent of "one tube Colpitts oscillator" but using a power mosfet ot transistor. My friend told me that there are "4 watts RFID reader working at 13.56MHz" scheme, but I found nothing in the web.
Someone can help me?
Thanks in advance for your attention,
Antonio

Hi Jimmie,

well, not exactly "Induction Heating" but something like that.
To be more precise I've in mind to explore something like: www.ecoupled.com

You are a disgrace to your religion, and to humanity in general.

You keep posting your constant crappy "quote", which if you were going to "quote it - it should be done correctly given full credit"!

You are constantly blaming someone named "WOGER" for spamming the NG, and I only see your spamming posts, not his!!! (NO - I don't have him blocked)

You need to get a life and stop annoying everybody with your childish garbage!

Besides that, the Greenlight has an enema room with its own beer keg and floor drain so that you can enjoy beer yer own way. This is a feature to be found in no other U.P. bar.

Well of course, you can get a license without code, if that's what you're asking.

> What techniques are there with new technologies to learn mose code > computers.

There isn't anything new.

In the old days, the problem was that most people only had a shortwave radio as a source of morse code to listen to, and not only was there fading and noise and interference, but there was nothing to check your copy.

W1AW code practice helped with the latter, but the other points remained.

So you'd go to the radio store and buy a code record. It was great as a source of the various characters, but it had limited space so once you got into the receiving practice, it was easy to memorize what was there.

You could buy a mechanical machine that sent code, but of course that was costly. On the other hand, you would then get a near infinite amount of code to copy, and all of it could be verified.

Computers don't change any of that really. They do give you local and noise and interference free code to receive. And of course, it can generate random characters, or translate any text, giving you ample material to copy, all of which can be verified after you've copied it.

Or, you can use such a program to generate an audio file, and then put the file in your mp3 player. That makes it far more portable than that old record player, even if it was a portable record player. And the easier it is for you to listen to code, the easier it will be that you will listen. You can listen to that mp3 player just about anywhere, even while you are going to sleep, while the old days required you to sit by the old shortwave reciever (which wasn't portable so you had to be in a fixed place).

The big mistake people make is to learn to send first. That is really easy to do, but it doesn't help one bit in receiving, since a different process is involved. Of course, when you had that telegraph set when you were a kid, everyone wanted to send, nobody wanted to receive.

What you are missing is that it doesn't have to be a stressful situation. You can run that code practice program in the background, as you do something else. You could even leave it running as you watch tv or listen to music. The point is to get used to the sounds, as sounds. Like them work their way into your brain, rather than worry so much about "learning the code" or "getting good". The more you listen, the more you will pick out letters. But if you're doing other things, you aren't "wasting your time", so it doesn't matter how much time it takes.

Always set the program to send the characters at a high speed, but with more spacing between characters. That way, you get used to hearing each character as a character, rather than a string of dots and dashes. Let it drill into your mind for a long time. And then slowly reduce the spacing, until it really is coming at you at a fast speed.

2641. I've been absent too long.

I see that I've been absent for far too long. I may have to get involved and take steps to get Roger booted from yet another account.
In the past, Pam Hoffer booted Roger from his Ovis account within one day of receiving the snail mail I sent her of Roger's filthy comments. I was also instrumental in getting him booted from his pre Ovis account. I struck twice, and succeeded in getting Roger booted twice. Part of my letter is below.

"It may interest you to know that Mr. Wiseman used to have an account with Ovis.net, run by a Pam Hoffer. Mr. Wiseman had his Ovis account canceled just prior to signing on with you. The reason he was canceled from Ovis and the provider before that was because of his extremely filthy language and personal abuse of several users, including but not limited to Mr. Davies. Roger even had some very foul things to say about Ms. Hoffer and when she read what he said his Ovis account was canceled the very next day."

What did Roger say, you ask? Well, to be mild, he accused Ms. Hoffer of having an alleged sexual affair with a non-existent black man who was supposedly in her employ at the time. I'm sure there are users hereabouts who can find his direct quotes and who will probably post them for us to see.

I am rather proud of the fact that I was instrumental in giving Roger the proverbial "boot". Of course I must give credit where credit is due, and I am thankful to Stagger Lee who contributed so much by archiving Roger's filthy diatribes.

We succeeded in that we forced Roger to go "underground" and for a long while he posted via proxy servers or through multiple forwarding anon services.

I can see by his headers that he has again become lax with his posts. He can count on hearing more from me in the future.

ARF!

a. Get the frre G4FON computer program and follow the directions exactly. Don't add new characters too soon as it is counter productive. Don't wait too long to add new characters as it gets boring.

b. Study/practice every day or nearly every day. Skipping too many days in a row means some forgetting and relearning. Practice in short sessions so the brain does not get fatigued. Three ten minute sessions are much better than one thirty minute session.

c. The best technique turns out to be the Koch training method but done by computer. This concept was developed decades ago but was not a practical training method until the advent of computers. The G4FON software mentioned above uses the Koch method. To learn more about it, download the free book "The Art and Skill of Radiotelegraphy" from the FISTS website.

Also join FISTS and get a code buddy to help you too. If you do not have a license yet, remember that many countries, now including the USA no longer require code testing to get licensed. If you do have a license, check out the privileges now available to you. This has expanded in many countries due to dropping the code requirement. In the US, Technicians whether they have code or not (and the few remaining Novices) have voice, code, and data privileges on 10m plus expanded code privileges on 15m, 40m, and 80m that coincide with the General code privileges. So as you get the basics down, you can get on the air and practice.

DXCC NEWS (DXCC 'Applications Received' Web Link). Bill Moore, NC1L, ARRL DXCC Manager, states, "Ever wonder when DXCC received your application? Well, there is a feature on the DXCC Web site that allows you to verify that it has been received, and when! To determine this, visit the DXCC Web site at: http://www.arrl.org/awards/dxcc Near mid-page there is a link titled "List of DXCC Applications Received" After clicking this link the callsigns and date logged into the DXCC computer will appear here. Callsigns are listed alpha-numerically. (note, this is not the date received from the post office, it is the date your application was logged into the DXCC system. This date could be several days after receipt from the post office).
At the top of the page is a date. This date is always the Friday of the current estimated period DXCC is mailing applications. (Note: It may or may not be the exact date). Due to the sheer volume of applications that pass through DXCC, applications before and even after this period may be in progress.
Can the approximate turnaround time be determined by this? While not exact, yes, the turnaround time can be estimated:
Using the current date look at the mailing date. The difference between these two dates is the approximate turnaround time. (eg: If today's date is September 10, 2007 and the date shown on the web page is June 22, 2007, the estimated turnaround time can be determined to be approximately 2.5 months. Again, this is only an estimate.)"

VP6D, DUCIE ISLAND. According to a press release by Carsten, DL6LAU, Team leader, the VP6DX team is still very busy preparing the equipment for a shipment in November. There have been some changes since the last report. He states, "Unfortunately Jan, DJ8NK, and Martti, OH2BH, had to withdraw but we were fortunate to complete the team with some very skilled operators. These are Ben - DL6FBL, Tonno • ES5TV, Harry • RA3AUU and Cliff • SV1JG. So here is the list of people who will head out to Ducie in February 2008 and give you this rare one: DL3DXX, DL6FBL, DL6LAU, DL8LAS, ES5TV, K3NA, N5IA, RA3AUU, SP3DOI, SP5XVY, SV1JG, UA3AB and WA6CDR." Carsten also states that they are "eagerly waiting to give the Elecraft K3s the real test on Ducie. ACOM amps are already packed, microHAM micro Keyer II for all stations should arrive soon and will be used between the radios and the PCs. The new YT6A high-power band pass filters after each amplifier should help to reduce interference between stations even more."
On donations, Carsten states, "Donations prior to our departure are very important for us because basically all of the expenses (Braveheart charter and container shipment) have to be paid way before we actually depart, and the team members already paid what I would call a more than adequate share. Each of them put in 6,200 USDs,- and will pay the own transportation by air to Mangareva (FO). We are deeply grateful to the NCDXF, who contributed 20,000 USDs, - towards the costs. Without NCDXF it would be hardly possible to run a expedition like VP6DX. Please consider joining NCDXF and become a contributor to NCDXF in its 35th year as a premier sponsor of expeditions and the Beacon system. A big thank you also goes to the individuals who already sent in a donation. Even with the generous donations received so far and the contribution of the team members, we are still lacking about 50,000 USDs, - as of September 21st. We again would kindly ask you to check if you could help too. Details on how you can help can be found in the •How To Help• section."
Visit the VP6DX Web page at: http://www.vp6dx.com
Carsten states, "We are putting more content to these pages in regular intervals. If you are interested to receive a newsletter from us automatically, just visit the News section and leave your e-mail there. During the next weeks we will be busy to build the remaining antennas and prepare the container shipment with radios, amplifiers, antennas, generators and the like..... 73sss in behalf of the VP6DX team Carsten, DL6LAU • Teamleader"

ZL7, CHATHAM ISLANDS. Polish operators Jacek/SP5EAQ, Wojtek/SP9PT, Marek/SP9BQJ are now active as ZL7/homecall until October 18th. The team is also accompanied by Jozef, SP9-31029. Activity is on all HF bands using CW, SSB and RTTY. QSL to their home callsigns.

I would like to build a circuit that lights an LED when I transmit on my 2 meter, 1 watt HT.
It has to be wireless, low power, battery operated, key chain sized and operate inside a range of 5 feet.
A link to an existing design, a schematic or a suggestion on an Op Amp would be appreciated.

2M, SCOTLAND. Paul, 2E1EUB, will be active from northern Scotland between now and October 20th. Activity will be mainly on the satellites using the callsign 2M1EUB/P. QSL via his home callsign 2E1EUB.

Activity will be on all bands, mainly CW and SSB. QSL only via the bureau. "NO DIRECT QSLs" with money/SAE please.

3Z50, POLAND (SPUTNIK Special Event). On October 4, 1957, at 07:28PM GMT, the Soviet Union successfully launched SPUTNIK I. The world's first man-made artificial satellite. Sputnik I was about the size of a basket-ball, weighed only 84 kilogram, and was a sphere about 0.6 meters in diameter. It took about 98 minutes to orbit the Earth on its elliptical path. When Sputnik entered orbit, it opened the Space Age. To commemorate this fact, a special event station 3Z50SPU was established by Roman, SQ2RH. The station will be on the air until the end of October. A special QSL card will be available after the event for all HAMS and SWL who made QSOs/SWLs with a special event station 3Z50SPU. QSL via SQ2RH.

4N6, MONTENEGRO. Toby, DD5FZ, will be active as 4N6FZ from October 15-27th. He will be a guest operator at the YT6A station and plans to take part in the CQWW DX SSB and the WAG Contests. QSL via DD5FZ, direct or by the bureau is "OK".

6C60, SYRIA (Reminder). Look for Syrian hams to use the special prefix 6C60 to celebrate the 60th anniversary of amateur radio in Syria during the period October 15th to November 15th on all HF bands.

6W, SENEGAL. Boris, T93Y, reports, "After successfully passing the HAM exam in Senegal, Jovica, T98A (ex.9K2/T94FC, ST0RM, ST2A, T94FC), has received his 6W1SJ license today. As during previous activities, you can expect most of his activities to be on CW, with some SSB and digital modes." 9U0A QRT. The 9U0A team went QRT Tuesday, October 9th at 0400z after making some 33,500 QSOs. The team is now back in Germany. They report that the pileups were huge until the end. They also regret that the team couldn't be more active on 160m (and 80m). The team experienced thunder-storms almost every day and this was the worst QRN they have ever heard on any of their DXpeditions which made reception almost impossible. They hope that the operation was able to provide you with a new one.

Outside the contest Alan will concentrate mainly on 160/80/30/17/12 meters CW/SSB plus RTTY on all bands. Alan says "I realize that C6 is not high on anybody's most-wanted list, but I hope to be able to help DXers out with needed band/mode countries to fill in C6 for their DXCC single band or mode or DXCC Challenge Awards." This DXpedition will be fully compatible with the ARRL Logbook of The World. Logs will be uploaded to LoTW throughout the DXpedition and immediately following its conclusion. Paper QSLs will

E5, SOUTH COOK ISLANDS. OPDX received an E-mail late Friday from Bill, N7OU, who is now active as E51NOU, stating (edited): "Arrived here on Rarotonga on Monday, October 8th, and have logged about 2300 QSOs--all on CW, of course. I've made most QSOs on 20 and 17m, with many grayline openings to Europe. The 'Grinder' jamming signal takes out 40m early in the evening, and condx on 30m have been marginal so far. For antennas, I'm using an autotuner at the base of a 29 ft. wire supported by a 10m pole, about 5m from the ocean. It won't load up on 80m, but performs great on 40-10m. The other antenna is the 20m 2 element vertical Moxon that Jim, E51JD, and I put up on Wed. It gives 2 S-units gain on 20m, which is enough to pull in weaker stations I can't even hear on the other antenna. It's no help on morning long path though..... My volunteer service here begins tomorrow, but I'll have lots of spare time for radio in the early morning and in the evening..... 73 de Bill N7OU/E51NOU"

EA8, CANARY ISLANDS (AF-004). FR/F5TNI QSLS. Laurent, F1JKJ, reports that a few stations asked him for help in the last months to get a confirmation from FR/F5TNI. He states that he called Didier, F5TNI on the phone and was told that he has lost the log in a hard-drive failure. Laurent says, "So no need to try again, no confirmation seems possible."

V8NOM AND HS0/G3NOM QSLS. Tom, GM4FDM, reports: "As you may know I have been Ray's QSL Manager for a number of years. Ray is extremely unwell and unlikely to recover from a severe stroke/heart attack. Over the past couple of years I have been able to respond to QSL requests to the above callsigns, but now I am running out of cards for HS0/G3NOM and have no cards for V8NOM. Before taking ill, Ray discussed the use of LOTW. I have taken the liberty of uploading QSOs for both the above calls to LoTW. I still have a few cards left so I am able to respond to a few more requests for HS0/G3NOM. You may also be aware that the use of 160 and 80m was restricted in Thailand, so please do not ask me about QSOs that are not in Ray's Log. I am unable to help. If it is NOT in LoTW then it's simply not there. I cannot put it there. I still have all Ray's other logs and plenty of blank cards. As the cards run out, I will upload further logs to LoTW.... 73 de Tom GM4FDM"

2667. Standard Resistor Values: Why not a true geometric series?

10% standard resistor values are close to a geometric series with multiplier 10^(1/12), but not exactly. 1 decade of standard values, followed by the rounded 10^(1/12) series values follows. (To generate the 2nd column set a hand calculator to round to the nearest integer, and multiply repeatedly by 10^(1/12).)

Why were the 5 "off by one" values chosen as standard?

It's a shame the ratios are nearly geometric. It means that the ability to design voltage divider ratios is severely restricted.

The 20% (E6) group has the same issue, deviating from a 10^(1/6) multiplier. Standard versus geometric series follows.

We use 0.1% resistors, and sometimes 0.05%. But they are still nailed to the 1% values, which are geometrically spaced. So if you have some assortment of resistors in stock, various combinations tend to keep hitting the same ratios, and some ratios can't be done.

Exactly, and the "standard 1%" family is always "correctly" rounded, unlike the "standard 5%" family.

It is perhaps ironic, but the skewing of the "standard 5%" family values often serendipitously provides a better ratio match than correctly rounded "standard 1%" family values will. I've encountered that many times. So is it really serendipitous? I've wondered if "they" skewed them for exactly that reason.

There are 8 skewed values (82 is unique too,as it is a skew down rather than up):

As to 'cannot be done', that does not always have to be a problem.
For example I have this AD box (lots of analog inputs connected to a computer), it needed a 5.00V reference.
Now I had a LM317 with 2 resistors that gave anywhere near 5.xx.
Measured it, made a #define in the program, and: any accuracy you want.
Same with PICs, just calibrate in the software, set value in its EEprom.

Nominally perfect would be nice; failing that at least 10-20x better than the resistor tolerances. But I don't mind much putting a much smaller value 1% resistor in series (or a much larger value in parallel) with a 0.1% resistor if it's that kind of deal.

Ah, but for small quantities, it's much cheaper to buy standard values. You _can_ get any value you want, if you pay enough; but if your volume isn't great enough, it's much more economical to do series and/or parallel combinations. With an E24 set of high accuracy values, two in parallel or two in series will always get you within 0.23% of a desired value, and if you're stuck trying to get to a low value where series won't work, or a high value where parallel won't work, you still can get within 0.45%. And that's without being very creative about picking values (just one closest to the desired and one to trim it). For ratiometric stuff, it generally gets even better: with one "stock" value and one trimmed value, you get to 0.23%, but add a trim to the stock value and you get much finer ratio adjustment.

I have some very low TC matched resistor sets in my junque box, from HP voltmeter scrap, that have "weird" values. Given the needed precision and the relatively high volume in the voltmeter market, the custom values made sense for HP. For the work I do, trimming as needed with series and/or parallel is fine: I do need 0.1% parts at times, but never in high volume.

Also, it helps a lot to design systems in such a way that really close arbitrary ratios aren't necessary. For practically everything we do, stability is far more important than absolute accuracy; the accuracy is obtained by calibration. Calibration used to involve adjusting pots and possibly variable capacitances and inductances; that's practically all been replaced with processor-based calibration. I realize that on rare occasion, there's no good way around some precision ratio, but at least in what I've seen for quite a few years now, those occasions are pretty rare.

Cheers,
Tom

This may be a good question for a different group. Someone that checks into rec.radio.amateur.boatanchors may have a reasonable answer, or there may be some other group that delves into history

Of course, when the values were standardized (some time around WWII, I believe), people didn't use pocket calculators or Excel or Matlab to easily calculate a set of values, with rounding applied. One may forgive them for rounding incorrectly. But some of the values are off worse than that: 33 ohms "should be" 31.6.

Before that time, the "standard" values were even crazier. Count your blessings??

Cheers,
Tom

It's far cheaper to sell resistors that either do not meet mil-spec or have been over-produced relative to the military customer's consumption rate, to the commercial market rather than make them separately.
See MIL-PRF-39005 for an example of the resistance values.

I wrote a program to calculate the optimum combination of 3 resistors to get a given ratio. Yes, I know there are lots of these about - but mine only uses the values I carry in stock!

I started out thinking how to write it efficiently, then realised I could simply try all possible combinations and pick the closest...

I can cite a counterexample:

http://search.digikey.com/scripts/DkSearch/dksus.dll?Detail?name=RHM1.00KHTR-ND

1% tolerance 1-kiloohm 0603 size SMT resistors at .45 cent apiece in 5K piece quantities, and about .2 cent apiece in half million piece quantities, from Digi-Key!

I worked with enough mil-spec resistors, though for a minority of the past 22 years. If you worked with them as you said, you should be able to mention how a 1/4 watt through-hole mil-spec one from 1986-1987 (when I stuffed and soldered a lot of military boards) looks different from a commercial grade 1/4 watt one from that era or now.

Not if you pay less than a penny for 1%. Even Digikey sells 1% 0603s for 0.45 cents each, a single reel at a time.

In other words, you don't know the answer and think a pissing contest based on your assumed credentials will somehow divert attention from that fact. Like i said in the first place, you're talking through your hat. That it makes you angrily defensive is of no consequence to anyone else, but only your own credibility.

The post I responded to was where you claimed a bigger price difference between 5% and 1%, and now you are arguing about unavailability of 5% vs. 1% for SMD resistors, and a lot of products are now made with SMD components including resistors.

Only a couple years ago I ran into a contract manufacturer quoting shorter lead time if I restricted values of 0603 size SMD resistors to what they called "standard values", which were the ones that 10% tolerance resistors had. I suspect the contract manufacturer had a PCB subcontractor that stocked the E12 or whatever it is "10% tolerance values" though nowadays 5% tolerance resistors are "The Usual Stuff". It appears to me that the "usual low cost stuff" among resistors are ones of 5% tolerance but cheaper and quicker if the values are restricted to the 12-per-decade ones that were made with 10% tolerance.

How about Digi-Key on a 5% tolerance 0603 size SMD 1-K resistor:

http://search.digikey.com/scripts/DkSearch/dksus.dll?Detail?name=RHM1.0KGTR-ND

1K 5% 0603 SMD resistor, .312 cent apiece plus shipping if you order one 5K piece reel, .1404 cent apiece if you order half a million.

http://search.digikey.com/scripts/DkSearch/
dksus.dll?Detail?name=311-1.0KGRTR-ND

That is a competing product that appears to me to be priced basically 6% higher in larger quantities, available from Digi-Key.

You can buy resistors labeled 5%, but they're usually really 1% or better. Laser trimming costs the same.

We just buy 1% resistors, to keep our parts lists shorter. There's no point to stocking, kitting, and placing 1K 5% and 1K 1% resistors on the same board.

Looks like you did/do not know a quick-to-see characteristic of 1/4-watt mil-spec through-hole resistors about 21 years ago, that discerns them from 1/4 watt "commercial grade" ones, when I stuffed and soldered 1/4 bazillion of them (actually merely 10's of thousands).

I give you another chance to say before I do what this difference is or was when I worked with plenty of them.

Cheaper PCB for through-hole? Why and how and cite? It costs more to drill holes!

For that matter, I have used ExpressPCB enough times, and occaisionaly encountered their surcharge for drilling more than however many holes per square inch of PCB.

Well, you've only convinced me that not only are you talking through your hat, but you can't even read English. Your rehash isn't even near what i said in the first place. But hey, who cares if you make any sense, right?
You bragged about your ungodly long 20 years experience proving you weren't even around during the time my original answer was concerned. You also bragged that you knew something about floppies but still haven't been able to back up your statement. The fact that you're more interested in "come-backs" rather than providing any facts is just more of your dancing around the topic while calling me names is just more of you talking through your hat. You haven't got a fucking clue one way or the other about the issue, nor about me. If you're looking for retorts, then go find a troll to play with.

You are wrong.
I've done at least a couple of SMD boards myself that have had no holes at all. It is quite possible.

Well, 33 was one of the standard values at a time when only about four were available at 20% or something. It is grandfathered into the 10%, 5%, 1%, etc lines to this day. IIRC 22 is another. Also, each E-series of a particular tolerance includes all the values of the series of next greater tolerance and produces the geometric means of all adjacent values to roughly double the available values as well as halving the tolerance. Assuming the tolerance is taken to mean a ratio of standard deviation (or some multiple thereof) to the mean, the statistics for the series combination seem to differ from that of the parallel when synthesizing a composite of mean closer to an off standard value. Care to elaborate on this?

Not uncommon for clad aluminum PCBs used in power applications.

Look inside mass-produced, non-miniaturized items like DVD players and PC power supplies and you'll invariably find cheap single-sided through-hole PCBs. The holes in those look rather like stamped than drilled.

Tolerances

22 +10% = 24.2
26 - 10% = 23.4

so with your scheme you could get a 26 ohm resistor which has a lower value than a 22 ohm resistor!!!

Where as:

22 +10% = 24.2
27 - 10% = 24.5

Simply amazin' innit?

The E192 series is also used for 0.25% and 0.1% tolerance resistors.

A couple three decades ago, I was stationed in Okinawa - a veritable treasure trove of old military surplus stuff. A friend and I used to go shop the surplus shops and get all manner of interesting stuff.

He built a 1KW final with all surplus stuff, and a 4-400A that I checked out of "bench stock". (i.e., stole from Uncle Sugardaddy. shhhh!)

I saw some kind of attenuator, or passive filter, in a box, with carbon comp resistors, and some of them actually had a V-notch filed into the side and covered with something very much like nail polish.

Cant' do that with metal film, though, can you? ;-)

For those too young to remember, back in those days all they had was carbon comp. resistors, and you would actually trim them by filing a notch into the carbon. I confused some guy at the Ham club once when I said, "Uh, yeah, you just file off some of the ohms, right? ;-)" [<-note winkie inside quotes. ;-)]

Cheers!

Oh, say, 10 PPM. The closer we can get the initial worst-case ratio, the less we have to trim or pad.

Hahahaha! That's wonderful! Now try it for 47 ohms versus 56 ohms, at 10%. What you gain at one end of the set of discrepancies, you lose at the other, huh? ;-) In fact, if you do that test with each adjacent pair of E12 values in a decade, you'll find it "fails" in 8 out of the 12 cases: for 8 of them, 10% below than the upper value is lower than 10% above the lower value.

If you actually worked with mil resistors through the past 20 years,
I would think you would have some familiarity with the ones I worked with in 1986-1987. The main visible feature of those 1/4 watt mil ones was that they had appearance (especially size) similar to that of 1/2 watt commercial ones from that time and later.

So far, all of my boards have had no more than 2 layers whether all-through-hole, all-SMD or the few that had a mixture of these. And ExpressPCB does not surcharge for any holes at all, only for having more than so many per square inch. I rarely run into that. The only time I ran into that with an SMD board was one with clusters of thermal vias for power devices.

The 20% values were 6 to a decade, and I have seen enough stuff from back when 10% resistors were good ones. For some reason, the middle of the decade was 33 rather than 32 (closer to the square root of 1000, which to 3 significant digits is 31.6).

Of the 5 "10% values" that are "off", 4 are in a cluster that includes 33.

Though I am not sure that I blame 33 rather than 47 for that cluster of "off" values. Although 33 does look to me to be the one that is "off" the most.

As for one reason why that has occurred to me as a possibility - the middle-of-decade cluster is "off" in a direction that makes the distribution of values within a decade a little closer to linear.
One of my brothers asked me why most of the values within a decade are so low, as in less than 50? My response was that they were close to a logarhythmic pattern (logs close to evenly spaced, percentage change from one to the next close to constant), and if they best-fit such a logarhythmic pattern, many of the ones in the middle of the decade would be a bit lower!

It seems to me that one would want the tolerance ranges to overlap. That way, any resistance value you calculate analytically will be within the tolerance band of a commercially available resistor.

The value of resistance which is midway between a pair of resistors on a percent tolerance basis is the harmonic mean of the values; this is 2 times the parallel equivalent of the two values. For example, given a 12 ohm and a 15 ohm resistor, the value 2(12*15)/(12+15) = 13.333333 ohms. This is 11.1111111% less than 15 ohms, and 11.1111111% more than 12 ohms.

The amount (on a percentage basis) by which this middle value differs from each of the bounding values is given by 100*(R2 - R1)/(R1 + R2). In the example just above, this gives 100*(15 - 12)/(15 + 12) = 11.1111111%.

So, to find out if an adjacent pair of resistors have tolerance bands which overlap, just calculate 100*(R2 - R1)/(R1 + R2) and compare it to the tolerance of the E series you're investigating. If it's bigger than the series tolerance, they don't overlap.

If the previous 12 and 15 ohm resistors are taken to be members of the E12 series, then we see that since 11.1111111% > 10%, their tolerance bands don't overlap.

If their tolerance bands don't overlap, this means that there is a zone of values between the two nominal resistance values which are not within rated tolerance for either of the two nominal values of that E series.

I find that for the E12 series, the following pairs have a zone of no-overlap between them:

12 and 15
22 and 27

the tolerance zones for the pairs:

18 and 22

just touch.

For the E24 series, these pairs have a zone of no-overlap:

13 and 15
16 and 18
18 and 20
24 and 27
27 and 30
56 and 62
82 and 91

The E48, E96 and E192 series are rife with no-overlap zones. This is to be expected, since the exact values in the logarithmic sequence are rounded to 3 digits, and sometimes we round up, sometimes down.

I noticed on the Wikipedia page http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Preferred_number that on the discussion tab, somebody noticed that in the E192 series, there is one value that doesn't fit the expected logarithmic sequence, namely 920, a fact I first became aware of about 15 years ago. It should be 919; if one uses the formula for the 185th member of the sequence:

Value = 100 * 10^(185/192) one gets 919.478686+ which should be rounded to 919, not 920.

However, I discovered that a very simple change will correctly give all the values in the commercial E192 series, including the oddball 920:

Value = 100 * 10^(185/191.9977), with the 185 replaced with the ordinal member number for other values. This small change allows a simple formula to be used in a program, giving ALL the correct commercially available values.

Why did "they" pick 920? I assume that they made an error. Since the digits after the decimal point are near .5000000, which would be the value above or below which one rounds up or down, maybe their calculation was a little off. Perhaps they used a slide rule!

All this still fails to answer the OP's question, a question I've long wondered about. I'm afraid that the people who made the choices are probably no longer with us.

There was a guest editorial, "Preferred Numbers", published in the Proceedings of the IRE, p. 115 in 1951. There were a couple more items in that year on page 467 and page 1572 in answer. Unfortunately, they don't answer the OP's question.
